OLD GRADS AND STUDENTS MINGLE AT UNION BUILDING

WOMEN HOLD MASS MEETING

Alumnae and Students Gain in Union and Women's Building Work. It was a real get-together mass meeting that the University women and their alumnae held Friday afternoon in the University Auditorium. As Auld Lang Syne was played the visiting alumnae marched to the stage. The women gave Tiger yells and sang the songs of "Old Mizou." Eight hundred women participated.

"We must not make the Women's Building stand over against the Missouri Building," Mrs. W. T. Nardin, A. B. '94, of St. Louis said. She urged that the new building be called the women's gymnasium, and that the social headquarters of the University women be in the Missouri Union Building. That the women should be interested as vitally as the men in the future of the University was Mrs. Nardin's opinion.

"We will get just what we command," she said, "and not what we demand. If we want a place in the Union Building we must command it by joining and working for the Union." Mrs. R. S. Withers, A. B. '03, compared the University women of 1903 with the women of the present day. She assured the students that there were 4,000 members of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Missouri working for a new building for University women.

PREDICTED A CLOSE CONTEST

Schulte Talks At The Mass Meeting Before The Game. It was a rousing mass meeting that the students held in the University Auditorium Friday night. Coach H. F. Schulte said that the average student showed more "pep" than for a long time. Mr. Schulte predicted that the Texas-Missouri game would be a close contest since there were no stars on either team, and said that the teams would have to display machine work. The Tigers were present.

E. D. ("General") Smith of Lexington, '01, expressed his desire to see the Missouri boys change the time worn slogan, "show me," and show the Longhorns. Dr. R. M. Burgess, who a short time ago moved from Columbia, brought a vial of "pep" medicine from "Satan" Sanderson for the team and the old guard. The "Kealoha Malihini" play by the Hawaiian students pleased the big crowd. The students were called back for the third number. Lue C. Lozier, student president, made it plain that there were a few who needed more loyalty, especially at the end of the game. He said those who left the field before "Old Mizou" were disloyal. He made it plain that the crowd had a lot of true Missouri spirit, and that the opinion that it was gone was erroneous.

COEDS FOR SUFFRAGE, 5 TO 1

Efforts Being Made to Interest University Women in Movement. The National College Suffrage League distributed cards yesterday at the woman's mass meeting, requesting those present to state their attitude toward suffrage. Of the 205 cards returned, 140 were for suffrage, 4 were interested, 46 indifferent, 4 against; and 12 failed to state what their attitude was. Sixty women have pledged themselves to support the cause of equal suffrage and to spread its influence throughout the University and state.

This is the beginning of the League's plan to get all college women interested in suffrage. The next meeting will be held at 7 p. m., Thursday, November 9, in Room 210, Academic Hall. The Federal Amendment will be discussed.

FOOTBALL OFFICIALS IN TANGLE

Grover, Quigley and Reilly Figure in Financial Mix-Up Here. From the Kansas City Star. John Carpenter Grover, Ernest Cusenberry Quigley and Joseph Alberta Reilly were the officials in the Ames-Missouri game at Columbia recently. Reilly is famous for missing trains, forgetting engagements and an occasional bit of absent mindedness.

After the game the officials were paid their fee and expense money in the office of C. L. Brewer, Missouri's athletic director. While in Mr. Brewer's office Doctor Reilly donned his overcoat. He thought it was his, but it wasn't.

"Guess that coat of mine looks good to you, Joe," said Quigley, the National League umpire, who had the honor of guessing in this year's world's series.

"Oh, have I got on your coat?" Reilly exclaimed, surprised. "I thought it was mine." The officials left the office of the Missouri director, had dinner at the Sigma Chi house and later rode to the Athens Hotel in a jitney. Reaching the hotel Reilly started to pay the chauffeur, but could muster up only a few cents. Hurriedly the K. C. A. C. director frisked his pockets. Nothing doing. A roll of $39 was missing. Reilly was pale.

"Jack, I've lost my money, let me have $10 to get home on." Grover dug up $10.

Reilly was a sick Irishman. An hour or so later "Indian" Schulte, the Missouri coach, called at the hotel to tell the officials how many they had missed during the hour's contention on the gridiron. Schulte was told of Reilly's casualty.

"Why," said the Tiger coach, "have you searched Grover and Quigley? If I was travelling around with those birds I'd watch 'em every minute. Your roll's probably in their pockets now."

And so saying Schulte reached into one of the pockets of Quigley's overcoat. A look of surprise came over his face and out came his hand clutching a bunch of greenbacks. The roll totaled an even $39. Reilly's money.

The Blue Diamond director had worn Quigley's coat long enough to bury his roll therein. Schulte unwittingly had discovered the cache. Quigley, having a world's series check for $1,000 in an inside pocket, didn't mind the loss. Reilly was jubilant. Everybody smoked.

Nine Indorse Movement Here, Says Paul H. Arthur, '15, in Letter.

Nine University graduates now at Harvard have joined the Missouri Union, and with the memberships comes an enthusiastic letter indorsing the movement. The alumni there were signed up by Paul H. Arthur, '15, who writes: "The boys here are of the unanimous opinion that the movement to establish a Union is the best proposition that has been broached at Missouri at any time within their knowledge, and we are glad to lend our support by becoming members now. We want to see it thrive and flourish."

Besides Mr. Arthur the Union members at Harvard now are: Guy V. Head, '14, J. B. Hedges, '16, John C. Vogel, '16, Arnold Leonard, '14, Paul Carrington, '14, Claude Cross, '14, Benjamin Rothbaum, '16, and John F. Rhodes, '14.

pushing will be a benefit of such far-reaching influence that we bespeak for it the hearty co-operation of all loyal citizens. I mean the "Better Motion Pictures for Children" movement. If the grown-ups display any enthusiasm the children will be assured of good pictures at least one afternoon and night in each week for a long time to come. A ticket, good for thirteen shows of better pictures, will cost 65 cents.

Our slogan henceforth shall not be "Show me," but rather "We will show you." G.

ANENT KANSAS.

Editor the Missourian: The old heart-warming slogan, "Beat Kansas," is up to the voters of "Old Mizou". Here are a few facts:

Kansas bank deposits increased from $69,000,000 to $113,900,000 in ten years. Kansas reduced illiteracy 49 per cent in the first twenty years of prohibition. Her state tax is $1.04 on $1,000. The assessed wealth of the state is $1,500 per capita, exceeding all other states.

Kansas does not allow the manufacture or sale of liquor, and consequently has no paupers in fifty-seven of her hundred and five counties. The population in 1910 was 1,630,000, and only 752 prisoners in her penitentiary. In 1880, when the state adopted prohibition, her population was 996,000, with 724 prisoners!

The number of her insane are fewer proportionately than in any state in the Union. The poor farms in forty-nine counties have been turned into experiment stations under the control of the State Agricultural College and are now called "Prosperity Farms." Her people,—the plain, ordinary people, are contented and happy. Why? Because women and children are provided for by husbands and fathers who never think booze, and therefore never booze—by men who take a natural pride in their families, in their towns and in themselves.

Beat Kansas! Men of Mizou, make the Third Amendment a part of the Constitution of Missouri. Scratch "No", vote "Yes" on it. Start the ball rolling which shall place Missouri in line with Kansas and eighteen other dry states, and beat Kansas if you can!
