Units Which Crossed Danube Threatened by Bulgars, Germans and Turks.

ALLIED GAINS LARGE

Breach in Lines on Somme Now Extends Over a Front of 25 Miles.

By United Press.
LONDON, Oct. 4.—Reports that the new Greek cabinet has resigned have been confirmed, according to a Reuter dispatch from the Greek capital today.

By United Press.
LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Rumanian army that crossed the Danube into Bulgaria is under attack from three sides.

Small Bulgarian forces detached from the garrison at Rustakuk advanced against the invaders from the east and west, while Bulgarians, Germans and Turks moved up the Varna railway and began a frontal attack. The battle has been on since Monday. The result still is in doubt.

At the same time the fighting in Dobrudja and in Transylvania, where the Rumanians are on the offensive, is growing more violent. The Russian allies of the Rumanians attacked with utmost vigor, seemingly to prevent the enemy from uniting in resistance to the Rumanian invaders.

Bulgarian forces have occupied the Rumanian island of Kalakafat. It was announced in official dispatches from Sofia this evening.

The Bulgarian war office admitted at the same time that "considerable units" of the Rumanians crossed the Danube and invaded Bulgaria before Bulgarian monitors destroyed the pontoon bridge.

The river was bridged by the Rumanians near Riahovo. Along the Besaul line Bulgarian artillery stopped the Rumanian offensive.

Petrograd dispatches this afternoon said Russian gunboats had steamed down the Danube and were bombarding the Bulgarian left flank near Rasova, in Dobrudja. The Russian warships are co-operating with the Russo-Rumanian forces now attacking Field Marshal Von Mackensen's army south of the Constanza railway.

Allies Widen Breach in West.
By United Press.
With the French Armies on the Somme, Oct. 4.—The Allies have now widened their breach in the German lines along the Somme over a 25-mile front to a maximum depth of about eight and a half miles. In the early days of the offensive the Allies' attacks were delivered on a front extending from a point north of the Albert-Bapaume highway to a point north of Chaumes.

The capture last week of Thiepval extended the British front almost to the Ancre. The French reached out on the Somme and today captured the village of Chilly. Heavy rains that hindered operations for more than two days ceased falling yesterday at noon, and artillery began tuning up, particularly south of the river.

North of the Somme the French last night completed the conquest of a German trench between Morval and St. Pierre Vaast wood, taking 200 prisoners. South of the river there was a violent bombardment but no important infantry action.

British Hold Village of Abbaye.
By United Press.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The village of Abbaye, three miles south of Bapaume, was completely occupied by the British last night in the resumption of the Somme offensive. General Haig reported this afternoon. The British lines were pushed forward into the village several days ago, but the Germans clung tenaciously to several houses. These were cleared of the enemy in last night's fighting.

After a slight intermission the heavy downpour of rain was resumed on the Somme front yesterday afternoon, interfering with infantry operations. There was considerable artillery work south of the river, however.

British Storm and Occupy Jenkoj.
By United Press.
SALONIKI, Oct. 4.—Advancing from Karadzakoe, British troops yesterday stormed and occupied part of the village of Jenkoj, south of the Seres road.

A COLUMBIA COUNTRY CLUB

With the ratification of the transfer of the building of the Columbia Club to the Missouri Student-Alumni Union, the club became homeless. But the organization may not cease to exist, as at first thought. In the words of Mark Twain, "the news of the death was greatly exaggerated." A committee was appointed from the club to secure new quarters. Many members of the Columbia Club wish the club to continue. It is an organization that should not be allowed to die.

Whether or not the Columbia Club continues, Columbia should have a country club. It is one of the few cities of this size which has not such a club. Sedalia, Jefferson City, Hannibal, Excelsior Springs, Fulton and other smaller cities are operating country clubs with success. Why should not Columbia also have a country club; a place where the citizens and their families can meet socially and for recreation.

The possibilities of the country club are unlimited. It would not be a club for the men of the city alone but for their wives and children. The business men of Columbia and the members of the University faculty would have opportunity to get away from the town, away from desks and places of business and take their families into the open. The club should have golf links, tennis courts and club house. The distance need not be prohibitive for those who do not own motor cars.

Why not a country club?

TAILOR IS FINED $1 AND COSTS

Victor Beisswinger Charged With Operating Without a License.

Victor Beisswinger today was fined $1 and costs as the result of a complaint filed by City Collector Berry W. Jacobs, charging him with operating a tailoring shop without a license. Beisswinger appeared before Police Judge Edwards and after paying $9.25 to cover the fine and costs took out a license on a six months' basis. This license expires November 1, 1916. Beisswinger said he had not paid his license because he was waiting for the city Council to act on a petition to repeal the ordinance imposing a tailor tax.

MRS. J. R. DE JARNETTE IS DEAD

Sister of R. S. Stevinson Succumbs While Husband Is Unconscious.

