

IZORA JACKSON FINED $300 IN LIQUOR CASE

Keg Marked Bevo Contained Beer, Says Sheriff Whitesides.

WHISKY FOUND, TOO Defendant Testifies Beer Was for Use in Farewell Party.

Izora Jackson was fined $300 and costs in the Circuit Court today. This is an appeal from the police court of Columbia. Jackson was charged with violation of the local option law.

Sheriff Fred T. Whitesides testified that he and two of his assistants entered Izora's place of business and found a keg of beer on tap. The keg was supposed to have contained Bevo and the beverage was sold for that, said Whitesides. A storage room contained a quantity of whisky bottled, but not in bond. Whitesides and his assistants testified that near the bottle were small cans of money.

It was testified that a negro, named Marshall, had obtained whisky from Bob Williams, negro, who runs a road hall in the same building with the Jackson Taxicab Company and restaurant.

Williams testified that he was ignorant of the fact that there was whisky in the storeroom and also of the fact that there was beer in the keg marked "Bevo." He claimed to have had no key to the storeroom.

Izora, when asked what he had the beer for, said that it was for his own personal use. Some friends of his, he said, were going away and he had gone to Moberly to get the beer for a "little party."

He denied the statement that these were three boxes of money in the building near the bottles. He corroborated Williams' statements and said that Williams knew nothing of the whisky in the back room since he had no key.

Izora will probably appeal the case as usual.

In addition to this case, there are three cases of the state against Jackson on the liquor question yet to be tried.

ASSESSMENTS UP 20 PER CENT

Board of Equalization Adds $373,000, 000 to Valuation in State.

Personal property and real estate values in Missouri were hiked 20 per cent yesterday by the State Board of Equalization. The increase is $373,120,464. The action is said to have resulted from a compromise between the Democratic members of the board and Governor Gardner, who has stood heretofore in favor of a full valuation of all property.

Members of the board who voted for the increase are Attorney General McAllister, Secretary of State John L. Sullivan and State Treasurer George Middelkamp. They placed the total assessment of two classes of property at $2,271,205,994. The assessment of the same three members of the board last year was $1,898,085,530.

State Auditor Hackmann was not present at the meeting of the board. "I will be recorded as voting 'no,'" Governor Gardner said.

Bank stock was increased from 50 to 60 cents on the dollar. It has been assessed for many years at 50 cents.

In the state the increase on land is $120,765,444 and on town lots $121,921,361. Other increases in personal property were: Horses, $6,285,781; mules, $4,404,322; cattle, $19,314,751; hogs, $11,477,760; money, notes and bonds, $37,487,153; bank stock, $15,524,940; other personal property, $30,937,719.

The three members of the board followed their course of one year ago and paid no attention whatever to the values of the State Tax Commission. In general, they increased their own valuations of last year 20 per cent this year.

Members of the board expressed the opinion that the increased valuation will add sufficient taxes to the state revenue to meet all the demands created by the Legislature, as the appropriations were revised by Governor Gardner.

651 ENROLL IN M. U.

Registration Day for Summer Term Sees Gay Crowd of Students.

Late this afternoon 651 students had enrolled for the summer term. Of this number, 306 were in the University in the spring term.

Today was registration day for the summer term in the University. In the corridor of Academic Hall was an intricate maze of tables, adorned with typewriters, and a number of busy manipulators and dispensers of information. Much literature and typewritten directions exchanged hands.

Groups of coatless men stood in line with gaily dressed school-teachers and told their vacation-bound friends "so long." It was a gayer and more flip-pant crowd than usual, in attire and attitude, that stood, pushed, jostled and tapped their toes to the click of the Underwoods.

The registration workers were more numerous this time than last term. Fourteen tables were used in the corridor of Academic Hall for new students alone. Assistants occupied three tables in the reading room in giving out study cards to last-term students.

At one of the tables sat Misses Ruth Rumsey and Stella Gartman with badges bearing the inscription, "Big Sister, Ask Me," upon their arms. They were assisting freshman girls in entering up.

A slightly different system of registration is used this time than formerly. Receipts for payment of fees are made out as they are paid. Formerly they were made out and waiting, while students arranged themselves in alphabetical lines and went by for them. This was a waste of time and material, for many of the former students did not register. Registration workers say the new system is about as fast as the old.

At the Library Building the deans and professors, in palm beach suits, ironed out the troubles of the credit hunters. It was here that the connection of an electric fan became poor and began sparking, sizzling and shooting off fireworks. No one seemed to be bothered, which only proved that the summer term enrollment contains no element of skittishness.

The convention decided to use every effort to have the government resume its building program.

TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN SOUTH AMERICA

New Spanish Teacher at M. U. Spent Seven Years in Argentina.

U. S. CHANCES GOOD

But European Nations Have Lead in Commercial Race, He Says.

W. J. Burner, who will have charge of the Spanish courses in the University in the summer term, is a specialist on South American history. He was in Argentina from 1905 until 1912.

Mr. Burner says Buenos Aires, the capital, controls the country through a strong national government.

"Buenos Aires is the largest city in the world south of the equator," he said. "It is the largest Spanish-speaking city in the world. A third of the inhabitants there are Italians. 'I was never in Old Mexico except to hurry across the bridge. People who go there may never come back. I was in New Mexico seven or eight months. I once fell in with a band of Villasta soldiers and had a pleasant half-hour conversation with them.'"

