Twelve Business Men

Were gathered around a table recently, discussing a civic problem. A chance remark by one disclosed that the wives of eleven of the twelve habitually bought their meats at the Richards Market. These eleven families were always sure of

"The Best of Everything"

And their insistence on quality is rewarded by knowing that better meats from Richards Market cost no more than ordinary meats.

Tonight, after the show, you will as always find it the natural thing to drop into Harris' for a parfait or sandwiches and a cool drink. You will find most of last year's bunch renewing old acquaintanceships and making new friends in the cool comfort of a Harris Booth.

Then tomorrow morning breakfast at Harris' gives the day a good start. Harris breakfasts are dainty—yet as substantial as you may wish. Harris Waffles have a reputation that reaches beyond Columbia, or Missouri.

And the new student will quickly find that the popularity of Harris' with University students, College girls and towns people is founded on the habit of serving only the best—and of taking infinite pains with the small details that set the better apart from the ordinary.

You, too, will like Harris'.

We are well equipped in every way to take care of your financial needs. Small accounts receive the same careful attention as the larger ones.
