TIGERS LEAVE FOR ST. LOUIS THIS MORNING

If Weather Continues Rainy the Lineup Will Consist Chiefly of Second-String Men.

SMALL SCORE PROBABLE

Members of Freshman Team Receive Complimentary Tickets and Are to Be on Field.

Coach Jimmie Phelan and twenty-three men left this morning for St. Louis where they will play the St. Louis University tomorrow afternoon at Sportsman's Park. The men who went are Blumer, C. L. Lewis, W. E. Lewis, Bunker, Lincoln, Langdon, Armstrong, Simpson, Masters, Keller, Gay, Scott, Hill, Storms, Hardin, Hamilton, Bailey, Johnston, Bundschu, Houston, Humes, Kershaw, and Packwood.

If the weather continues rainy the lineup will consist of second-string men with the exception of Hardin and Hamilton at ends, according to Coach Phelan. He said that only straight football would be used against the St. Louis aggregation and that Ames scouts would profit very little by witnessing the game. He means to guard against injuring any of the first string men and he will only use line backs and off tackle plays. This necessarily means that the score will not be very large, he explained, because the St. Louis University team has a strong offense built around Horton, captain of the team and one of the latest men in the state. In addition to this the Miscout reports that the St. Louis team uses a spread formation from which any number of trick plays are run, but a muddy field will render this formation practically useless as a spread is absolutely essential in any trick play. Unless Coach O'Rourke has developed something during the last week it is confidently expected that despite the fact that second string men will be used against his team Missouri will win by a substantial score.

Among those accompanying the team to St. Louis were Z. G. Clevenger, director of athletics; Dr. W. E. Lawler, trainer; Virgil Spurling, secretary of the Athletic Association; N. T. Gentry, W. P. Rachne, Misses Catherine and Elizabeth Lawler and C. L. McCorkle. Complimentary tickets have been given to sixteen members of the freshman team who expect to be on hand when the referee's whistle blows tomorrow.

WEEK'S SCHEDULE BRIGHTER

Three Big Games Add Interest to Tomorrow's Clashes.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
New York. (By Mail to United Press.)—Three big intercollegiate games add color to the third week of the football season tomorrow.

Indiana, the first of the western conference teams to come east, journeys to Cambridge to meet the Harvard machine.

North Carolina sends two teams north. The University of North Carolina goes against Yale at New Haven, and North Carolina State opposes the strong Penn State eleven.

Princeton, with the second game of the season, starts the Tigers on the rocky road of a hard schedule that runs clear through to the final struggle of the year with Yale. The Nassau eleven starts the battle with Colgate at Princeton. Pittsburg and West Virginia have one of the most interesting games of the day. Syracuse has Maryland, and Pennsylvania meets Gettysburg.

The Army plays the second double header of the season with Middlebury and Lebanon Valley, while the navy is playing an intercollegiate game with Western Reserve of Ohio.

The west has nothing to get wildly excited about. Notre Dame gets the first chance against a conference eleven with Iowa. Michigan and Case. Illinois plays South Dakota, and Ohio State hooks up with Oberlin.

California starts the hard part of her schedule with Nevada.

Centre has a soft one in Virginia Poly and Georgia Tech has an easy game with Davidson.

Coach Jones to See Ames Play.

Jerry Jones, line coach, left this afternoon for Ames, Ia., to witness the Ames-Grinnell football game. He intends to get first-hand information of the tactics Coach Kent will employ against the Tigers a week from tomorrow.

FARMERS WILL VISIT COLUMBIA OCTOBER 21

Randolph and Monroe County Farm Bureaus Plan Trip for Their Members.

Randolph and Monroe county farmers have set October 21 as the date for an auto excursion to Columbia to visit the College of Agriculture. The trip is made under the auspices of the farm bureau and grange of the two counties.

The farmers will arrive at 10 o'clock in the morning and will follow a definite itinerary all day. Dean F. B. Mumford, of the College of Agriculture, will have charge of a general meeting in the morning and he will explain some of the methods followed in the school. Dinner will be served on Dean Mumford's lawn. In the afternoon trips will be made to all department buildings and the Home Economics department will give a special demonstration for the women. Visits will be made to the State Farm, where the results of research in farm methods will be shown. This will make the fifth meeting of this kind held this year. Almost all of the counties adjoining Boone have at some time visited the College of Agriculture.

