SOLDIERS WIN FROM BANKERS

Score Was 14 to 2 in Seventeenth Game of Twilight Series.

Twilight League Standings

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Soldiers	3	0	.1000
Bankers	5	1	.833
Clerks	2	2	.500
Postoffice	2	2	.500
Barbers	1	4	.200
Printers	0	4	.000

With Duncan and Engle relaying on the twirling end, the Soldiers defeated the Bankers last night in the seventeenth game of the Twilight series, 14 to 2.

Duncan, who pitched the initial four innings, allowed the cashiers but one hit, striking out nine men. Engle, who displaced him on the mound in the fifth, was allowing the cashiers to score two runs, allowing for a total of three hits which were coupled with many errors.

Notice on the slab for the Bankers, you'd hard and succeeded in retiring eight troopers during the seven innings. But his support was poor at times which allowed a number of Soldiers to circle the bases.

Francis, Soldier catcher, gave a good exhibition of how a player can stand under a foul tip for several seconds and then miss it.

The Soldiers and the Postoffice will meet on the diamond tonight for a battle royal. Considerable rivalry has developed between the two teams and the Postoffice is out to annex the game.

Quick, star third baseman for the Students, is out with a lame ankle and Bray, pitcher, is out of school for a few days. Marslick will be available on the mound, however.

Batteries for the game last night were: Soldiers: Duncan, Engle and Engle, Francis; Bankers: Norris and Sapp.
