ROAD REPAIR TAX TOO SMALL

I. A. Hudson Says, "No Relief for Boone County Roads."

"No relief for the roads in Boone County Special Road District," is the opinion of I. A. Hudson, district road commissioner.

There are about thirty miles of hard surfaced roads and one hundred miles of dirt roads to keep in repair. Since the direct tax, about $14,000, is all that is allowed the district for repair expense, the total cost of repairing one mile of road work was approximately $13,000. It is easily seen just where matters stand as regards good roads, according to Mr. Hudson.

The State Highway Commission is holding up the allotted $1200 a mile for the old Trails road upkeep, until the district commission completes a contract entitling the expenditure of about $11,600 in a three mile stretch. This contract can not be completed owing to the lack of funds caused by unbalanced distribution of county revenues, says Mr. Hudson.

Mr. Hudson intends to present an amendment to the State Legislature in a short time which he thinks will solve the problem of the road funds distribution and thereby better the condition of Boone County roads.

VETS CHANGE PICNIC GROUND

Reunion to Be on Judge Stewart's Property Instead of Evans Park.

TO PARADE AT 1:30

Speakers, Athletic Events, Barbecue and Sham Battle to Feature Program.

The reunion picnic to be given by the local posts of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars next Saturday, will be held on the Judge Stewart property on West Broadway, west of Garth avenue in place of Evans Park, according to a statement of the grounds committee this morning.

The picnic, to which all former service men are invited, will start with a parade at 1:30 o'clock. Led by the Columbia Concert Band the parade will march from Broadway and College avenue to the grounds. Included in the procession will be Legion members and Veterans of Foreign Wars, a military detachment, some field pieces and four various kinds. Prizes of $50 and $25 will be offered for the best two floats.

The program at the grounds will start with a number of addresses and a musical program by the band. The speakers include Congressman William H. Nelson, of Columbia; Col. Ruby D. Garrett, of Kansas City; Col. John N. Parker, of St. Louis; Dean F. R. Mumford, of the College of Agriculture; Sid Roach, Republican nominee for Congress in this district; and Hiram Lloyd, Republican candidate for lieutenant-governor.

John M. Atkinson, Democratic candidate for governor, and Arthur M. Hayes, Republican candidate for governor will not speak as was previously reported.

The remainder of the afternoon will be taken up with field and athletic events, in which everyone will be asked to take part. At 6 o'clock a picnic supper will be spread, ending with a barbecue. One of the features of the program will be a sham battle, in which two companies of infantry aided by some machine guns and field pieces will fight a mimic battle. Capt. Lloyd Jones has offered to furnish the cannon and machine guns for the event.

The program will end with dancing on two floors provided to accommodate the crowds. One floor will be devoted to square dancing, and the other to round dancing.

Although the picnic has been arranged by the Herbert Williams Post of the American Legion and the Robert Gram Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the reunion is not limited to members of these two posts. There are no immediate prospects of Governor Gardner calling an extra session of the Legislature, says a dispatch from Jefferson City. He considers that the equal suffrage question has been finally disposed of and that no additional legislation is required in this state to enable the women to register in the large cities and vote at the November election.

WOMEN IN STATE MAY VOTE

No Additional Legislation Is Necessary, Says Governor.

There are no immediate prospects of Governor Gardner calling an extra session of the Legislature, says a dispatch from Jefferson City. He considers that the equal suffrage question has been finally disposed of and that no additional legislation is required in this state to enable the women to register in the large cities and vote at the November election.

"So far as women voting at the approaching election is concerned, the attorney general of Missouri holds that no legislation by the state is necessary, and I notice that ex-President Taft has expressed virtually the same views. Prior to the adoption of the amendment to the Constitution enabling slaves to vote, most of the southern states had provisions in their constitution under which only qualified white citizens could vote. The amendment automatically repealed these constitutional provisions, just as the eighteenth amendment has repealed the provisions of the Missouri constitution limiting the ballot to male citizens possessing certain requirements."

Speaking on the same subject relative to the status of women voters, the attorney general said that there is evidently some question as to the eligibility of women to act as judges and clerks of justice.

"The eighteenth amendment does not reach the question of the eligibility of women to serve as judges and clerks of justice," the attorney general said. "It merely confers the right of suffrage upon them and the question of eligibility of judges and clerks is left to statutory regulation. I am looking up this question at the present time, as it has been brought to my attention by the election officials of Kansas City. I am told that the election law applicable to Kansas City would enable women to act as judges and clerks of election. As soon as I have had time to thoroughly investigate the subject I will publish an opinion."

CORN CROP BIG

State Report Indicates Production Will Be More Than 2,000,000,000 Bushels.

