HOW SOME GET THEIR COAL

STUDENTS TO HELP VISITING FARMERS

Dean F. B. Mumford Has Asked For Assistance During Farmers' Week.

TO MEET ALL TRAINS

Committees to Direct Visitors Furnish Information, and Sell Banquet Tickets.

Dean F. B. Mumford of the College of Agriculture in an effort to systematize the directing and furnishing information to the visitors during Farmers' Week has called upon the students of the College of Agriculture for co-operation. Not only does he believe that the visitors will be taken better care of, but also the interest of the students will be increased by placing them in responsible roles.

Prof. E. H. Hughes has been appointed to supervise the appointing and directing of the committees composed of students. The committees will be stationed at various buildings and placed in charge of definite work. In most cases they will serve as information bureaus.

One committee has been appointed to co-operate with a committee from the Columbia Commercial Club to meet the trains and to attend to the registration of the visitors. This student committee will take the visitors from the trains to the Commercial Club rooms for registration and room assignments, and then direct the visitors to the location of the rooms.

Another committee has been appointed to assist the State Board of Agriculture at the night programs. Members of this committee will serve in the capacity of ushers and furnishing information to the visitors in regard to the programs.

Committees composed of students will have charge of the selling of the tickets for the banquet and the arrangements of Rothwell Gymnasium for the occasion. In addition, there will be committees established at all the agricultural buildings throughout the day.

Students who have been appointed to serve on the various committees will begin to return from their Christmas vacation Saturday night and will be assigned to their work. Every member of the committees will wear a badge labeled "Ag Club Guide."

Through this systematized plan it is believed that the congestion of previous years will be relieved considerably. Professor Hughes says that calling on the students for co-operation in making the week a success will develop an interest on the part of the students that has been lacking in other annual gatherings.

NEW QUARTERS FOR CRIMINALS

Wisconsin County Has Most Luxurious Workhouse in Country.

By United Press
GRANVILLE, Wis., Dec. 27.—Monday Milwaukee County criminals will occupy new quarters in the luxurious establishment built here at a cost of $700,000, and said by officials to be one of the largest, finest, most comfortable county workhouses in the country.

The buildings, of which there are twelve, have been under course of construction for the last two years. They have a capacity of 650 prisoners. Each inmate has a separate cell, while those who sleep in the dormitories will have plenty of room and a number of cubic feet of air to breathe. The inmates will have luxuries denied many persons even in moderate circumstances. Each cell will contain a toilet and wash basin, while shower baths will be installed along the cell corridors.

So as not to fatigue prisoners, the chair factory has been located in such a manner that they will not have to walk a great distance. The factory will turn out thousands of chairs of all kinds each year. It was built at a cost of $100,000.

WILL PREPARE BILLS CONCERNING SCHOOLS

J. D. Elliff Will Go to Capitol City to Confer With Committee.

STATE TO GIVE AID

Investigation and Supervision Will Be Provided For in Measure.

J. D. Elliff, professor of school administration and high school supervisor, will go to Jefferson City Friday to attend a meeting of the Legislative Committee of the State Teachers' Association. Prof. Elliff is the chairman of the committee and is preparing four or five bills to be presented to the legislature. Only one of these is definitely formulated as yet, and it will be considered at the meeting Friday. The proposed law will provide for the "establishment, maintenance and supervision of vocational education in industries, agriculture, household arts and commercial pursuits." It is being introduced in view of the Smith-Hughes bill which will be passed by congress in a few days and which is for liberal national aid for vocational national education to all states, the states producing an amount of money equal to that allowed them by the government.

The bill authorizes the state boards of education to investigate and assist in the introduction of vocational education and to aid the school districts to supervise the establishment of vocational schools, to inspect and approve such schools and to make reports to the legislatures concerning the condition and progress of vocational education and make recommendations.

Any school district may, through its board of education, establish and maintain vocational schools in the same manner in which other schools are established.

The state, in order to aid in keeping up approved vocational schools, shall pay annually to school districts, an amount equal to two-thirds the sum expended for salaries for instruction and supervision.

All instructors and directors employed in approved vocational schools must be approved by the state board of education, which is also authorized to adopt such rules and standards as it needs.

THE NEW BOOKS

"Quaker Born."

"Quaker Born," a romance of the great war by Ian Campbell Hannah, a story with keen humor, is a proof that the common application of the term realism to the lowest motives is an insult to real life. It makes a startling departure from the usual practice of modern novels in describing people who would like to meet in life and yet is intensely realistic. Its characters live. When a virile young Quaker goes to Cambridge and comes under the charm of the aristocratic life of the South and then the war breaks out, he is doomed to a heart-breaking struggle especially as there is a girl in the case.

(G. Arnold Shaw, Publisher, Grand Central Terminal, New York City; cloth; 261 pages, with frontispiece; $1.25 net.)

"Nobody's Boy."

"Nobody's Boy" is Hector Malot's masterpiece, "Sans Famille," which was crowned in its early popularity as a literary classic by the Academy of France. The homeless boy's experience is a human document that grips the interest of young and old and is known as one of the supreme heart-interest stories of the world, an ennobling example of boy character. "Nobody's Boy" is one of the most lovable characters in the literature of child life. "Sans Famille" has been known in America only among students of the French language chiefly from its extensive use in schools and colleges as a small textbook of classic French. The present volume is translated by Florence Crewe Jones and illustrated in color by John B. Gruelle and makes a handsome volume.

(Cuppes and Leon Co., New York; cloth; 372 pages; $1.25.)

Will Tell of the Automobile Club.

The regular weekly luncheon of the Commercial Club will be held tomorrow at the Virginia Grill. E. Sidney Stephens will talk on the "Automobile Club."

An Apology---

During the week before Christmas the doors of the Clucks' Art Studio were closed except during one hour each day when delivery of photographs was made. Because many who wished to patronize the studio were thus turned away we offer this apology. However we feel justified because—

A Promise---

Which we made to each who ordered photographs to be given as Christmas gifts was thus fulfilled and Clucks' portrait photographs did their share in spreading the Christmas cheer. Each order which had been promised was delivered on schedule time. And now—

For a New Year---

Those who were disappointed last week may make appointments and be assured that their work will be ready for them on the date which we name. Photographs are acceptable for gifts any time. That picture you have been wanting for mother, father, sister, brother or the baby should be made now. Our prices are reasonable.
