2,500 CHILDREN TO TAKE PART IN RALLY DAY

To Give Pageant to Commemorate Hundredth Birthday of Columbia and Missouri.

MANY FLOATS PLANNED A Parade and a Basket Dinner on Rollins Field Will Be Features of the Celebration.

"Nearly every child in Boone County's rural schools will have a part in the combined pageant and rally day to be given here in October," C. E. Northcutt, County Superintendent of Schools, said Saturday. According to Mr. Northcutt's estimate there are about 3,000 children in the rural schools of the county, and he expects approximately 2,500 of them to take part in the pageant.

The pageant will commemorate the one hundredth birthday of Columbia, as well as of Missouri," Mr. Northcutt said this morning. "It will serve several purposes," he continued. "Many children will be brought to Columbia from the rural districts who have never been here before. They will see the University buildings and learn what is taught in them. They will learn Missouri history from looking up their costumes. The people who view the parade will also learn something of the history of the state and of Columbia. The day will afford a great opportunity for a get-together meeting of the children's parents."

A committee meeting will be held in Mr. Northcutt's office Monday night to make the arrangements for assignments of the parts of the pageant. This committee will be composed of teachers of schools near Columbia.

Floats from women's club Women's clubs in Columbia have been asked by the Commercial Club to furnish floats for the parade.

Z. G. Cleveland, director of athletics of the University, has been requested to allow the school children to have the use of Rollins Field for one day in October.

Flora C. Shoemaker, Secretary of the State Historical Society has collaborated with Mr. Northcutt and outlined plans for the pageant.

The Commercial Club has promised its support. "With these persons and organizations supporting the pageant," Mr. Northcutt said, "I am sure it will be a success."

As now outlined, there will be the parade in the morning, a basket dinner on Rollins Field at noon, and athletic events in the afternoon.

The parade will consist of floats and marching children, typifying the progress of Missouri since its birth. The floats are to be contributed by women's organizations, and the school children will portray the characters of Missouri's history.

INDIAN WIGWAM, CAMPFIRE AND KETTLE The Daughters of the American Revolution have been asked to prepare a float with an Indian wigwam, a campfire and a kettle. This will be occupied by children in Indian garb, who will conduct themselves as if they were occupants of an Indian village. Following this float in the parade will come an Indian "travels", two poles with a basket between, dragging behind a horse. A "saw" will ride on the novel vehicle, and a boy will ride the horse.

A float with a flagstaff carrying, an American, a Spanish, and a French flag has been asked of the Tuesday Club. The United Daughters of the Confederacy have been requested to make, as their contribution, a log cabin on a float.

From the Garden Club, the Commercial Club has asked a float carrying a theme. The School of Journalism will be expected to furnish an old fashioned press, and apprentices of an old fashioned printing office, mounted on a float body.

COLUMBIANS WILL BE THERE A miniature of the columns is to surround the float asked of the Women's State Government Association. A prairie schooner of the '49 type has been requested of the P. E. O.

E. C. Bylander, secretary of the State Fair Association has been asked by Fred Eldon, secretary of the Commercial Club, to lend a number of state flags to the pageant committee. The flags will be used in preparing the floats, and some of them are to be carried by children in the parade.

The outline of the pageant is written in seven sections, each of which will represent some period in the history of the state. "The complete details of each part have not yet been worked out," Mr. Northcutt said, "but most of them will be taken care of at the committee meeting Monday night."

Spanish Club Will Meet Tuesday. The Spanish Club will meet at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Sigma Nu house. All those who have had 10 or more of Spanish in the University, or its equivalent, are eligible to membership.

The aim of the club is to acquaint the students with spoken Spanish, which will give them a better understanding of the Spanish American countries where many intend to go.

LLOYD GEORGE MAY GET SINN FEIN'S REPLY

Irish Must Withdraw From the Sovereign State Idea or Forfeit Right to a Conference.

WAR MAY BE INEVITABLE De Valera Cannot Negotiate With Britain Unless His Present Attitude Is Changed.

DUBLIN, Sept. 19.—President DeValera today sent a new note to Lloyd George asking whether the British premier in proposing an Irish peace conference is demanding an Irish surrender or calling for a "free and unprejudiced conference."

By United Press. DUBLIN, Sept. 19.—Sinn Fein's reply to the latest note from Lloyd George probably will be sent to the British premier at Gairloch, Scotland, it was announced today after a meeting of the Dail Eireann cabinet.

Premier DeValera and his colleagues were faced with the definite choice of withdrawal of their associates on recognition as a sovereign state or forfeiting the right to a conference. The latter decision might mean war—a step which it was not believed here would be taken without the consent of the cabinet.

Lloyd George stated in his note to which the Sinn Fein Cabinet is now replying that De Valera must withdraw from their correspondence, the paragraph in which he stated, Ireland can only negotiate with Britain as a sovereign state.

By United Press. DUBLIN, Sept. 19.—There will be more arrests made in the case," District Attorney Brady declared today in discussing the case of Roscoe Arbutckle, confined in jail charged with the murder of Miss Virginia Rappe of Los Angeles.