Mrs. J. R. De Jarnette, sister of R. S. Stevinson of Columbia, died after two months' lingering illness, at her home in Centralia late Tuesday night.

At the time of his wife's death, Mr. De Jarnette, a retired farmer, was unconscious as a result of a stroke of paralysis suffered about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. The stroke was brought on by the nervous strain he had undergone during the past two months.

Mr. De Jarnette is related to Dr. W. B. De Jarnette of Columbia. He was still unconscious at noon today.

WIFE OF M. U. GRADUATE DEAD

Mrs. C. C. Parmer of Centralia Succumbs To Effects of Operation.

Mrs. C. C. Parmer died at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at her home in Centralia after a surgical operation which was performed in the morning. She was the wife of Dr. C. C. Parmer, who was graduated from the University in 1897, two years after which they were married. Mrs. Parmer was formerly Miss Lula Arthur, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Arthur, who are now living in Kansas City. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Ruth and Catherine.

The funeral services will be held in Centralia tomorrow morning. Burial will be in the Centralia cemetery.

COUNCIL TALKS OVER CITY STREET FAULTS

Dr. J. B. Cole Complains College Avenue Pavement Is Breaking.

SEVERAL PLANS UP

O. D. Kellogg Holds That $12,000 a Year Is Necessary to Keep Work Going.

Street paving and the condition of Columbia's streets were discussed at the regular meeting of the City Council last night. Dr. J. B. Cole criticized the poor condition of some of the city paving.

"I refer to College avenue, the best street in the city," said Doctor Cole. "It is breaking down. The base material is wrong. The property owner has no way to protect himself. The council should make some provision for the repair of the city streets."

Councilman O. D. Kellogg today said that Doctor Cole was right in some of his contentions. However, Mr. Kellogg said, the streets that have been paved in the last two years are proving satisfactory. The streets that are breaking down are old ones, and they are breaking down from lack of proper inspection or of faulty construction, according to Mr. Kellogg.

The expense incurred in the inspection of streets is now paid by the contractor. Councilman Percy Klass thinks the inspection should be made by an inspector employed and paid by the city. Councilman Kellogg believes the same. In their opinion it would place more responsibility on the inspector and make far better streets.

Raising of Money Discussed.

The matter of raising money for repaving the streets was discussed. Mr. Klass suggested a tax of $15 on automobiles and $1 on other vehicles. Doctor Cole replied that the automobile owners have already paid for the streets. A proposal was then made that the contractor should be required to guarantee the street for a certain period.

"Columbia at present has only about $5,000 a year to be spent in keeping the city streets in condition," said Mr. Kellogg today. "The money for sweeping the streets, cleaning sewers, hiring teams for street work and all work on the streets is paid out of this fund. The amount is entirely inadequate. The fund should be about $12,000." Mr. Kellogg also suggested a bonded indebtedness for up-keep on the streets or a license tax on vehicles.

"The repairs on streets are to be paid for by the property owners," according to George S. Starrett, city attorney. "The city engineer drafts the specifications, and the contract says that no alterations or changes shall be made. The contractor cannot be asked to do more than fill the specifications, and if the street breaks down it is not his fault."

Must Lay Mains First.

An ordinance was passed last night requiring that water mains be laid in all streets before they were paved. This ordinance was the result of a petition from N. D. Evans, urging the City Council to lay water mains on Walnut street before the paving was done.

Councilman McDonnell, chairman of the water and light committee, opposed the plan, saying that water mains were needed more in the western part of the city. He said the money supply was limited for this work and the committee should keep within the appropriation. In the western part of town, according to Mr. McDonnell, 165 houses are without water and have no way of fighting fire successfully. The ordinance was passed over his objections.

A petition providing for a walk on the north side of Conley avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, was heard, and the walk ordered put in. Discussion of the sewer district near Amelia street and Mount Vernon avenue came up again last night. A new sewer district to be known as No. 43 was created in the plan submitted by the city engineer and street committee.

A. R. Lyon protested against the new district, claiming few persons would be benefitted. "Most of the persons there have private sewers and the creating of a new district would put a double expense on them," said Mr. Lyon.

Councilmen Shaw and Reed were in

STUDENT UNION TAKES OVER COLUMBIA CLUB

Ratification of Transfer of Building Made at Final Meeting.

TO BE OPENED SOON

Members May Continue Old Organization in New Quarters.

The Missouri Student-Alumni Union Building is open. At a meeting of the Columbia Club last night the formal ratification of the transfer of the building to the Union was made and the committee from the Union took possession of the building this morning. The offices of Henry H. Kinyon, secretary of the Union, were moved from the alumni headquarters in Academic Hall this afternoon to the Union building.

