

ROBBED OF CLOTHES TO AMOUNT OF $215

Burglars Enter Dana Press Club House While Students Are Out.

ENTER ONLY 1 ROOM

Police Arrest Negro But Release Him—Rides in "Black Maria."

L. D. Potter and Truman Witt, students in the University from whom $215 worth of personal property was stolen, have virtually given up hopes of recovery of the articles. The police, however, are still working on the case.

The property was taken late Tuesday from the Dana Press Club at 718 Maryland place, where Potter, Witt and other members of the club, are living this summer. Potter estimates his loss at $115. The articles stolen from him were: A blue suit, a pair of white serge trousers, a pair of low-cut shoes, several neckties, other small articles of apparel and a camera. Property stolen from Witt, valued at $100, was: A blue flannel suit, three shirts, a number of collars and neckties, other apparel, a new black leather traveling bag and a safety razor.

The men believe the robbery took place during the storm Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock, as it is not likely that the thief would have been seen at that time. None of the men who live at the house were there from 2 o'clock that afternoon until 9:30 that night.

Potter went to the house first, but the robbery was not discovered until Witt returned. He saw three coat-hangers lying on a bed in the room and went to the clothes closet to see why they had been taken from it. It was then he found that all the contents of the closet, except Potter's military uniform, had been taken. The drawers of a bureau in the room had been ransacked. Apparently only the one room was entered.

The police were notified of the robbery as soon as it was discovered. Milton Moss, a negro, was arrested that night, according to the chief of police, and held two or three days, but was released because of lack of evidence.

He was the first passenger to ride in the "Black Maria." Moss had been employed in residences near the Dana Press Club.

DRIVE ON UNTIL SATURDAY

Salvation Army Quota Not Reached Yet—Last Extension.

The Salvation Army drive, which was supposed to have closed last week is still on, according to Sidney Rollins, chairman for the campaign in Boone County.

Mr. Rollins thinks that perhaps half the quota has been reached. The original quota assigned by the St. Louis office was $3,200. This was later found to be too high. Mr. Rollins hopes that the amount collected will total at least $2,000.

The county districts are coming in slowly with their contributions. The farmers have been busy with the harvest and there has been no way to hurry things up. Rollins says that he has been letting the campaign take its own gradual course.

"If Columbia would come up with the collections in the county districts, the campaign would be coming nicely. Except at the picnic July Fourth, there has been no active campaign in Columbia," he said.

The University students and faculty have not been active. Collections here are in charge of Dr. Carl C. Taylor of the sociology department.

"The Salvation Army drive will positively end Saturday night," said the chairman. At that time the report will be sent to the St. Louis headquarters.

PAUL E. HOGAN DIES; MURDER IS CHARGED

Death of Former Columbia Factory Manager Follows Party in Chicago.

HURT LAST MONDAY

Wife Charges Night Clerk With Deed—Exonerated by Coroner, However.

Paul E. Hogan, former superintendent of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe factory in Columbia, died Saturday in the Garfield Park Hospital in Chicago, while a physician was preparing to take an X-ray photograph of Hogan's head to determine if he had suffered a skull fracture during a row in a Chicago hotel last Monday night.

Hogan was 32 years old. He was superintendent of the local factory from 1914 to 1916, going from here to St. Louis.

The row at the Chicago hotel followed a party there, according to the Chicago police, who are seeking a clerk at the hotel as Hogan's assistant. Hogan, the clerk and two other men spent several hours in conversation in the hotel Monday night. During that time refreshments were served.

William H. Stute, night clerk of the hotel, was arrested late Saturday night on a warrant attested by Mrs. Hogan, charging him with the death of her husband. The coroner exonerated Stute after hearing the testimony of C. Osteragel, another member of Hogan's party.

Osteragel said that Hogan had been drinking and that he stumbled in getting into a taxicab when they left the hotel. Stute denied having struck Hogan. He will be arraigned this week, however, on the charge preferred by Mrs. Hogan.

TO NAME ARCHITECT

Attempt Will Be Made Tomorrow If Meeting Can Be Called.

It is probable that an attempt will be made tomorrow to choose the architect for the Boone County public hospital. N. T. Gentry, secretary of the board, called the members today and if they can meet tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, discussion will be held for the purpose of choosing one of the four architects who have been in Columbia in the past three months with plans for the new $100,000 hospital to be located on East Broadway.

The following is a list of the architects with the hospitals that they have planned: C. E. Shepard, Kansas City, three hospitals in Kansas City, one in Emporia, Kan., one in Wichita, Kan., and one in Marshall, Mo.; Louis Abt, Moberly, hospitals at Kirksville, Moberly and Booneville; Ben C. Elliott, Mexico, and W. O. Mathews, Chicago, architects for the new $120,000 county hospital at Mexico.

