A. war work, will meet with C. G. Lord, head of the Y. M. C. A. forces at Camp Funston, to discuss the campaign.

A mass meeting will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the University Auditorium, which all students and faculty members are urged to attend. Written requests have been sent to all the boarding houses, sororities and fraternities to have dinner early enough Sunday to allow the students to attend this meeting.

DISPLAY TO AID CONSERVATION

Rations in America, France and Germany Shown.

A food display in the window of the Red Cross Work Rooms at the Thilo Building is particularly interesting at this time, because of the food conservation campaign. In the display are the rations of German civilians, American soldiers and French civilians. The German ration amounts to 10,922 calories, the French, 9,364 and the American, 27,067. The notable thing about the different rations is that, although the German ration is larger than the French, it does not contain a sufficient amount of protein and fats. The American and French rations are better balanced in the necessary food elements. Mrs. Walter McNab Miller said this morning:

"The fact that the soldiers in the trenches cannot eat all the things that civilians can, makes it necessary for people who are left at home to conserve those food products which are required to feed the army. Especial care should be exercised to keep the daily menu varied and yet not waste foods containing protein, fats or carbohydrates, which the soldiers must have in order to keep up their strength."

Missionary Conference Here.

The members of the Young Women's Missionary Society are holding their district conference in Columbia. At their first meeting at the Methodist Church last night, representatives of the other churches were present. The women of the Methodist Church entertained the guests at dinner today. The meeting will close this evening.

FORD COMPANY LOSES SUIT

Minority Stockholders Win Demand For Dividends.

By Associated Press
DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 31.—Minority stock holders of the Ford Motor Company today won the first round of their fight for increased dividends and more voice in the transaction of the company's business. Circuit Judge Hausner handed down a decision for the plaintiffs in a suit brought by John F. Dodge and Horace E. Dodge against the Ford Motor Company and Henry Ford to disburse about 60 million dollars of accumulated dividends to stock holders.

The Dodge Brothers, who are automobile manufacturers, are minority stock holders of the Ford Motor Company. Ford announced some months ago that he hoped to use this money to increase the company's business. One of his plans was the construction of great blast furnaces.

538 HUNTING LICENSES ISSUED

Flocking of Geese and Ducks Causes Rush—100 Recorded This Month.

Five hundred and thirty-eight hunting licenses have been issued for Boone County this year. One hundred of them were issued this month, the rush for licenses being caused by the coming of the ducks and geese. Only eight or ten a month were issued for each of several months preceding October.

Every license is recorded on the books of the clerk of the County Court. The information recorded there includes the number of the license, the age of the person holding the license, the color of his eyes and hair.

HEATING IS PROBLEM AT CAMP FUNSTON

Largest Steam Plant in Country Being Installed, Says Dr. G. L. Noyes.

ALL ELSE COMPLETE
Food Is Well Cooked and Abundant—New Laundry Will Employ 400.

Heating is the greatest problem at Camp Funston today, according to Dr. Guy L. Noyes, dean of the School of Medicine, who has just returned from Fort Riley.

"The largest steam heating plant in the country is being installed at a cost of $1,000,000. The buildings are well made and a third of them are heated now. The barracks for the soldiers are much better made than those for the officers. The dust and snow drifted into the bunkhouse where I slept but the soldiers' barracks are tightly built.

"With the exception of the tardiness in heating, everything about the camp is complete in every way. Doctor Ravenel and I inspected the food and it is well cooked and abundant. Mess sergeants are learning cooking from the cooks in the kitchens and in butchers' and bakers' schools.

A Huge Laundry There.
"A laundry is being completed which will employ 250 women and 150 men who will work in two shifts of eight hours each. The laundry requires 200,000 gallons of water a day and the heating plant, 300,000 gallons. The water is pumped from wells which have a capacity of 1,700,000 gallons a day and this will be increased to 300,000,000 gallons.

"Fire is the greatest menace to the camp because should a fire start it would spread quickly among the wooden buildings. A daily inspection and a well trained fire department with sub-stations are used to prevent fire. Men are not allowed to smoke on the grounds because of the shavings and trash collected there in the construction of the buildings.

"Hundreds of buildings are being built now although the process of building the camp is nearly finished, and the civilian employes who were used for that purpose are gradually being dismissed. These civilian employes were the chief source of disease in the camp because they could not be compelled to be inoculated as the other men were.

No Typhoid in Camp.
There is no typhoid fever or small-pox and they are gone forever from camp life. Measles is the disease most dreaded in the camps. There has been some cases of this and of chicken pox, mumps and scarlet fever. All the sick are cared for at the base hospital which has more space than all the buildings together on the University Quadrangle leaving out Academic Hall. It has 1,800 beds, which are usually all filled, although the rate of sickness is not above normal. Besides, each regiment has its own infirmary which accommodates twelve to fifteen persons. Sanitation of the camp is carried on under the direction of the division surgeon and division sanitary inspector, and the Army Medical Service has been active since the camp started. Army City, which was built near the camp by a number of merchants for the purpose of trade with the soldiers has been quarantined because disease has broken out there.

Texas Club to Hold Meeting.
The Texas Club of the University will hold a meeting at 7:15 o'clock tonight at the Student Union Building. The election of officers and a general organization meeting will be held. All students in the University from Texas are urged to attend.

NEW HOME
ONE DOOR NORTH OF VICTOR BARTH CLOTHING CO.
ON NINTH STREET

Our removal to new quarters has been somewhat delayed owing to unforeseen conditions that arose during the past few weeks, and today we will not be able to show you a finished store as we had hoped on our opening at 9 North Ninth. But very shortly we will have everything up in good condition—sanitation not excepted. Please give us the privilege of welcoming you now.

We will conduct the business here on North Ninth Street along the same lines as adopted on our coming to Columbia, Mo., viz: Sell you honest pure food products, sanitarily handled and reasonably priced. We can do this because most of the Groceries we have to offer you were bought prior to the rapid advances of the last few months, and our prices are based on the actual pre-war cost and not upon the present market cost.

We operate our own Free Delivery System, making 4 deliveries daily to you—8:45—10:45 a. m. and 2:30—4:45 p. m. If you are not already our customer, won't you join us now? We hope to make this growing business larger with your trade, and help you, too.
