PARTY AT CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

Two Girls in '1916 Follies' Make-Up Tie for Costume Prize. Nymphs, fairies, Hallowe'en spirits and nearly all of the characters in Mother Goose were at the Hallowe'en party given in the Christian College Gymnasium last night. In a contest for the most original costume, two young ladies representing the follies of 1916, won first prize, a three-pound box of candy. In addition to the regular dance program, special musical features were given. A number of uninvited guests, participants in the Shirltail parade invaded the gymnasium through the windows. They left giving yells for the girls.

Rooters Hold Shirltail Parade. The Tiger victory over Oklahoma was celebrated by several hundred enthusiastic rooters with a shirltail parade through the downtown district. Christian College was visited, where the young ladies were called from a Hallowe'en party to respond to the rooting by their visitors.

VANITY FAIR WILL APPEAL TO WOMEN

Everything for the Comfort of Lady Customers to Be Provided. Not to Be Loafing Place for Loiterers About Town. Vanity Fair, the new shoe shining parlor, which will be opened up on South Ninth street this week, is distinctive in one way in particular. It will have special provisions for taking care of women. Heretofore many shoe shining parlors have served as the hanging out place of loiterers about town, but Vanity Fair will be different. It will be of the highest class in all particulars. A lady cashier will be employed who will also serve as an attendant to see that every lady customer secures the best and most courteous of service.

Vanity Fair

---the finest and most conveniently located Shoe Shining Parlor Columbia has ever known

Opens Tuesday For Men and Women

FOR YEARS scores of Columbia women, University and College girls, as well as dozens of discriminating men have expressed a strong desire for an up-to-the-minute Shoe Shining Parlor---one that is not only well managed, but centrally located. Such a parlor has become almost a public necessity. Vanity Fair is the last word in the shoe-shining parlor. It is the realization of a long felt need. And the one certain way to convince yourself of that fact is to visit Vanity Fair at once.

Sit in one of the six roomy chairs and watch the boy put a real finish to your shoes. Let your body sink into the leather cushions and enjoy real comfort.

In order to make the women feel perfectly at home, we have a matron who will also act as cashier. She will be on duty from eight until six.

Location

Vanity Fair is right in the center of business activities---just thirty steps from Broadway on South Ninth Street. Nearly everyone who lives in the south part of Columbia passes this place to and from town. Within a few days an attractive electric sign will mark the place for you.

Service

Vanity Fair is a big city shoe shining parlor located in a small, but progressive town. No metropolitan parlor exceeds this one in service. The most courteous and skilled shine boys "brighten up" your shoes, and do it in such a manner that will win your patronage for all time.

When you want a shine, see that you come to VANITY FAIR---just North of Penn's in same building with Wheat Floral Company.
