

WAR BREWING IN THE ORIENT

Japan, China and Red Russia Antagonistic—May Hit
United States.

By United Press.
HARRIN, MANCHURIA, March 17.—War is brewing in the Far East—and it may not be without grave import in the United States.

Of course wars of a certain kind are no novelty out here, but the impending conflict promises to go far beyond the less serious affairs the East has come to call wars and which have kept Siberia, Manchuria and China in a constant turmoil for years.

Japan and Red Russia are at each other's throats. The final clash may come at any moment. It may be avoided—sincere patriots in each country are doing their utmost to prevent another Russo-Japanese war. But the outlook is not bright.

The first signs of spring will undoubtedly see a development, one way or the other, in the problem.

General Takayanagi, Japanese chief of staff in Siberia, has admitted the gravity of the situation. He said in an interview that he had heard of plans in Soviet Russia for an attack on the Japanese, but that he did not wish to consider them as authorized. But he added: "Japan is ready."

It is known that the Chita government has received word from Moscow to take a more aggressive stand against Japan and China. Three reasons for this order are apparent.

1.—The closing of the Manchurian border has been a severe blow to the Soviet.

2.—Conditions in Red Russia make the reopening of trade relations with other Eastern nations of vital importance.

3.—Leaders of the Soviet fear the dissolution of the Red army, unless it can be employed in another war.

There are reports that a union is being formed between Ataman Semanoff, Chang Tso-lin, who is probably China's strongest militarist, and the Japanese high command at Mukden. If these stories are correct, a concerted drive against the Reds in Siberia may begin early this spring. Reports have it that Chang Tso-lin has agreed to restore to the Semanoff and Kappel armies the arms and ammunitions which were taken from them when they were driven across the Manchurian border by the victorious Reds.

In the meantime, comparative peace reigns in China. This Southern faction is holding a session of parliament at Canton while the Chihites, who deposed the Anfu military party at Peking, continue their reign in the North. Both have inactive armies in the field.

THANKS TO FRIENDS
We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness shown us during the illness and death of our father.
Also for the beautiful flowers.

YOU HAVE WRITTEN POEMS!
Do you care to have them revised or constructively criticised by successful authors? If you do, then send us your manuscript (stories, articles or poems).
We will criticize, and place them should they prove to be acceptable for publication.

There is no actual charge for our services. If, however, you have not previously enrolled with the advisory department of this association, we request that you enclose the initial fee of two dollars, which we must ask of each new contributor. There is no additional expense, no future obligation.

It must be realized that we can only be of aid to those of serious intent. If you mean to strive for literary success, we can help you in many ways. Our services are yours until we have actually succeeded in marketing at least one of your manuscripts. Send something today!

Please enclose return postage with your communications.

Easter Style Display

A Fascinating Showing of the New Ideas in Suits and Coats

ALL that Fashion has deemed desirable for Easter wear will be found here in a beautiful and complete display of the newest creations.

Variety can truly be called the dominant feature of the week's event—variety of rich new fabrics; in springtime colorings—of novel trimming effects—of distinctive designs—of sizes.

YOUR careful comparison will be more convincing as to the splendid values than any statement we might make.

Come tomorrow if you can. The entire showing is arranged to make your visit agreeable. Included are scores of smart models in the popular Redfern Coats and Suits.

Coats

The Mandarins, the newest of the new coats, as their name implies, take their smart designs from the Orient. Graceful flared lines, new collar ideas, bell sleeves, and striking trimming effects assure their popularity. The new fabrics and shades are utilized to the fullest extent.

The popularity of the Sport Soat is greater than ever. The display includes the very latest developments in this type of coat in wonderful soft plaids, burvellas, camelaires, aganillas, velours and suedetex. The new spring shades of Green, Blue, Tan and Gray are the most pleasing.

If the wardrobe is to be completed, it must contain a Wrap, so fashion says.
We are showing many exclusive styles with a wide range of prices—values that are unusual from $20 to $75

Suits

Perhaps the smartest of the new Suits are the short, jaunty Boxy Suits.
Some are on straight lines; others ripple at the sides, with flat-hanging fronts and backs. Cape backs, attractively trimmed or embroidered, are quite numerous. Wide drape sashes and girdles give to many an air of girlish simplicity.

New features of the Tailored Suits are unusual belt and sleeve effects, buckles to match the buttons, floss stitching, beading, soft roll and standing collars, skirts with novel panel effects. Tricotine and Serge are the most generally favored fabrics.

The entire display of suits is priced extremely low, very special values from

$10 to $75

Women's Smart Spring Frocks

Our showing is made up chiefly of Taffetas, Canton Crepes and Tricotines.
Artistically characterized their designing—and they are excellently adapted for street, afternoon and formal wear. The price is extremely low for so much of quality and modish desirability. The values are very unusual at $19.50 to $65.00.
