LAND VALUES ABOUT SAME

Cash Farm Rents in Missouri Still High, Report Shows.

Land values in Missouri remain about the same as last year with a tendency to lower. Little land is changing hands. Cash rents still rule high, according to a report just issued by E. A. Logan, agricultural statistician for Missouri, and Jewell Mayes, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture. The average size of rented farms is 110 acres with the average value of $104 an acre. The average rent is $6 per acre for the farm as a whole and $8 for grain lands rented separately. Reports show renters moving to town because of high rent and some few are reported to have stripped themselves to pay their 1920 rent.

The average value of poor plow land in Missouri is $60, for good plow land $110. The average of all plow land is $87, while land with improvements is priced at $105 and that without at $82. The average price of raw and wholly undeveloped land is $39, which is slightly above the price for 1920, there being a very wide spread in the range of values, from $5 to $75 per acre.

The price of poor plow land in Boone County is $50. Good plow land averages $125 and the average of all plow lands in the county is $95 which is $8 above the average for the state.

Mabel Garrison, Noted Soprano, Sings Tomorrow; Advises Beginners

The first woman to appear this season in the Phi Mu Alpha concert series is Miss Mabel Garrison, soprano, who will sing at the University Auditorium tomorrow evening.

Miss Garrison has the distinction of being the first American coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co. She is described as having a "fine musical intelligence, a deliciously beautiful voice quality and a lovable personality" that make her one of the prominent figures on the stage today. A New York critic asserts that "Miss Garrison's revelation of vocal range and virtuosity, as well as her style and expression in singing, are rare possession for any singer." In the last three years, and especially during the past twelve months, Miss Garrison's prominence as a soloist has increased rapidly.

Along with her achievements as a singer, Miss Garrison has developed a philosophy for those who contemplate careers as professional singers. In a recent issue of Good Housekeeping she says: "Young singers are handicapped by vanity. They listen only to nice things about their voices; real sincere criticism hurts too much."

"Do not place much value in the encouraging and flattering advice of relatives and friends. Nine times out of ten they are not capable judges of musical art. Nor ought a girl who seeks a career to accept the opinion of one teacher as a perfectly sound and correct appraisal of her talents unless the teacher declares a career to be an impossibility. In that event he is probably right. To most people, a fine voice means a fine artist, but judges know that many other attributes are necessary."

In private life Miss Garrison is Mrs. George Siemmon. Her husband, formerly a teacher of piano and composition, will play her accompaniments here. He has composed a long list of songs, some of which Miss Garrison uses on her programs.

The program selected for the concert here is as follows:

I
"Shepherd Thy Demeanour Vary" Brown
"Jeanne (Arranged by Wakerlin)"

College Life is a Dream Life, Not All of It Is Serious.

School spirit is founded upon class spirit. Class spirit must have a binding tie. The Sophomore Cotillion, the Junior Prom and the Senior Ball will be ties that bind the classes in all departments of the University closer together. These activities are a part of the life of every big university in the country. Let Missouri step into the ranks with the rest.

Louis D. Potter stands for the introduction of such activities as mentioned above. Next year he will make them a reality.
