FORMER COACH SHULTE HERE

Says Nebraska's Prospects Are Good for Winning 1922 Track Title.

Signs of spring are far off and all talk of work on the cinder path is being brushed aside by the Tigers on the gridiron.

The former Missouri mentor and coach of Bob Simpson drove into Columbia last night, completing the second lap of his journey from the Michigan lakes.

Schulte spent the day visiting many of his old friends who remember the "Indian" pipe in mouth and hand outstretched. But everywhere the talk turned to track. Schulte used to devote half of his time to the gridiron and the other half to track.

"Nebraska is out to win the valley title again," was Schulte's first message. "We have an unlimited amount of material for a large number of varsity men are expected to return.

Schulte is strong for the valley indoor meet which may be held in Kansas City about March 15. The meet was strongly boosted at the last meeting of the valley conference officials.

"Nebraska will start work with the opening of school," said Schulte. "We will work hard to get in trim for the K. C. A. C. meet in Kansas City, February 25. The Nebraska team will also enter the Illinois relays of March 4."

Ames and Nebraska will hold a dual meet in March. Nebraska will also journey to Lawrence in early spring.

This Time Last Year.

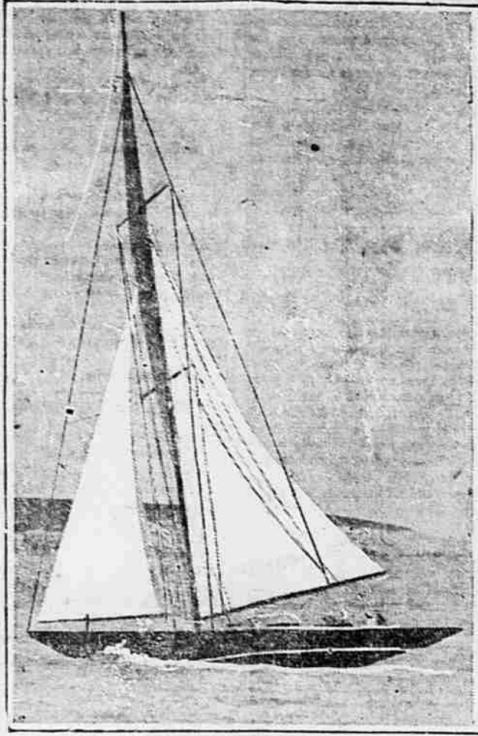

Grimes pitched a four-hit game against the Cubs, Brooklyn winning 5 to 0. Only 28 batters faced him.

Quattri hit a homer at Chicago for Washington Elderbe. ahead of him, though the ball had been caught and turned back to his position at shortstop.

The Giants made a triple play against the Cards. Kelly caught a line drive, touched first and threw to Bancroft, who caught Horvath off second.

Some of Nebraska's valley champs who will wear the abbreviated uniforms this year are Captain Ed Smith, sprinter; David Deering, sprinter and broad-jumper; Herb Gish, hurdler, and high jumper; Don McCarthy, quarter-mile; Myers, Allen and Dorn, distance men; Brown, pole vaulter; Carman, high jumper; Javelin; Carson, broad jumper; Moulton, shot put and discus; Weller, Discus and Schoepfel, javelin.

Here's the Carolina, the Bermudian-sized sloop which won the sloop event in the Astor Cup races at Newport, R. I. She was piloted by Skipper Adams who sailed the Revolute to victory over Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock. The Carolina is owned by Rear Commodore George Nichols.

nearly 500 students here who play golf may enter the elimination contests that will precede the finals. All who would like to take part in the golf tournament are asked to see Bob Simpson at the Rothwell Gymnasium.

It is expected that interest in tennis will be kindled with the installation of new nets for all of the courts. Interest in this game has been ebbing due to the poor condition of the nets on all of the courts. The rainy weather, too, has kept the plots in poor playing shape.

Interest is centered in football now, with the result that students are paying less attention to roll and tennis, but after the football schedule gets under way, and before the bad weather sets in it is felt that these tournaments will prove popular with many of the students.