As soon as the architect is chosen, he will go to work on the plans for the hospital.

MAY SOON CONSIDER TREATY

Hitchcock Suggests Committee See President When Necessary.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The Senate foreign relations committee paved the way for discussion of the Peace Treaty today by ordering favorable reports bearing on the treaty.

Consideration of the treaty itself was not begun. It is expected that that will begin tomorrow.

A resolution was ordered reported which requests that President Wilson make public a letter written opposing the Shantung settlement by members of the United States peace delegation. The Lafollette resolution was also ordered reported asking information about the reported invasion of Costa Rica by Nicaragua and why Costa Rica was not permitted to sign the Peace Treaty.

Senator Hitchcock today informed the committee that President Wilson had communicated to him his reiteration of readiness to help the committee.

Hitchcock suggested that the committee go to the White House when it finds it necessary to consult with the President. No action was taken on Hitchcock's suggestion.

SEWER PROPOSITION TO COUNCIL TONIGHT

Chairman of Committee Will Recommend $135,000 Bond Issue.

TO LAY NEW MAINS

Five Disposal Plants Will Have to Be Built Because of Topography.

The street and sewer committee of the City Council will recommend to the council tonight the ordering of a bond election to vote $135,000 for building and repairing Columbia sewers and disposal plants in accordance with the report submitted by Dean E. J. McCaustland and John Silver, city engineer. W. B. Nowell, chairman of the committee said today.

The report was made last week after a careful survey of the city and its needs. At that time Mr. Nowell asked that no action be taken until this week because of minor details which had not been worked out.

Cannot Order Special Election Now.

The council cannot order a special election tonight. It is thought, however, that it will adopt the recommendation made by the committee and will order the election at the next regular meeting, next Monday night. This will bring the election about the middle of next month, provided there is nothing to hold the proceedings up.

"Dean McCaustland's estimate of $135,000 is sufficient for everything," Mr. Nowell said this morning. "It allows for repairing the present sewer system, laying mains throughout the city and building disposal plants to care for the city's sewage for many years to come. I am willing to recommend a special election for the figure he estimates."

The present sewer system is in an unsatisfactory condition, investigation has revealed. Considerable money must be spent on repairing the system.

Present System Poor.

"If the bond issue carries, Columbia will soon have as good a sewer system as any city in the United States," Mr. Nowell said this morning. "We are working to that end and are going far enough in advance so that the plan will be ample for the city's growth in population for many years. As it is now we have as poor a sewer system as any city having a system at all."

Dean McCaustland's estimate of $135,000 includes: Outlet mains, 12-inch, 12,000 feet, cost $24,000; 10-inch mains, 5,000 feet, cost $8,500; laterals, 8-inch, 12,000 feet, cost $18,000 and treatment plants, cost $84,000.

The topography of Columbia is such that five disposal plants will be necessary in five different sections of the city. The outlet of the present sewer is large enough to care for sewage of a city of 20,000 persons, but the topography will not permit sewage to reach it from all parts of the city.

A Septic Tank to Be Built.

A septic tank with a filter will be added to the present outlet. Just what sort of disposal plants will be installed at the four other outlets will be determined when the conditions that may arise are more apparent.

Mains will be laid throughout the city, according to the plans of the committee. This will allow persons living in sections of the city where sewers are not used now to obtain connections with the system when they so desire.

WILSON TO START JULY 23rd

Tentative Plans for President's Tour Make Cincinnati the First Stop.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The announcement of President Wilson's itinerary in the tour of the country in the interests of the League of Nations will be made public sometime this week.

According to the President's tentative plans, he will start from Washington, July 23. He will possibly not visit New York or New England. Cincinnati will be the first stop, according to present plans.

WHISKY SCARCE IN COLUMBIA

Even Druggists Have No Instruction to Sell on Prescriptions.

"The only way to get any whisky now is to borrow it from some of your friends."

This is the encouraging bit of information that one hears lately. Since July 1, it seems that no one in Columbia has had even as much as a smell of whisky unless he has some friend who was foresighted enough to lay in a supply and is generous enough to part with a drop or two.

Druggists in Columbia say that they have received no instructions from the federal government authorizing them to sell whisky on prescription and until they do so no whisky can be obtained even if you have a dozen prescriptions. Instructions regulating the sale by prescription will be obtained from George W. Moore, federal internal revenue office in St. Louis. Druggists have written to him regarding the matter, but no word has been received as yet.

Articles in some of the trade journals indicate that doctors will be furnished with prescription blanks for the sale of whisky by the government.