Brady refused to go into detail. An appeal for fairness to her husband was the first words in San Francisco today of Minta Durfee, wife of Arbutckle when she arrived in the city. She came from New York to aid her husband.

STOKES CASE ENDED TODAY

Justice Finch Refuses to Give Divorce to Millionaire Hotel Man.

By United Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The sensational Stokes divorce case ended here today with a victory for Helen Elwood Stokes, Supreme Court Justice Finch refused to grant a divorce to W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire hotel man.

However, he granted an interlocutory decree of separation to Mrs. Stokes. Alimony and the custody of the two children were not mentioned. Justice Finch has had the case under advisement since the ending of the trial several months ago.

In his decree Justice Finch said Stokes had improper relations with more than two correspondents in the case and he introduced evidence to prove his allegations with regard to four of them. However, Justice Finch held the evidence was insufficient to prove the charge.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NEEDS APPROPRIATIONS TO LIVE

Has Been Supported By Free-Will Offerings—2,500 Books Loaned Last Month.

An appropriation from the City Council seems to be the only thing that will keep the doors of the Columbia Public Library open, according to persons who are interested in the library.

The library is a public institution and is maintained for the benefit of the general public. During the past, it has been supported by free-will offerings from private organizations in the city. Columbia gave very little toward the up-keep.

Organizations that supported the library during the past year are: Garden Club, Tuesday Club, Elks, Lee Mother's Club, High School, Christian College, Presbyterian Church, Benton Mother's Club, Women's Christian Temperance Union, Suffrage League, Phi Mu Alpha, Fortnightly Club, Daughters of 1812, Civic League, Modern Woodmen, Field Mother's Club, Grant Mothers' Club, Jefferson Mother's Club, D. A. R., P. E. O., and the banks of Columbia. Many individuals contributed books, as well as small cash offerings. The City gave but a very small amount toward the upkeep last year.

Approximately 2,500 books have been loaned by the library in the last thirty days. Not only the people of Columbia, but many tourists used the library as a place to spend their time during hot summer days.

OPEN HOUSE LURES GIRL WITH SPRAINED ANKLE FROM HOSPITAL

Clad in a night gown, a kimono, and shoes, a woman student of the University climbed down the fire escape of Parker Memorial Hospital at 8 o'clock Friday night, and returned home in time to attend open house.

The girl had sprained her ankle a few days ago. When she felt able to go home, she asked permission to go home, but was refused dismissal. Thinking that the girl might attempt to get away, the nurse took possession of her bedroom slippers. However, the girl had access to a pair of shoes belonging to someone else in the ward. She slipped these over her bare feet and made a hasty getaway.

Her scant clothing attracted the attention of only a few pedestrians as it was dark when she slipped away from the hospital and took the shortest way home.

The girl is still at home and feels no bad effects from taxing the recently sprained ankle by dancing until 12 o'clock.

DR. SMITH TO INSPECT EXTENSION ACCOUNTS

Will Act As Supervisor For Federal Department Work While in Columbia.

Dr. C. B. Smith, chief of the division of extension in the United States Department of Agriculture, arrived in Columbia today to confer with members of the agricultural extension staff and make the annual inspection of the extension accounts.

The work of the agricultural extension service is carried on under what is known as the Smith-Lever Act of Congress, which appropriates Federal funds to the various states provided these sums are offset by equal amounts of state appropriated money.

Under terms of this act the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri will receive for its extension work during the present fiscal year $137,000 from Federal sources.

A condition of the Smith-Lever Act is that all extension projects must be approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and all expenditures audited annually by a department official. It is in connection with this supervisory work of the Federal department that Dr. Smith comes to Missouri next week.

Missouri is sending two demonstration teams and a stock judging team of three members each to take part in the program as the other states are doing. Livingston County has the privilege of sending two teams and Johnson County is sending one team. They were elected at the recent State Fair at Sedalia.

The Inter-State Fair makes arrangements for club exhibits, contests and demonstrations. Mr. Emberson will have general supervision of the demonstrations.

ATTEMPT OF 3 KIDNAPPERS IS FRUSTRATED

Men Try to Capture Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, but They Run Away When She Screams.

THEY COME BACK LATER A Battle With the Police Follows Which Results in the Routing of the Capturers.

New York, Sept. 19.—What may have been an attempt to kidnap Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, former wife of Harry K. Thaw, was frustrated today by police.

When Mrs. Thaw opened the door in her apartment three men attempted to seize her. She screamed so loudly that they were forced to run away. They later returned, evidently thinking the coast was clear, and were captured in the battle that followed with the police.

$35,725 PLEDGED FOR MEMORIAL

27 Committees Canvass Columbia—Campaign Closes Tomorrow.

A total of $35,725 had been subscribed in Columbia for the University Memorial building at 2 o'clock today with but one day of the campaign left. The total of new subscriptions which amounted to $3,150 is only a partial report on the day's work, as there were twenty-seven committees, composed of students and business men, engaged in a house-to-house canvass who had not reported when the day's report was turned in.

