NEWS and COMMENT

Claud Woolsey, who played with the 1914 and 1915 Tiger baseball teams, is to teach agriculture in an Iowa high school this winter.

Miss Helen Hungate, who graduated from the University last June, has charge of girls' athletics at the high school in Salina, Kan. Miss Hungate took part in various forms of athletics while here and was given a cup for the best all-around woman athlete in the University.

Can "String" Wear Fill "Bass" Drumm's Place?

John A. Wear, captain of the 1916 Tiger basketball team, has accepted a position with the high school at Morris, Ill. Wear will teach agriculture, chemistry and zoology and will coach the school's football, baseball and basketball teams.

Wear takes a position made vacant by the resignation of M. G. Drumm, who played basketball here in 1914 and 1915. Drumm goes to Freeport, Ill., where he has a teaching and coaching position with the high school. As the Freeport and Morris schools are the chief rivals of each other in athletics, some interesting duels between teams of the two former Tiger stars may be looked for.

Hasn't This Caused You a Lot of Worry?

Nashville won the pennant with New Orleans as the runner-up in the Southern Association pennant race, which ended Saturday.

But Jaw, You Can't Buy 'em All.

With the obtaining of Sallee, Herzog, Zimmerman and McCarty for the Giants in recent trades, McGraw is laying plans to give New York fans a pennant-winner in 1917. Judging from the way they have been performing against the Phillies, the Superbas and the Braves for the last week or so, they should be a winning combination next year.

Can "Jumbo" Put the Stiehm in the Hoosiers?

The work of Coach Jumbo Stiehm at Indiana this fall will be watched with much interest. When he had charge of football at Nebraska, he was proclaimed the best coach west of the Alleghenies. He will have a chance now to prove his mettle in faster company.

Lang Sends Schulte a Heavyweight.

Freemont Lang, a member of the Tiger cross-country team last year and teaching agriculture and coaching football at the high school in Fairfield, Iowa, writes that he is sending a 200-pound tackle down to the University this year. He should make good material for Schulte's 1917 line.

"Jake" Is Happy in a Wisconsin Gym.

Jake Speelman, who recently accepted a position as director of athletics at Lawrence University in Wisconsin, will coach the basketball and track teams there and will have charge of the line in football. He reports an excellent gymnasium and other facilities for athletics.

Here Are the New A. U. Records.

George Bronder, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, New York, heaved the javelin 190 feet six inches, breaking the previous record of 184 feet 9 1/2 inches. Robert Simpson of the University of Missouri, clipped two-fifths of a second off the high hurdle record by going the distance in 14 4/5 seconds. W. W. Hummel of Multnomah Athletic Club, bettered the 440 yards low hurdles mark, finishing in 54 4/5 seconds. Fred Murray of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, smashed the senior record for the 220 yard hurdles, clearing the hurdles in 24 seconds flat. The previous record was 24 4/5 seconds. The half-mile mark for the senior contests was lowered by one-fifth of a second, Don Scott, of Mississippi Agricultural College winning in 54 seconds. Arlie Mucks of Wisconsin University heaved the discus to a new mark for the senior contest, throwing it 145 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Although the list of English athletes killed in action daily grows longer, sporting events of certain kinds still take place. The gate receipts are always divided with the hospital fund, of course, and this fact keeps the public coming, even with the bigger game with King Bill of Potsdam across the channel occupying the center of attention.

Because the Englishmen put their school striplings into a shell and teach them to row early, boating is the sport that attracts them all, young and old. The school plan makes not only for skill on the water, but for permanent physique as well, quite the opposite of the American system.

Soccer and football have declined in popularity because the lower classes have taken them up. Especially is this true as regards soccer, for the college boys, composed of members of the upper class, do not care to mix with rough stevedores. It doesn't quite fit in with the English social system.

Boxing still attracts attention, with Jimmy Wilde, the fly-weight, holding the spotlight. This 94-pounder applied three times for enlistment, but couldn't even make the bantam brigade, so has stayed at home and beaten everyone, up to 110 pounds, in England. He is a knockout fighter, even if he does hail from Welsh's native village. Bill Squires, the old-time Australian fighter, is among those at the front in France.

Another Record For Connie Mack.

The Athletics and the Yankees recently played to an audience of 50 persons in Philadelphia.

