

SPORT

Many students and townspeople are making daily trips to Rollins Field to watch the early season football practice. Coach H. F. Schulte is putting his men through hard practice each afternoon trying to get them in good physical condition for the opening game here with William Jewell October 6.

Scrimmage practice between the regulars and the substitutes is a part of the daily program. The backfield positions are well taken care of by experienced veterans. The line has a number of green men, who need much scrimmage and games to show their ability. Ewing and Greenwood are fighting for center, with honors even to date. Urie is being tried at end.

Morris and Stevens are fighting for quarter. Playing on the scrubs yesterday afternoon, Stevens scored 10 points against the regulars, making a touchdown by a long run through a broken field. Later he scored a place kick from the 20-yard line.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 26.—The University of Wisconsin football eleven, although expected to be stronger than any eleven in the last three years will be without the services of several members of last year's team. Among them is former Captain Paul Meyers, who now is a first lieutenant in the United States Field Artillery in France.

Besides Meyers, the following members of last year's team will not return: Graper and Gunderson, guards, who are on a farm; Gardner, guard, is at Camp Douglas with the hospital corps; Rohsenberg, tackle, has left school; Feltzer and Koch, tackles, Taylor, quarterback, and Krug, fullback, graduated; Berg, sub-fullback, is a second lieutenant in the army; McCrovey, sub-half, is doing Y. M. C. A. work, and Olson, captain of the basketball team and halfback on last year's squad, is physical trainer in an army corps.

Among some of the former members of the team who will be back are: Captain Hancock, guard; Carpenter, Kieckhefer and Kralovek, centers; Owens, guard; Wenzel, tackle; Kelly, end; Simpson and Edler, halves.

Coach Richards will have some excellent material to choose from in the following members of last year's freshmen eleven: Davy, quarterback; Elliott, halfback; Jacobi, fullback; Weston, end; Taylor, tackle; Van Ghent and Hanson, guards; Scott, center, and Kuehn, halfback. In addition, Richards can draw on the following last year's subs and class team stars: Chandler, basketball captain for 1917-18, fullback; Mailer, guard; Gallun, guard; Schrank, end; Vaughn, quarterback; Bondi, halfback; Fuller, quarterback; Knapp and Keyes, ends; Saberhagen and Stark, fullbacks.

Head Coach Richards has as assistants Guy Lowman, last year with Indiana, and Tom Jones, who has handled the freshmen heretofore.

The schedule follows:
October 6—Beloit at Madison.
October 10—Notre Dame at Madison.
October 20—Illinois at Urbana.
October 27—Iowa at Madison.
November 3—Minnesota at Madison.
November 10—Ohio State at Madison.
November 24—Chicago at Chicago.

DETROIT, Sept. 26.—It is an open secret that Manager Jennings of the Detroit Americans doubts whether Harry Coveleskie will be able to pitch major league ball next season. Last year the big left-hander was a star; this year he was almost worthless. His arm was weak and his curve ball and confidence were conspicuous by their absence.

Coveleskie passed the 30-year mark several seasons ago, although he is modest regarding his real age. But Jennings undoubtedly will take Coveleskie south and give him another chance, as he realizes that a comeback is not an impossibility.

MANHATTAN, Kan., Sept. 26.—W. B. ("Bill") Tuttle, former Kentucky

University football star and for two years halfback choice for the All-Southern eleven, will assist "Germany" Schultz this season as coach of the Kansas Aggie freshman eleven. Early reports indicate that this year's freshman class has some exceptionally promising material.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Sept. 26.—Dr. James Naismith, head of the department of physical education in the University of Kansas, is en route to France, where he will do war work in Y. M. C. A. camps. He has been active in athletic circles for many years and is an expert on basketball.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 26.—Owen Frank, who was the star halfback of the University of Nebraska football eleven in 1909-10-11, has been appointed assistant to Coach Stewart of the Cornhuskers' squad. Nineteen men reported for practice at the opening of school, but the squad is expected to increase.