Heading the new subscriptions was a donation of $500 by R. B. Price, Sr., and three for $250 by R. B. Price, Jr., Janmie M. Wood, and Strawn-Neate.

"Tomorrow is the last day of the campaign," said S. F. Conley, "and the total result turned in at headquarters tomorrow night will in a large measure determine the outcome of the campaign in other parts of the state. Should the people of Columbia fail to respond tomorrow, the campaign will receive a set-back all over the state."

A new impetus was given to the Memorial drive in Columbia today by the addition of students to the soliciting committee. The town was divided geographically into twenty-seven districts and two students and one business man were assigned to canvass each district. This plan was evolved at a meeting of students and business men held at 9 o'clock this morning in the Commercial Club rooms.

AGED MAN DIED YESTERDAY

T. J. Gallopp Was an Old Resident of Boone County.

T. J. Gallopp, 71 years old, who lived one mile east of Hinton, died at 7:30 yesterday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Anthony. Burial was at the Rocky Fork Cemetery at 2:30 this afternoon.

Mr. Gallopp had lived for years in Boone County, and was well known throughout the county. Mrs. Anthony is his only heir.

Aged Woman Inherits Legacy; Now Fighting to Prove Sanity

On a little farm ten miles from Columbia lives Eleanor Donohoe, 62 years old, and her husband, Owen, who is 65 years old. For sixteen years they have lived on this little farm alone. Their nearest neighbor is the family of Turner Smith, whose two sons are the second cousins of Mrs. Donohoe. The Smith family has looked after the childless old couple, caring for them in sickness, helping get wood for them in winter and doing many things that the old people were not strong enough to do.

Two years ago, a brother of Mrs. Donohoe died and left her $1,250. For years she had wanted, more than anything else, an automobile, but a twenty-nine acre farm isn't productive enough for automobiles. With $1,100 of her estate she bought a car. Neither she nor her husband could run it, but the two Smith boys learned to care for the car, and have driven the old people about, and have kept the car in repair since it was purchased.

A month ago Mrs. Donohoe deeded her farm to the Smith boys, reserving a life estate for herself and husband. Today she is fighting in the Probate Court of Boone County to prove that she is sane, and can transfer her property as she desires.

Two nephews of Mrs. Donohoe, Leslie W. Cook and Everett E. Cook, have instigated a suit to prove that she is of unsound mind, and are endeavoring to have a guardian appointed for her. More than forty witnesses have been summoned to appear in the case today.

DR. SHEWMAKER BEGINS DUTIES

Newly Appointed Minister Delivers First Sermon Sunday Morning.

Before a congregation which filled virtually every seat in the church, the Rev. Dr. W. O. Shewmaker, newly appointed pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, delivered his first sermon Sunday morning.

Taking the text from the first and fourteenth chapters of John, with particular reference to the first verse of the fourteenth chapter, stating the words of Jesus: "Let not your hearts be troubled. Ye believe in God; believe also in me. In my Father's house there are many mansions. If it were not so I would not have told you." Dr. Shewmaker spoke of Jesus' attitude toward truth, that He was not afraid to tell the truth, though it might hurt His nearest friends; that He was not afraid to face the truth, though it might mean sadness for Himself; and that He claimed knowledge of the Truth.

Jesus not only taught the truth but he practiced his teachings as well, toward his disciples, the people, and the false priests and Pharisees. To his disciples He prophesied that one of the thirteen would betray him. He met the false accusations of the priests and Pharisees with truth and through his candor and honesty they were silenced. Yet Jesus never told the truth merely to be sensational or as a mere statement of facts, but always with a purpose in view.

Dr. Shewmaker said: "I have but little sympathy with the idea that Jesus was disappointed with his work and teaching; that he felt disheartened because he did not achieve immediate results. He was not disappointed because he was too far-sighted and could see the truth. He was not influenced by the modern idea that man must show immediate practical results in order to be successful. The practical idealists is always near-sighted. Jesus faced the future with hopefulness and faith in the truth. Deception and the withholding of truth are hardly ever justified even if done as a means toward a seemingly good end."

Dr. Shewmaker said he felt decidedly at home in Columbia within the sound of school bells and the sight of students and professors. He received an A. B. degree from Central University, Richmond, Ky., in 1889 and a Ph. D. from Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn., in 1914. His ministerial work began in 1892 yet Dr. Shewmaker has also found time for literary work. For three years he was editor of "The Southern Evangelist," a Presbyterian weekly. He also edited and published a volume of the history of the famous Pisgah Church known as "The Pisgah Book" and while at Hartford he wrote two tracts: "The Miracle of Saint Bernard" and "The Training of the Protestant Ministry in the United States Before the Establishment of the Theological Seminaries." The latter has been published.

Dr. Shewmaker announced that hereafter Sunday morning services at the Presbyterian Church will begin at 11 o'clock instead of 10:45 and that beginning with next Sunday evening there will be regular evening services after Christian Endeavor.