Because of the war Dartmouth has lost two of her best football men. Cannell, a quarterback, showed great promise as a freshman last year and Cogswell, who weighs 185 pounds, was counted on to bolster the weak line. Both are reported as having enlisted with the Allies.

Brewer Does Some Picking For Mr. Spalding.

The 1915 football season in Missouri was covered for this year's Spalding guide by C. L. Brewer, director of athletics at the University. Mr. Brewer has chosen All-Missouri, All-Missouri State Collegiate, All-Missouri Military School and All-Missouri High School eleven and also has a short review of the season in each of these divisions:

The All-Missouri eleven is as follows: Wilson, Rolla, center; Essman, Christian Brothers, and Schapp, St. Louis, guards; Gray, Washington, and Groves, Missouri, tackles; Speelman, Missouri, and Kling, Washington, ends; Peterson, William Jewell, quarter; Inlay, Rolla, and Collins, Missouri, halfbacks; Lewis, Washington, fullback. Preston, guard, and Hamilton, center, are on the mythical second team.

In summing up the season at the University, Director Brewer says: "The team looked powerful at times, but was uncertain in its play and had no scoring attack."

Wayland, tackle, is the only Columbia High School man to be mentioned in the high school section. He is given a place on the second eleven.

C. E. McBride of the Kansas City Star reviewed the Missouri Valley season for the guide. The first, second and third elevens given were those made up from selections of coaches and officials. Speelman is the only Missouri man on the first eleven, while Groves and Collins are placed on the second team.

In regard to the Tigers, McBride says: "Missouri had only fair success, the Tigers failing to strike their stride till the Drake game. Then a rainstorm made the annual Kansas game a thing of chance, with the Jayhawkers copping the chance. Coach Schulte will be in charge of the Missouri team again in 1916 and is said to have material for an excellent eleven."

DR. DYSART TO CONDUCT SALE

Will Be in Charge of Mule-Colt Auction September 18.

Dr. W. P. Dysart will have charge of the sale of the prize mule-colts on Monday, September 18, the day of the Democratic rally. The sale will take place in front of the columns of the court house. Doctor Dysart will select the auctioneer.

Because of the rally of that day, the time of the sale will have to be changed so that it will not interfere with the Democratic speaking program. It is probable that the regular monthly sale will take place in the morning and the sale of the County Fair prize colts about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The street will be roped off, so that everyone will be able to watch the sale.

PRaise for Dean Jones' Apples

Fruit Company Pays $3.50 a Barrel For Them.

The apples in the orchard belonging to Dean J. C. Jones of the College of Arts and Science at the University are the best apples in the state, according to Prof. J. C. Whitten of the department of horticulture at the University and buyers for the Lagonarino Grapes Company of Burlington, Iowa, who purchased the apples.

1,017 Inches Gain--And in August, Too.

Most business men consider August a dull month, but the Missouriian did not find it so as the record shows. In August 1915 the Missouriian carried a total of 2,379 inches of paid advertising. In August 1916 the Missouriian broke this record to the tune of 1,017 inches and carried a total of 3,396 inches of space on the part of the merchants of Columbia.

The record for August as well as the excellent record for the eleven months of the Missouriian's fiscal year follow:

August, 1916	3,396 Inches
August, 1915	2,379 Inches
Gain in Inches	1,017 Inches

Gain in Columns	24 1-4

August, just past, closed the Missouriian's eighth year of publication and it truly was a successful year—for in the period of twelve months the Missouriian carried a total of 880 columns of advertising more than was carried by the paper in the previous year. In the same period the Missouriian carried 220 more pages of reading matter than was carried in the previous year. The Missouriian enters its ninth year of publication as a Columbia newspaper with glittering prospects indeed. In circulation the Missouriian now reaches all parts of Columbia and in hundreds of homes is the only newspaper received. Its circulation in the rural sections of Boone County is also increasing.

It is to its readers that the Missouriian attributes a great part of its success. It is not uncommon for merchants to tell representatives of the Missouriian that they receive greater returns from advertisements in the Missouriian than in any other paper their advertising appears in. This is due to the confidence that the people of Columbia and vicinity place in Missouriian advertising.

The Missouriian carries no advertising of spirituous liquors, objectionable patent medicines, announcements of questionable doctors, fake fire sales and closing out sales, in fact no advertising detrimental to the best interests of readers.