First Practice Football Game Next Saturday

The first public athletic event of the season will be held Saturday on Rollins Field, when Coach Miller's freshmen football team will play the Varsity. The game is called for 3 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents. The activity tickets that admit to all athletic events of the year are expected here today or tomorrow.

GROW HEMP HERE, THEY SAY

University and Federal Agents Advise This Crop for Missouri.

A. H. Wright of the University of Wisconsin and a special agent of the United States Department of Agriculture are in Columbia now to induce the College of Agriculture of the University to co-operate with the government in the raising of hemp in Missouri. Mr. Wright is in charge of the hemp experiment work at the University of Wisconsin and wishes to interest the University of Missouri in running adaptation tests of hemp in this state.

At the time of the Civil War, Missouri produced large quantities of hemp, but soon the abolition of slavery and the lack of good machinery caused the industry to be unprofitable here. Now that the European supply has been cut off, machinery has facilitated the growth of the business, prices have gone up and the demand has grown with the possibility of making binder twine from the raw product.

The manufacture of this twine would alone be sufficient cause to make the hemp industry worth while to us, it is said, as at the present time the United States imports this twine from Mexico and duty makes it very expensive.

Bulletins to Aid Farmers.

The College of Agriculture is now issuing extension service circular No. 32, "Silos and Silage," by S. T. Simpson; No. 33, "Community Live Stock Breeding," by the same author; No. 35, "Pickles and Relishes," by Carrie L. Pancoast, and No. 31, "Farming on a War Basis," which contains fifty recommendations by the College of Agriculture for war-time agricultural production.

TO CARE FOR ORPHAN JACKIES

Society of Godfathers and Mothers Receives Endorsement of Official.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Orphaned boys enlisted in the United States navy, and those having no near relatives are to be singled out for special care by the members of a new organization, entitled the "Order of Godfathers and Godmothers of the Navy," which has the official endorsement of the Navy Department, through Assistant Secretary Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The organization, founded by Mrs. Henry Murray Calvert of Brooklyn, already has commenced active work by getting in touch with Navy chaplains and secretaries of the Naval Young Men's Christian Association, to get names of enlisted men who have no near relatives. The order's members are to take an individual and parental interest in these men, with the idea that their general well-being might be improved if they knew something about them. This care would be expressed by sending letters to the men and little gifts of remembrance and by keeping track of them throughout the war. It is the hope of its organizer that the order may become nation-wide in its scope and contribute a useful part in war relief work.

Mrs. Calvert, through recruiting work, got in touch with many fine young men who had no near relatives and she was impressed by the loneliness of these men. She became convinced these men could be helped if a personal interest was taken in them by men and women, who, unable to render any other service, could thus, "do their bit" for their country.

Anyone in the United States more than 30 years old may become a member of the order by sending word to Mrs. Calvert, 169 McDonough street, Brooklyn, that he or she will act as godfather or godmother for one or more of the enlisted men of the Navy who have no near relatives. The only requirement is that a stamped self-addressed envelope be sent by prospective members and in this will be returned the name or names of as many men as have been requested. Then the new member takes it upon himself or herself to write to the godsons, rendering what aid and cheer possible through the times of trial ahead.

In a letter commending the work, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt says he believes it will "do much for the happiness and contentment of the orphaned boys so befriended."

ACTING FOR MOVIES HARD WORK

Miss Myrtle Stedman Says There Is Room for Beginners.

"I have been in motion pictures four years, and love the work." Miss Myrtle Stedman, movie actress who is appearing at the Hall Theater, says there is a comradeship among moving picture actors and actresses. "Is there room for beginners? Yes. As in any other profession, there is always room for sincere and hard workers. Directors are always on the alert to discover new talent," she said last night.

"It takes three weeks to make a five-reel picture. During that time we work both day and night, and as soon as our work is through we hurry home for a much needed rest. There is no time for late dinners or entertainments, for we have to keep ourselves fresh and ready for work."

Miss Stedman says that the day of "fake props" has passed. They have real food to eat in pictures, and the finest furnishings are used in the stage settings.