SPEAKS FOR LEAGUE

Senator Swanson Says United States Is Safeguarded in Article 10.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The keynote of the administration's defense of the League of Nations was sounded today in a speech by Senator Swanson of Virginia.

"The plan which requires the confirmation of the United States for any action is an absolute guaranty to this Nation."

Swanson answered in detail every objection to the League covenant. In each case he pointed to the provision that each decision of the council must be by unanimous vote, including that of the United States. After the council has agreed, Congress has power to refuse America's participation, Swanson declared.

He first answered the objection to Article 10.

"The interest of the United States is happily safeguarded under this article," he said.

"No general plan of disarmament can be drawn up without our consent. No general plan can be presented without our consent. No obligation can be imposed on us without the approval of Congress, which has power to raise armies."

"Article 10, the storm center of the country, is necessary for peace. It is necessary for all nations to abstain from wars of conquest. It imposes no obligation upon us.

"The Monroe Doctrine is as expressly recognized as is possible.

Replying to Elihu Root's objection that the covenant does not provide strong enough machinery for arbitration, Swanson said that Articles 12 and 13 are a long step forward in international arbitration and will reduce friction between nations by providing for a cooling-off period after disputes arise.

As further proof of the safeguard of American interests Swanson pointed out the provisions for amendment of the League covenant, and for withdrawal if not satisfied.

He urged senators to give the League a trial, at least.

Then, Swanson said, we can return to a policy of nationalism, if we so desire.

Last-minute conferences of both Democrats and Republicans left no doubt that the opponents to the League will base their fight for reservations to the treaty on a modification of Elihu Root's program, suggesting reservation on four points, Article 10, the Monroe Doctrine, immigration and withdrawal from the League.

Senator Johnson of California filed with the foreign relations committee a resolution which he will call up tomorrow asking that there be transferred to the committee all drafts and forms of the League of Nations as finally adopted. He will speak particularly the forms and drafts prepared and presented by the delegates of the United States and also all proceedings, arguments and debates relating to the League presented by the delegation from the United States. All proceedings, rules and data used in connection with the treaty with the Germans are sought.

Day France Dreamed of Since Defeat of 1870 Realized.

20,000 IN PARADE

All Commanders In Line—Pershing Heads Doughboys.

By United Press.

PARIS, July 14.—France swept aside the accumulation of half a century's bitterness in the greatest celebration in her history in the victory parade of thousands of people today in Paris. Paris cheered twenty thousand French soldiers.

TODAY FRENCH HOLIDAY.

Today France celebrates. On July 14, 1789, the Bastille, a castle built by Charles V, king of France, which later became the state prison where venal monarchs threw their enemies without pretense of trial, was pulled down by the populace. The governor and other officers were conducted to the Place de Greve; their heads and hands were cut off; and the heads carried on pikes through the streets of Paris.

The French government later officially designated July 14 as the day when all France should celebrate her delivery from the power of tyranny.

sand Allied veterans who were in a five-mile march through the city. It was a day France had awaited since her crushing defeat in 1870 by the Prussians.

At 11 o'clock Marshals Foch and Joffre drove by the Arch of Triumph. Behind the French commanders was an army of doughboys headed by Generals Pershing and Harbord. Behind the Americans came the delegations of all the other Allied nations, the larger nations represented by regiments, the others by color guards. Field Marshal Haig rode at the head of the British contingent.

France had by far the largest representation. Every district in the country as well as every branch of the army was represented. Generals Petain, Mangin, Humbert, Geraud and other French military leaders were in line. Preceding Foch and Joffre a group of girls from Alsace and Lorraine scattered flowers from all parts of the republic.

FINED IN LIQUOR CASE

Negro Physician Pleads Guilty—Plumber Sentenced to Two Years.

J. W. Patterson, negro physician, was fined $200 in court today on the charge of giving an illegal prescription for intoxicating liquor. Ed Brewitt testified he went to the doctor's office last November and told him that he had a bad cold and was afraid of catching influenza. The doctor gave him a prescription calling for a quart of whisky. Between November 1 and 18 last year six similar prescriptions were given to him.

On two other charges of giving illegal prescriptions a plea of guilty was entered and Doctor Patterson was fined $50 on each charge. Four other cases against him were continued to a later date.

Nathan A. King, a former Columbia plumber, pleaded guilty in court today to four charges of violating the local option law. He was sentenced to six months in jail on each charge.

Eight other cases against him were dismissed. An application for a parole was filed with Judge Harris, who will pass on it tomorrow.

Reed Canton, negro, was sentenced by Judge Harris today to ten years in the state penitentiary. His case was appealed to the Supreme Court and he was released today on $5,000 bond pending a decision from that court.
