Draw Pay But Do Not Work, Says, by a 1921 Correspondent.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 2.—Senator Will C. Irwin declared Monday in the Senate that there were many members of the state clerical force, now drawing pay, who had never reported for work and that he had prepared a list of their names which included nearly one-third of the clerical force. The senator asked that the Senate order the names turned over to the prosecuting attorney.

One Hundred Nine Men
In whole or in part now earning their way through the University. These men were placed through the employment bureau of the Y. M. C. A. This means in dollars and cents $54,500 to Columbia yearly.
In the past ten years 2,500 men have gone through the University in this same way. This means $1,250,000 to Columbia. This however is the least important.
The enlarged lives of these men, their increased usefulness, the resultant good to Missouri, the nation and the world eternity alone will reveal.