The lease of the Columbia Club was taken over by the Union. The term of the lease is from October 1 until April 1, 1918. The re-leasing of the club building was approved by the board of directors of the University Club Building Association, owners of the property.

Columbia Club May Continue.

The Columbia Club may continue its organization. After the ratification of the transfer, the board of directors of the club was instructed by the members to make an investigation of any quarters available and to prepare a budget for the operation of the organization. They were also requested to ascertain the number who would retain their membership in the club if it obtained new quarters.

"The Union will be open to new members immediately," Henry H. Kinyon, secretary of the Union, said this afternoon. "Members of the Columbia Club eligible may continue to use the club by paying the membership fee of the Union. We want them to enroll in the Union. Students and faculty men not members of the club may also enroll as members now and have the use of the building. The formal opening will not be held until after the start of the membership campaign."

The membership fee in the Union is $5 a year for all persons excepting members of the student body and non-resident alumni.

History of Columbia Club.

The Columbia Club, first named the University Club, was organized March 13, 1895, by James H. Rollins, G. B. Rollins, Curtis B. Rollins, E. T. Rollins, Frank Thilly, John M. Burnam, John D. Lawson, H. T. Cory, Leo Weiner, W. G. Manly, J. P. Blanton, D. T. Gentry and F. C. Hicks. The charter was issued to the club, the decree of court made and articles recorded March 13, 1895.

Of the charter members several have left Columbia. Leo Weiner is a professor of Semitic languages in Harvard. J. P. Blanton, then professor of pedagogics in the University, is dead. Frank Thilly is professor of philosophy and dean of the college at Cornell. H. T. Corey, who was a professor in engineering, is now a consulting engineer in California. John M. Burnam is a professor of Latin in the University of Cincinnati. "The University Club was formed as a place of meeting between the town and gown," Curtis B. Rollins, one of the charter members said, "It has answered its purpose well."

The First Presidents.

The first four presidents of the University Club were: John D. Lawson, Curtis B. Rollins, Dr. Paul Schweitzer, after whom Schweitzer Hall is named, and Dr. Raymond Weeks, who is now a professor of romance languages in Columbia University, New York City. A life membership committee of E. T. Rollins, John D. Lawson, Curtis B. Rollins, Sanford F. Conley and F. W. Niedemeyer was appointed and secured 100 life memberships at $30 each. The money was used to furnish the club.

In their twenty-one years of existence, the University and Columbia Clubs have taken in only two honorary members, both famous men of Missouri. They were Samuel L. Clemens ("Mark Twain") and Col. William F. Switzer, whose name the building occupied by the School of Journalism bears. Curtis B. Rollins has the letter of acceptance from "Mark Twain." It is written in his usual humorous vein and accepts the kindness of the club "back in my home state of Missouri." The club

THE WEATHER

For Columbia and vicinity: Fair tonight. Thursday partly cloudy weather; not much change in temperature.

For Missouri: Fair east and south, probably showers and cooler northwest portion tonight. Thursday partly cloudy east, showers and cooler west portions.

The Temperatures Today.

membership has never been limited numerically. The largest membership was 160 and the present 120.

The building by the University Club was erected in 1903. The present officers of the club are: president, Dr. Walter Miller; vice-president, H. H. Banks; secretary, the Rev. W. W. Elwang; treasurer, S. F. Conley. Memberships in the club expired October 1.

Became Columbia Club In 1906.

The University Club became the Columbia Club by an amendment to the charter of the former club March 8, 1906. The purpose of the club remained unchanged. The club during its years in the club building has been the place of congregation for townspeople and the faculty. Many receptions, dances and other social gatherings have been held in the building. It was also the place of entertainment of guests of the University and many names of men of national note are on its guest book.

The appraisal of the furnishings of the club to the Union is in the hands of a committee. Dr. George Lefevre, from the Union; Dr. Charles Digges, from the Columbia Club and E. E. Brown, University purchasing agent.

FAVORS TRADE WEEK

V. B. Jones, Retail Merchant Secretary, Speaks a Good Word.

"I think that Trade Week is one of the very best ideas for bringing more persons to Columbia that we have ever had and I think every member of the Columbia Commercial Club whether he is in a retail business or not, is going to do everything in his power to make the event a success." This was the statement of Victor Jones, secretary of the Columbia Commercial Club yesterday.

The special issue of the Missourian carrying the announcements of the Columbia merchants who are participating in the event, will be distributed the last of the week. It will go to more than 5,000 families in the trade territory. The distribution on the rural routes will be by mail and by special messengers in the smaller towns of the county. In addition the special announcements will go to the large list of farmers in Boone and surrounding counties who receive the weekly Herald-Statesman. This is thrown in as good measure and will assist greatly in advertising the sale in the rural sections of the county and neighboring counties.