HEALTH CONFERENCE BEGINS

Tuberculosis Meeting to Take Up Relief of War Veterans.

COLUMBIA, O., Sept. 12.—The ninth annual conference of the Mississippi Tuberculosis Society opened here today with delegations from eleven mid-western states in attendance.

The convention in its three-day session here will take up the question of relief for tubercular ex-soldiers. There are more than 5,000 of these in public sanitariums, and the American Legion, seeking rehabilitation, hospitalization and compensation for them, will participate actively in the conference.

Speakers scheduled to address the gathering included Dr. Walter McNab Miller, St. Louis, president of the society; Dr. Allen K. Krause, director of the Dows foundation for tubercular research of John Hopkins University; Dr. James Alexander Miller, president of the National Tuberculosis Society, and Dr. Haven Emerson, medical advisor for the War Risk Bureau.

Dr. H. H. Sively, state director of health, has called a meeting of all health commissioners of the Ohio Health Association, to convene in conjunction with the conference.

The program for the tubercular conference today included addresses of welcome by Governor Davis and Mayor Thomas, of Columbus, and responses by Mrs. Samuel L. Black, president of the Columbus Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis and Dr. Miller, chairman of the convention. Clinical demonstrations, sectional luncheons, and the first general meeting of the conference will conclude activities for today.

Tomorrow the sanitarium delegations will go to the state sanitarium at Mt. Vernon, where 52 per cent of last year's patients were returned to working capacity.

TIGER COACHES HAVE BIG JOB

100 Freshmen Out—Number Will Probably Be Cut in Half Soon.

Close to 100 freshmen football aspirants reported to coaches Maxner, Phelan and Jones for what promises to be the beginning of the end for many of the yearlings. During the present week it is likely that the squad of 100 will be cut almost in half. The first week of preliminary training for these recruits is now over and the time for the real grind has arrived. The many exercises which the coaches took the first year men through last week served to reduce the squad slightly. As one freshman expressed it after two long hours on Rollins Field one day last week when he had gone through everything from Calisthenics to a sprint of several hundred yards: "This is no place for a man with my disposition."

The Tiger coaches have determined that the first year varsity of this year shall be of the highest order. As they will begin more intensive drill starting today, they get a week's jump on the Varsity. It is the group of younger men that Coach Phelan is depending upon for stiff competition for the Tiger Varsity. As soon as formation drills begin they will be schooled from time to time along the style of play which will probably be used by the Tigers' opponents. A glance at the material on hand for the freshmen varsity would indicate that there would be more strength there than has been present on a freshman squad in several years. There seems to be plenty of material with experience for practically every position on the team.

Coaches Phelan and Jones are eagerly awaiting the opening bugle which will call them to duty Thursday afternoon. They will have their work outlined to such an extent that a definite program will be opened immediately. When the coaches go onto Rollins Field they will have but a bare two weeks in which to prepare the Missourians for the first game of the season with the Oklahoma Aggies. In the meantime the Tiger grad men of last season augmented by graduates of the freshmen element of last season have been taking workouts daily, conditioning themselves for the heavy grind which will be forced upon them immediately upon the inauguration of the official duties of the coaches.

Jerry Jones appears to have a difficult task in rounding together a line that will look presentable in the opening fracas of the season. The backfield appears very plausible with "Chuck" Lewis back at quarterback and veterans of last season ready to jump into the other three positions of the backfield. Beginning Thursday the Tigers will be required to spend many hours on the game of football. Their afternoons and many of their evenings will be well taken up. After the long tiresome drill on the field there will often be the skull practice in the gym in the evening, when formations will be discussed, way and means of offense and defense will be plotted. There will be long chalk talks, explanations, questions and answers. The work of the afternoon will be discussed, mistakes pointed out and suggestions for improvement presented.

The veteran linemen who will be on hand for the first official practice of the year will be led by Captain Blumer. Hill, Hardin and Bunker are the only other linemen who will be on hand. Lost to the Tigers' fold this year, are Vilkas, Springate, Shannon and Andrews, four athletes who earned the coveted "M" at the guard berth. Travis, all-valley tackle, Goepel and Ruth, dependable ends of the past two seasons. Certainly Director Clevenger was right when he said that the Tigers would need the best line coach they could find in the country this season. While all the Tiger followers are willing to concede that Jones is "just the man," they are also prone to admit that his task is about as difficult a one as ever confronted a Missouri mentor at the opening of the season.