The prospective yield of corn in Missouri this year is more than two hundred million bushels, according to the September crop report issued today by the secretary of the State Board of Agriculture and the United States Crop Estimate Bureau. This means an average yield of 32 3/4 bushels per acre on approximately six and a half million acres. Frost earlier than October 15 would probably lower this corn yield.

The report shows that the total wheat crop in Missouri this year is 29,350,000 bushels, or a yield of 12 1/2 bushels per acre on 2,348,000 acres. Advances estimates indicate an increase of 30 per cent in the wheat acreage will be made this fall.

MISSIONARY DEFENDS BRITISH RULE AND ACTIONS IN INDIA

"The people who talk against what the British government is doing in India are wrong. After spending twenty six years there as a missionary, I know what I am talking about, and I can never say anything but good about the way the government treats the people."

Miss Lily Dexter Greene, who is visiting her brother, Dr. C. W. Greene, of the University faculty, then went on to tell of the splendid schools, railways, telephone and telegraph systems, and the postal system maintained in India by the British government.

Miss Greene is a teacher in a girls' boarding school at Lahore, India, the town made famous by Rudyard Kipling. During the recent trouble there, which was caused, she says, by German propagandists, the British government protected British and natives alike, a thing which all nations might not have done.

In Miss Greene's school there are ninety pupils, the maximum the school has capacity for, ranging in age from kindergartners up to students ready to begin school. These girls live at the school from October to August each year and are taught in the Indian vernacular. They are taught also to sew and to cook and really live in a gigantic home economics practice house, as they do all the housework themselves. All the training is in doing things the Indian way, but with American ideals of cleanliness and order.

The girls in the school wear coarse clothing made in native style by the girls themselves and eat two meals daily of native food.

Miss Greene is now on her third furlough during the twenty-six years. She will be in this country for eighteen months or perhaps two years, and will spend the majority of the time in the East, where she will take post-graduate work in Sanskrit.

THE SHOWME OUT OCTOBER 2

Debut Number of Comic Monthly Magazine Being Prepared.

The first number of the Showme, a comic-monthly magazine to be published by students in the University, will be issued Saturday, October 2. The staff is now working on material for the issue, which is to be called The Debut Number.

A campaign to secure subscriptions among University students will be conducted by members of the business staff of the magazine Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week.

The magazine's staff is divided into two boards known as the editing board and the managing board. The members of the editing board are: George Condit, Gerald Perry, Frank Houston, Harry Mann and Archie Rodgers.

Emil Nathan as business manager, Taylor Harney as advertising manager, and Ernest Garth as assistant advertising manager will compose the managing board.

The Herald-Statesman Publishing Company will print the magazine. Members of the printing board will have charge of the art work, and a contract will be made with an engraving firm in Kansas City to handle the engraving work.

The average size of the magazine will be forty pages. The cover, as well as a portion of the advertising, will be printed in color.

Although the Showme will be at first published by an independent organization of students, efforts will be made to make it a University publication. Contributions will be received from any student in the University. The staff plans to make the magazine a permanent activity of the University.

The Showme will be purely humorous with the exception that it will contain a department featuring Missouri athletes. A large portion of the magazine will be devoted to cartoons and illustrations. No professional artists will be employed; the art work will all be produced by students.

ITALY SUFFERS

Number of Casualties 300,000—Half a Million Homeless.

ROME, Sept. 9.—The number of casualties here in the earthquake district is still unknown. According to the meager reports which come in from isolated districts the number of casualties has already increased to approximately three hundred. All indications are that this number will be doubled by the time complete figures have been obtained.

The number of injured runs into the thousands. Between 500,000 and 750,000 persons are estimated to be homeless in the entire district which is affected by the several shocks.

Another shock has been reported in the Genoa district.

COX CONSIDERS U. S. A QUITTER

Says America Will Not Prosper Until She Is Trusted.

ELAMES THE SENATE

Other Nations Cannot Get to Work Before Peace Is Settled.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 9.—"The United States is looked upon as a nation of quitters from the League of Nations," said Governor James M. Cox, here today in the second of his speeches which he is to deliver in the state of Montana.

"America cannot enter upon a period of prosperity until she has removed the hate and distrust which is held against her by the other nations of the world. America is looked upon as a selfish nation and one which is satisfied with its plenty, one which is willing to sit by in idleness and watch the other nations of the earth starve," Governor Cox went on to say.

He declared that the other nations of the earth, who would not even pay the interest on their debt to us, could not get down to work until the terms of peace had been definitely settled. He said that the United States must join the thirty-eight nations who have already ratified their signatures to the articles of peace.

Hooser was unanimously passed to the effect that the students of the School of Journalism extend an invitation to the National Editorial Association to hold its 1922 convention at Columbia during Journalism Week of that year. This invitation could be extended through the Missouri Press Association which meets at St. Louis next week. Dean Williams and E. W.
