Washington Rooters See Another Victorious Season.

The Washington Pikers have started practice with eight of their W men back and with an imposing array of talent from last year's freshmen. Prospects were never better at the St. Louis school and with Coach Edmunds the Washington rooters are looking for another successful season. School does not open until September 26, but the five coaches will have about thirty men out every morning and afternoon for the next ten days.

Poge Lewis is among those missing, but Edmunds has either Dawson or Foelch, two 175-pound former St. Louis high school backs, to take his place. Shanley, a 170-pound sophomore and a 10-second man, will have the call at quarter, though he formerly played at the fullback position. Captain Busick, a third-year man, and Pemberton, the speedy quarter-miler, will complete a fast backfield.

Kling and Meyer, both W men, will be assigned the wing positions, while McRoberts, Wetzel, Hachman, Grossman and Meyer all experienced linemen, are back. Smith, a 220-pounder with little experience, will be a candidate for a tackle position, while Kamp, Perry, Reichard and Hartmen are other hefty sophomores trying for places on the first line of defense.

It won't be easy for the Tigers with the Washington game just a month away. While Schulte will have more letter men, he will have fewer third-year men and the quality of his new material is a question. No 220-pound tackles or 10-second backs have so far announced their intention of coming to Missouri this fall. At Washington this year Coach Edmunds has these assistants: Dick Hagar, of Vanderbilt and Amherst, for the line; Linn Milford for the scrubs; Grogan, last year with St. Louis University, for the backfield; and Del Pratt, now with the Browns but formerly an Alabama football man, for general utility.

Great Stuff! Lindsey Makes a Touchdown.

The Kansas football squad held their first scrimmage of the season yesterday. Forty-two men were out for the regulars, while fifty freshmen reported to Coach McCarty.

The return of Burton, who played tackle on the 1913 Jayhawkers and was chosen for the All-Valley team that year, has helped greatly in filling out the line. The loss of Strother, Keeling and James broke up the powerful forward attack of the Kansas, but the presence of the old 190-pound tackle will give Olcott a good start toward building up a strong line.

In the first play of yesterday's scrimmage, Captain Lindsey broke through the scrubs' defense for a touchdown, which may or may not show that the star is better than last year. Anyway he is the big man on the Jayhawkers and Olcott will probably build his offense around the speed and kicking of this remarkable back.

President Wood Tells Students of Ideals and Purposes of School.

The formal opening of Stephens College was held yesterday in the Auditorium of the school. President Wood spoke of the ideals and purpose of the college and urged the students to help maintain the recognized high standard which the college has won for itself, which has made necessary the refusal of entrance to many applicants because of the limited capacity of the dormitories.

The lack of enough room for all the students has necessitated the use of the Baptist parsonage for the music classes.