From the substitutes of last season and the former freshmen players he must

PIKERS TO TAKE FIELD THURSDAY

Pikers Will Have Applegan of Illinois Indians on Coaching Staff.

St. Louis, Sept. 12.—Director George L. Rider and Coaches Applegan and Davis comprising the Washington University football coaching squad will take the field Thursday afternoon for the opening practice session of the 1921 season. This session will mark the first appearance of Applegan on Francis Field. Applegan comes to the Pikeaway institution, a graduate of the University of Illinois, Indians and was named several times in All-Western selections. Rider will handle the backfield candidates.

The Pikers will labor under a slight handicap from the start in that school does not officially open until September 27, just four days before the first game on the schedule. This will handicap Rider in that some few players who live quite a distance from St. Louis will be unable to take in the first practices. However, as has been

FORTY OUT FOR FOOTBALL

Columbia High School Anticipates a Successful Season. Steady practice for the coming football season has begun at the Columbia High School under the direction of Z. M. Strong. Interest has been increased in practice since the suits were issued last week to the forty boys who are trying out.

Five letter men of the Columbia High School are back this year. They are: James Armstrong, Bob Cassidy, Lorald Platt, Forrest Willhite, and Lloyd Stewart. It is believed that they are the five reasons why the high school's football season should be interesting and successful.

discover enough linemen to fill the vacancies made when the above men left the Old Gold and Black ranks. Storms, Masters and Armstrong are looked upon as the most favorable men former coach Bill Collins of the yearlings turned over to Phelan last fall.

The schedule which Director Rider has prepared includes games with Grinnell, Ames, Oklaboma, Kansas Aggies, St. Louis University, Tulane, Rolla and Missouri.

Berger, Griesedieck and Kremer are lost to the Pikers by graduation while Pothoff is ineligible. Deeds and Singleton, varsity guards of last season, are uncertain as to whether they will return. It is in the backfield that Coach Rider looks for the greatest improvement. Last year the Red and Green attack was big but too sluggish to cope with the Missouri Valley Conference opposition. There are a half dozen likely looking youths eager to replace the tremendous Pothoff, Griesedieck and Berger. This squad includes Mathes, O'Brien, Thumser, Young, Claypool, Tom Thompson, George Thompson and Yorgert. Itner, who was a varsity squad man at Cornell two years ago, may be on hand for play. The most interesting situation will be the quarterback one, which was the vulnerable spot last year. Tom Thompson, Claypool and Thumser are the candidates, and the last mentioned looms as the pre-season favorite. Thumser was a good mechanical player, last year, but lacked experience and confidence. He was a sophomore calling signals to three seniors, a situation which was not the most desirable one. During the past summer he was devoured the Glen Warner, Field Yost, Cavanaugh and other gridiron treatises and labored over tactical situations until he feels ready to meet any problem. He also improved in kicking and passing to such extent that he has promise of being a "triple-punch" asset.

PALMS QUERIES NO. 1 What Is A Wink? Answer: A wink is one of those of which everyone is in need of a few extra ones every morning. (Long and continued applause from late sleepers, numbering 98 per cent of the student body.) Are a Few Extra Winks Each Morning Desirable? Self-evident should be an assertion rather than a question. (Torrential outburst of cheering from ditto.) How Can They Be Secured? By one of three means—cutting your class to permit you the necessary time to drop in at the table for a late breakfast; doing without breakfast or better and more popular Dropping in at the Palms for a Continental "Petite DeJeuner" Of fragrant steaming Palms coffee, with heavy golden cream and snow-white lumps of sugar. Crisp, tender, golden-brown toast, with fresh butter, and if the bite of appetite still persists— Perhaps a famous Palms sandwich of hot ham, or fresh eggs with the blush of the country sizzling from the giant Palms ranges.
