

R. Y. P. U. PLANS WORK

Membership Campaign Will Be Launched Soon

Fourteen members were present at a cabinet meeting of the R. Y. P. U. held at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The Rev. T. W. Young introduced S. C. Redford, who has just been appointed by the state board of the Baptist Church to the position of student secretary in Columbia. The meeting was held to plan the semester's devotional and social program. A membership campaign is to be launched soon with the aim of raising the present membership of 90 to 150.

It was decided to have a Bible reader's course for R. Y. P. U. members to be followed by a quiz in the form of a "Sunday baseball" game. Plans to help some of the small country churches near Columbia and to do social service work in Columbia were considered.

As many members as can go will be appointed delegates to the Central Missouri convention of the R. Y. P. U. to be held Saturday and Sunday at Mexico.

The R. Y. P. U. will give a wienie roast Friday evening, meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 5 o'clock. The slogan for the evening is, "No Date Required." Probably three more socials will be given during the semester. It was planned to make ringing a feature of at least one social.

The R. Y. P. U. has no standing committee. The chairman of each committee chooses new workers for every occasion, so that all the membership may have a part in the work of the organization.

HELLO DAY IS APPROACHING

Want Influence of Event to Prevail All Year

Hello Day approaches. On Friday every student will be expected to greet every other student he meets. "But we hope to make it more than a Hello Day," said Fred Eldean, student president, today. "We expect to arrange in some way for the students not only to greet each other in passing but to become really acquainted as well. We want the influence of Hello Day to prevail throughout the rest of the year. Out of it, we expect to see more friendliness and good will prevail among the student body as a whole."

H. B. Center at Boston, Not Texas

That Harry B. Center was dean of the School of Journalism of the University of Texas was a statement in Monday's Missouriian. The statement was an error. It is Boston University that has the good fortune to have Mr. Center as its dean.

Mrs. Rose Lee Lisenby, the new dean at Christian College, has been advised of the junior class there for two years. She is professor of English. She is also adviser of the honorary sorority of the school, Phi Theta Kappa. Miss Lisenby received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at the University of Chicago. GOLF COURSE TO BE READY NEXT MONTH

Greens and Fairways Under Way—Materials for Club House Construction Are Now on Grounds.

GROUND IS CLEARED

To Have Woodpile of Every Kind of Wood to Feed Four Fireplaces in Clubhouse.

The Country Club site is beginning to take on the appearance of a golf course. The fairways have all been cleared, the greens have been constructed and the tees are ready for the first golfer to try them out. General work is going on all over the course, cleaning away obstructions and cutting out the few weeds which are growing there.

The site for the clubhouse is laid out and a great part of the first materials needed in its construction are on the grounds. The drive from Hinkson avenue to the club has been marked out and the fences removed to allow for its construction. Work on all phases of the new club is progressing rapidly and it is predicted by Jerry McAlester that by Thanksgiving work will be well under way on the clubhouse, and the golf course will be in really good condition. The fairways, which run out in a fan-shaped course from the clubhouse site, have all been opened up. Trees which were in the way have been removed and the grass has been raked and cut. In only a few places is the condition of the turf in bad shape and in these places the ground has been re-dressed and the grass replanted. Most of the fairways are in fair condition to be used now although they will not be used until they have had a great deal more work, put in on them.

FRENCH LIBRARY ON EXHIBIT

H. O. Severance Bought the Flach Collection of 6,000 Books.

H. O. Severance, University librarian, bought the Flach library, which was the private collection of Prof. G. Jacques Flach, a French jurist and historian, when he was in Paris last year. This library is now on exhibition for members of the faculty in the south stacks of the reading room floor of the library. Some of the rare books are on exhibits in cases in the faculty room, which is open from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Professor Flach has been professor of comparative legislation since 1884 in the College de France, and professor of comparative law in the Ecole des Sciences Politiques since 1887. He made a study of the most diverse civilizations, including Russia, Japan and the antiquities of Babylon and other Asiatic countries to qualify himself for these positions. His chief efforts were concentrated on the history of ancient French law and his principal work was Les Origines de l'ancienne France in three volumes. He was a native of Strassburg and his collection is rich in historical and descriptive works on Alsace-Lorraine, comprising 400 volumes.

EXCHANGE RATES TO VARY

Continuation of Fluctuation Predicted by B. M. Anderson Jr.

Dr. B. M. Anderson of the Chase National Bank of New York City, son of B. M. Anderson of Columbia, in a speech before the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers in New Hampshire last week pointed out the prospect of continued violent fluctuations in the exchange rates made inevitable by the abandonment of the gold standard in Europe. Dr. Anderson said in part: "The one sure prediction that can be made regarding foreign exchange rates for the next few months is that they will fluctuate over a wide range, and this will be true of certain of the Asiatic exchanges as well as the European exchanges, since the Indian and Chinese rates are intimately connected with fluctuation in the price of silver. Consequently, the exporter or importer, who makes contracts covering any period of time involving payments or receipts in foreign moneys, must recognize that he is speculating in a highly hazardous market."

In addition to the ordinary commercial risks which he is skilled in meeting, he is taking further exchange risks which are not a part of the normal business of a merchant, and in the gauging of which he has not, as merchants, any special aptitude. This is not to say that there are not a good many exporters and importers who are splendid judges of the exchange markets. Many are. But the majority of exporters and importers are well advised to shift the exchange

BAND TO PLAY BEFORE Y.W.C.A.

Miss Lucy Riggs, Field Secretary, Will Speak at Meeting Thursday.

The University band will make its first appearance this year at the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the University Auditorium. Miss Lucy Riggs, the student secretary for the south central field, will speak.

The three captains and the teams for the coming financial campaign will be present. The captains are Miss Ella Bradley, Miss Corinne Mackey and Miss Pamela Shackelford. There will be thirty girls on each team and the campaign will be carried out on a competitive basis, each team trying to raise the most money.

The campaign will start immediately after the meeting.

"I am delighted with the spirit of enthusiasm and purpose which I find in the Y. W. C. A. of the University of Missouri," said Miss Esther Erickson, financial secretary for the south central field, today.

"The increase which has been made in this year's budget indicates increased activity and the interest shown in setting aside a sum for work in South America shows a larger vision and interest in world activities. The budget as outlined is practical and with the enthusiastic spirit which prevails here I am sure it will be raised with little difficulty.

"This year is one of the most important ones in the history of our organization. On account of the new membership basis, and the industrial standards adopted at the Cleveland Convention, our financial responsibility is greater and it will be necessary to put forth our best efforts this year.

Miss Erickson will return to St. Louis tomorrow. Later in the year she will visit colleges of this field.

COMPLETE ADDRESSES ASSIST

Mail Your Packages Out Between Tuesday and Thursday Noon.

"What would you do?" asked Postmaster L. J. Hall. "If you had to deliver packages and letters without street addresses."

"Lots of people think Columbia is two sizes larger than Halleoille," he complained. Postoffice patrons can render effective service toward prompt and accurate delivery by asking correspondents to write names plainly and to include street addresses.

Mail your packages between Tuesday and Thursday noon if you want them to get home quickly. Mr. Hall says that these days are the slack times of the week as most packages are sent out during the week-end. If all of them are sent out Friday and Saturday, their is great difficulty in prompt and efficient delivery.