College Salesmen Are Fined.

L. W. Waterman and James Fireside were fined $1 each and costs this morning by Police Judge M. L. Edwards on entering police of guilty to the charge of soliciting and selling goods in the city without a license. The men are representing a firm of men's clothing of Kansas City.

THEY HIKE TO KEEP IN TRIM

Congressman Nicholas Longworth, left, and Theodore Roosevelt are often seen taking long hikes together. They take it as a serious part of the day's business. This, to keep in trim for official duties. They are brothers-in-law.

Rainy Days Are Expense for Some; Good Business for Others

If you haven't begun to save for a rainy day, you had better begin at once if expenses for such days has anything to do with your own private treasury department.

For example, the newspaper distributor at a local store Sunday extolled the merits of the rainy day for his sale of Sunday issues. While most of the town was growling about the deluging of J. Pluvius' activities, the dealer was undertaking the task of accommodating more customers than he had papers. He explains it thus:

"Sunday was a rainy day and everybody had to stay at home. However, they got out long enough to get down town and buy a magazine and a Sunday paper. We sold every paper we ordered. Our sales run from 100 to 150 more papers on a rainy Sunday than on any other Sunday."

The taxi driver is another who revels in his element the minute a big rain storm hits town. On a warm Sunday afternoon and evening, it's almost a safe bet to say that the taxis don't pay for their radiator water, but just let the rain catch the Sunday evening crowds at supper and it will take an hour to get a taxi although the caller he but a short walk from the station.

The sandwich business goes up at an amazing rate. Confectioneries and lunch eateries have to hire delivery boys to accommodate the demand for service. Their dispensary at such a time includes many enlightened bits of culinary skill and the temporary delivery boy gets rainwater mixed with the delicacies of hot hams, cold hams, chicken salads, entire pies and ice cream.

From many of a rooming house the refrains and words in a false baritone jingle:

"Save up your money and save up your rocks
And you'll always have tobacco in your ol' tobacco box."
Many are heedless for on a rainy Sunday the demand on tobacco supplies increases incredibly. That gives you the routine of a rainy Sunday in Columbia: Arise late and miss the weather; eat dinner and breakfast at one sitting; clear or stop raining long enough to allow one to get out for a paper and a pack of cigarettes; drench out again and a taxi home is essential; the evening is spent in eating ordered sandwiches; and pie and smoking while perusing cash sheet of the favorite Sunday edition.

HONOLULU HAS ITS SPORTS

Press Congress Delegates Can Ride Surf or Hunt Sharks.

HONOLULU, HAWAII. (By Mail to United Press.)—Thrills occasioned by riding the surf in outrigger canoes or on native surf boards, or standing on the rim of the continuously active volcano of Kilauea and gazing down into the roaring, tossing sea of molten lava, have an active rival in the keen excitement that accompanies the hunting of the shark that encircles the island of Oahu.

Newspaper men who are coming to Honolulu October 10 as delegates to the Press Congress of the World will find that shark hunting goes hand in hand with other sports, and although intensely exciting, is in no way dangerous. The shark hunters go to sea in a launch or sampan which tows a dead white horse. When the fishing grounds are reached the boat begins to circle about, and soon the fins of sharks may be seen cutting through the water.

If one is an expert, he may harpoon a shark as it turns over to strike, or he may try his luck with a high-powered rifle. The shark is a furious fighter and once harpooned or caught with hook and line, displays amazing strength. But he finally tires and is gradually hauled aboard and then dispatched.

There are few Hawaiians living today who care to meet a shark in the open water and fight him as their ancestors did. In the olden days a Hawaiian armed himself with a hard, wooden spear and it will take an hour to get a large enough to permit a good grip. He then let himself down into the water. As the shark approached and turned over to strike, its great jaws opened to their full width, the Hawaiian, with a quick movement, thrust the javelin between the jaws, one point penetrating the roof of the mouth and the other the lower jaw. The shark, thus unable to close his mouth, and helpless, was either speared or allowed to swim away as the Hawaiian chose.

Widow of Missouri Publisher Dies. Mrs. William Rockhill Nelson, widow of the founder of the Kansas City Star, died in Kansas City yesterday following a month's illness. Mrs. Nelson was a trustee of the Kansas City Star after her husband's death.