The fact that the Women's Civic League will co-operate to make visiting women comfortable and the further fact that the Athletic Department of the University will co-operate with the merchants in encouraging attendance of Boone County people at the Tiger-Washington football game Saturday, October 14, has done much to create interest in the Trade Week Festival.

Readers of the Missourian are urged to preserve the accompanying list of leading Columbia merchants for they are the only ones who will return railroad fares during Trade Week from October 9 to 14 inclusive.

Those who are co-operating in the Trade Week plans are:

- Fredendall Department Store.
- Victor Barth Clothing Company.
- C. B. Miller Shoe Company.
- Will E. Smith Dry Goods Company.
- Branham-Hinkle Ladies Ready-to-Wear Store.
- Sykes & Broadhead Clothing Company.
- E. H. Galtier Shoe Company.
- Renie Hardware Company.
- Parker Furniture Company.
- Charles Matthews Hardware Company.
- Goetz-Lindsay Jewelry Company.
- Smith Millinery.
- S. H. Levy, Shoes.
- The Drug Shop.
- J. M. Hughes, Furniture.
- Virginia Grill.
- Virginia Confectionery.
- Kolumbia Kandy Kitchen.
- E. L. Shepard, Millinery.
- J. D. Milecz, Photographer.
- Women's Exchange, Mrs. J. B. Master-son, Manager.
- Cluck Art Studio.
- Parisian Millinery Co. No. 6 North 8th street.
- Henry Holborn, Photographer.
- P. Parsons, Photographer.

MOTHER OF 5 WEEPS, SUING FOR A DIVORCE

Mrs. Ida McQuitty Accuses Husband of Cruelty and of Non-Support.

HE DENIES CHARGES

Trial Set for Next Week By Judge D. H. Harris in Circuit Court.

Mrs. Ida McQuitty, who is suing her husband for divorce, wept on the witness stand today when she told Judge David H. Harris of the Boone County Circuit Court about her troubles. Her husband, John McQuitty, she says, owns 120 acres of land near Hallsville and is able to support her, but refuses and has told her that if there wasn't enough to eat in the house she would have to wait until he was ready to get more. Mr. McQuitty denied most of the charges made by his wife.

The couple have five children, the youngest 1 year old and the oldest 14. Four of the children are with the mother and one with the father, against McQuitty, charging him with There is also a criminal charge assaulting his wife. The case was set for trial next week.

Suit On Deed Up This Week.

The case of S. J. Bowne, Jr., et al, against Austin Ankrum, in which the plaintiff is suing to set aside a deed to forty-five acres of land in favor of his charges, Alfred and Gladys Ankrum, both minors, was not given a set date for hearing but will probably be heard some time next week. The motion for the security of costs by the plaintiff was overruled by Judge Harris, and the plaintiff was allowed to sue as a poor person.

In the case of Laura B. Hines et al against the unknown consorts of Angus L. Langham et al, a suit to quiet title, a decree was granted perfecting the title.

The damage suit of Nora Keith against W. H. Morgan et al was continued.

In the case of S. F. Conley, administrator, against the First National Bank of Centralia, a suit for money had and received, a continuance was granted on application of the plaintiff.

The divorce suit of Gussie M. Faris was sustained, and the defendant was required to pay $15 in suit money on or before October 9.

Telephone Suit to Be Reset.

The suit of Charles Sinclair against the Columbia Telephone Company which was continued by consent, is to be reset. Judge Harris appointed three physicians, Dr. Woodson Moss, Dr. A. W. McAllister and Dr. William Shaefer to examine the plaintiff.

The suit for commission brought by E. L. Daugherty against W. H. Rusk was continued and the plaintiff was required to file bond for the costs or deposit $50 by December 1. The suit of Annie D. Norman against Ruby M. Freudenburger et al was continued and a demurrer overruled.

A continuance was granted in the suits of the Central Bank against G. M. Christian and of Paul C. Lyda against the Central Bank.

The case of Dora E. Burnett against Theodore Hudson et al, a bill in equity, was continued, and the plaintiff was given leave to file an amended petition on or before November 15.

Miss Jewell Hopper in Relapse.

Miss Jewell Hopper, a Columbia High School student, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Levering Hospital, Hannibal, has had a serious relapse. She is at the home of her uncle, T. E. Conley, 9 South Sixth street, and probably will be taken to Parker Memorial Hospital for another operation.

Former M. U. Publisher Has Daughter.

Word comes from Denver, Colo., that a daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacKay. Mr. MacKay was the University publisher for several years, and Mrs. MacKay was formerly Miss Myrtle McDougal, a 1914 graduate of the School of Journalism. Mr. MacKay's two sisters, Misses Mary and Catherine, are students in the University.

Mrs. P. H. Grimes' Mother Dies.

Mrs. P. H. Grimes, 307 St. Joseph street, was called to Versailles today on account of the death of her mother, Mrs. Moss, who died yesterday of heart disease.