Mr. Burner says that there are 250,000 Spaniards in New Mexico, which makes this state predominantly Spanish speaking. Court proceedings there are conducted in both languages. All English is immediately translated into Spanish. Newspaper are published in both languages from the same offices.

Good Chance for Trade.

"America's chance for South American trade is excellent, if the Americans will go after it. Rubber and coffee are South America's great exports into the United States. But we must hurry, for the European countries have the start on us," says Mr. Burner.

According to Mr. Burner, the Bank of France has enormous real estate holdings in the Latin-American countries. London banks too, are in evidence, showing that the English footing is strong. Germans though numerous are not more popular than the Americans or the English. They speak the language better before going there and they have cheaper goods. The French and Italians adapt themselves more readily.

"Before the war the French, Germans and English had the greatest foothold in South American trade. South American countries are all borrowing countries. The United States is now the money lending nation," added Mr. Burner with a significant smile.

No Psychological Barriers.

"It is foolish to think that the American and Latin types of mind are incompatible. The Americans can get along if they want to," is the opinion of Mr. Burner.

Mr. Burner thinks that the man who would make a fortune in South America would also make one here. There are great resources there, he says, but they are undeveloped and the secker must undergo hardships. The man who is willing to go and stick may make millions.

Mr. Burner will not return to South America any time soon. He will spend his time teaching in this country instead. Last winter he taught Spanish at the Missouri Military Academy at Mexico, Mo., where he held the rank of captain.

HEADS LIBRARY CONFERENCE

H. O. Severance to Be Chairman of Camp Workers.

Special to the Missourian.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Henry O. Severance, Assistant to the Director, Library War Service, will serve as chairman of the Round Tables on Libraries in Army and Navy camps at the Conference of the American Library Association at Asbury Park, N. J., June 23-27.

Mr. Severance is on leave of absence from the University of Missouri Library, Columbia, and is in charge of libraries in the large and small camps. The Library Service in these camps which furnishes well organized collections of vocational and technical books, as well as books for recreation, has proved of such high value to the army, that the War Department is considering plans for utilizing the services of trained librarians after Peace is signed.

Much of the A. L. A. Conference session this year will be devoted to discussion of the problems and experiences of Library War Service and of the increased demand for public library service which has arisen in consequence of the war work.

The aid which libraries and reading have rendered in maintaining the morale of the army will be described by Brigadier-General E. L. Munson, Chief of the Morale Branch of the Army General Staff, and Frederick P. Keppel, Third Assistant Secretary of War.

Problems of reconstruction will also be considered, such as a survey of the field of Library service with the purpose of improving existing work and establishing new service where needed. The demands made upon libraries by the work of Americanization and of vocational guidance and education will receive attention.

REGIMENT'S HISTORY COMPLETE

M. U. Man Busy on Volume About 353d Infantry.

Tucked away in a forgotten corner in Memorial Building, Topeka, Kan., the historian of the 353d Infantry is preparing a book which will be one of the prized volumes in the collection of historical societies of Kansas and Missouri. Copies of this book will be the prized possession of 5,000 men who have been at one time or another during the war a part of the 353d.

Charles F. Dienst, formerly captain of the headquarters company of the 353d Infantry and operations officer for the regiment, is official regimental historian. He was discharged from the army May 24 and is said to have the distinction of being one of the few officers whose return to civilian life brought with it no threat of violence from former men of his command. Captain Dienst, whose home is at Alexandria, Mo., was principal of the University High School here in 1915-17.

The "History of the 353d Infantry" is to be published under the direction of the 353d Infantry society, the permanent peace-time club of the regiment, organized while the regiment was in Germany as a part of the Army of Occupation.

As outlined by Captain Dienst, the book will include short personal sketches of various men in the command. The history proper will begin with the organization at Camp Funston.

It will deal with all of the activities of the regiment before its departure for overseas. The activities of the regiment in France in the battle line are recorded in three parts, each part being the history of a separate battalion, written by battalion historians.

The book will be illustrated with photographs made on the battlefields by Captain Carl G. Esdes, regimental intelligence officer. In the appendix will appear the roster of the regiment, including every man who at any time was a part of the regiment.

PARIS, June 20 (3:30 p. m.).—Creation of a new German cabinet to replace the fallen Scheidemann ministry is under way at Weimar today, it was stated in dispatches received here. The personnel of the new cabinet was expected to be revealed tonight.

The new cabinet was expected to assume office already pledged to advocate acceptance of the peace treaty. Party caucuses of the Majority Socialists and the Centrists, controlling the coalition which dominates the National Assembly, have already voted in favor of the acceptance.

Conflicting reports were received regarding the successor of Chancellor Scheidemann. Among those named were Gustave Noske, present war minister; Mathias Erzberger, chairman of the German armistice commission, and Hermann Mueller, one of the Majority Socialist leaders.

The resignation of the cabinet came at 1 o'clock this morning, following a long conference in which Chancellor Scheidemann and Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantzau were reported to have been bitterly opposed to the signing of the treaty.

By CARL D. GROAT (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WEIMAR, June 19 (night).—The present German cabinet has definitely decided to resign and make room for a new ministry that can sign the peace treaty, according to authoritative information obtained here tonight.

The new cabinet, it is said, will place itself officially on record as favoring the acceptance of the terms, so that Friday's session of the National Assembly, scheduled to make the final decision on the peace treaty, would probably be merely for ratification of the new cabinet's decision.

Either War Minister Noske or Hermann Mueller is expected to head the new ministry.

The old cabinet is said to stand 8 to 7 against signing the peace treaty.
