

Shepard to Help Train Tigers.
Paul Shepard, former backfield star on the Tigers, the man who kicked a 40-yard field goal against Kansas in 1912, will be here for a few days and will help H. F. Schulte in "prepping" the Tigers for the clash with the Jay-hawkers next Thursday. Shepard, although he sent the pigskin between the bars from the 40-yard line in 1912, was unable to win for the Tigers. Missouri proved an easy victim to the Minnesota shift and lost, 12 to 3.

No Stops for Specials Wednesday.
Special trains leaving Columbia for Lawrence Wednesday will not stop at Moberly. A special order has been issued from the office of General Passenger Agent McNamara in St. Louis to that effect. On account of the fast schedule on which the specials will run between Columbia and Kansas City, the order for no stops was issued.

CALLS CITY DUMPING GROUND FOR MOVIES

Mrs. J. W. Rankin and Others Discuss Censorship at Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

MAYOR BACKS MOVE
Says the City Council Would Help Get Better Pictures For Columbia.

The general sentiment expressed at the meeting called yesterday morning by the Y. W. C. A. to discuss the question of better moving pictures was that the community must stand behind the movement for better pictures.

Prof. A. W. Taylor presided at the meeting. Mrs. J. W. Rankin told of the work that had been done by different clubs of Columbia in their efforts to get better pictures. She said the first aim of the clubs when they began work was to arouse public sentiment. The first move made was to investigate the matter of censorship in Columbia, and it was found that there was no provision made for censorship, which meant that Columbia was a dumping ground for the moving picture business.

Professor Taylor said: "When bad pictures are shown, my business is interfered with. I must rear my children; immoral pictures interfere with my efforts." He expressed the opinion that more could be accomplished toward better moving pictures if the co-operation of all the theaters in the city could be secured.

Pictures Must Be Gotten Up Well.
The Rev. M. A. Hart declared that the proprietors of the moving picture shows must be shown that good pictures are a paying proposition. And he expressed the thought that good pictures if most be gotten up in good style, for if good pictures were shown in poor style they would not attract people. Furthermore he said, "If the students are censoring vaudeville, and I think they are, they can be made to censor pictures for themselves. That would help the matter a great deal."

The Rev. J. H. George, Jr., was of the opinion that legal control of some sort was necessary to secure better pictures. He suggested, however, that moral control should come first, and to create this a local board should be created which would offer its services to review pictures before they are shown, and should put the mark of its approval or disapproval on them. He was of the belief that the proprietors of the moving picture theaters would meet the board part way in its efforts.

Two Sides to the Question.
Mrs. C. L. Brewer brought out the fact that here were two sides to the question to be considered, and that the proprietors had to take the pictures that were sent to them, for they were under contract to do so and had nothing to substitute if pictures they show should be censored locally. She said that work for better moving pictures must begin with the firms who made the pictures. Professor Taylor answered this point by telling that the National Board was supposed to meet this need, but that it had not so far answered all objections to the class of pictures sent out on the circuits. Mrs. Brewer said better movies had been secured in many places and she thought they could be here.

Mayor For Better Pictures.
Mayor J. M. Batterton said he would like to see better pictures shown in Columbia but that he thought the clubs were up against a hard problem in trying to obtain pictures of the right sort. He declared that if the matter came to the City Council it would do all it could for the betterment of the picture shows.

The Rev. C. C. Grimes said the problem of better moving pictures was one that he had long been struggling with, as had all the men of his profession.

Such a degree of interest was manifested at the meetings yesterday morning that a motion was made and passed that a committee of three should be appointed to arrange for another meeting in the near future.
