3 CONFERENCE TEAMS SUFFER FIRST DEFEAT

Drake, Kansas Aggies and Oklahoma Succumb to Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska.

CORNHUSKERS IN LEAD Tigers Make Good Showing in Clash With Bulldogs—Are in Good Shape for Piker Game.

With Missouri Valley Conference teams displaying greater strength in each heat of the championship race, the Tigers have as a foe this week the Washington University Pikers, as they toe the mark for the final dash down the straightaway to the finish of the 1921 season. The half-way of the season's play is now behind the teams and only three more games remain to be played.

NEBRASKA IS FAR IN LEAD Cornhuskers Seem Like Valley Champions—Pikers Beat Ames.

By virtue of their victory Saturday over last year's champion Sooners, the Cornhuskers of Nebraska look like a sure bet for a Valley crown. The northern school made touchdowns in every conceivable way against their visitors except by the forward-pass method. Punters were run back for counters, line-backs were good for a couple, end runs worked perfectly and one fumble behind the Oklahoma goal was made into a Nebraska score.

Washington Defeats Ames

There were four outstanding results of the week-end's play. Washington looms up as a strong foe of the Tigers in consequence of her 20 win over the unlucky Ames contingent. The Kansas Aggies were surprised and humbled by the Jayhawkers. This was a decided turnover to Valley followers, who at least expected the Aggies to give the Kansas a tough fight, but the unexpected splurge of the Lawrence men in the first quarter gave victory. Nebraska's strength rather than Oklahoma's weakness furnished another upset as the Huskers crumbled the Sooners in their drive.

Eight First Downs for M. U.

The Tigers were able to make eight first downs, and practically all of these came from scrimmage. It became apparent that line plunges and end runs were to be the feature of the day's play to the advantage of the Missourians. So far this season Phelan's team has demonstrated that it is better than any team that has been met when "old style football" alone was considered. Whether Drake or Missouri would have benefited most by a dry field is not for consideration here.

Drake Made Six First Downs.

The actual yardage from scrimmage by the Tigers was 214 yards to 95 for the Des Moines squad. Missouri made about 40 yards via the forward pass and Drake 66. Both teams fared alike on fumbles, two being the portion of each. Missouri suffered far the worse on penalties.

Lewis and Niggemeyer were getting their kicks off for about equal distance but the Tiger boater made his kicks count the most.

Where a long kick was not necessary, he placed his boot and made it difficult to run back. Too, his kicks were high where Niggemeyer's were low; thus the Tiger safety men did not have to hurry or worry about getting downed in their tracks.

Tiger Ends on the Job

Peculiar to say, Niggemeyer did not return a single punt as much as 1 yard. The Tiger ends, not being bothered with any spirited opposition, succeeded in getting well down the field after each punt and nailing the safety man. Niggemeyer saved his team several times by getting his kicks off fast, as he was behind his own goal no less than five times.

There are only two men on the Missouri team who are fast enough to have recovered the inside kick which Lewis made on the first play of the game, resulting in Missouri's touchdown. Those two, Hamilton and Kershaw, were both outside when Lewis returned the kick. Kershaw was first to arrive at the scene where the ball came to rest. He did not hesitate but took the ball on the dead run and raced with it to the goal line as three Tiger linemen kept Niggemeyer well under surveillance. It was a perfectly executed play and credit should be bestowed upon the shoulders of the Tiger coach and strategist, and also Chuck Lewis, who timed his kick perfectly. Kershaw who did the scintillating deed, and the linemen who assisted him.

Tigers in Good Shape

The Tigers emerged from the fracas in excellent shape. Lincoln will be ready for duty at St. Louis this week. With this "super six" charger, as E. W. Cochrane of the Kansas City Journal describes him, again in the lineup, and alongside of him, such able colleagues as Humes, Packwood, Kershaw, Knight, and Bunducha have proved themselves to be, the backfield should be in the best shape of the season.

It is doubtful if any halfback has shown such sterling work from every standpoint of late, as has Packwood. Coach Phelan has used him in all the Conference games to date as relief man, generally sending him in at the start of the second quarter where he has proceeded to tear things up generally. The Tiger line, which played through Saturday's contest without a substitution, showed the best form of the season.

Barring injuries this week in scrimmage, the team which meets the Pikers Saturday will be the best that has taken the field for the Missourians this fall.

NEBRASKA IS FAR IN LEAD

Cornhuskers Seem Like Valley Champions—Pikers Beat Ames.

By virtue of their victory Saturday over last year's champion Sooners, the Cornhuskers of Nebraska look like a sure bet for a Valley crown. The northern school made touchdowns in every conceivable way against their visitors except by the forward-pass method. Punters were run back for counters, line-backs were good for a couple, end runs worked perfectly and one fumble behind the Oklahoma goal was made into a Nebraska score.

It was the most surprising game in the Valley.

While many gave the Oklahoma man's but an outside chance at the game, it was not thought the score would be humiliating. As it is, Bennie Owen's men must admit they traveled out of their class in their journey to Lincoln. In piling up 44 points while holding Oklahoma scoreless, Nebraska not usually seen in Conference circles.

Kansas and Ames must be beaten before the Husker claim to a championship will be valid. Kansas goes to Lincoln on November 12 and Nebraska will perform in Ames a week later.

The Jayhawk has taken the place of Ames as the Conference team that improves with the season. In past years the Iowa entry has shown a steadily increasing scoring ability as the days got shorter. Kansas, opening the Conference schedule with a defeat at the hands of Drake, showed considerable improvement in later winning from Ames and finally turned back the undefeated Kansas Aggies by the ridiculously one-sided score of 21 to 7. Kansas had the punch when it was needed and made the Aggies look foolish in spite of the fact that the detailed figures of the game show the Aggies outplayed their rivals by a shade in almost every department.

Washington University Pikers turned in a victory Saturday when an Ames safety gave them 2 points and the only score of the game.

The counter came in the third period of a well-played game. The Pikers were without the services of their star, Leo Shanley, and Ames went through all but the last minutes minus Wallace, who last year rated as the best pivot man in the West. The teams were about evenly matched until Wallace began working in the fourth quarter. The strength of the powerful lineman at once became apparent but was not enough to win for his team.

The Washington game made the third consecutive loss for the Iowans.

Their string of hard luck began in the Missouri game three weeks ago and has continued until the present time. All hope that a strong mid-season spurt would put Ames in a position to halt the slide of Nebraska, in the event the Huskers won from Oklahoma, has gone glimmering. Mious fared alike on fumbles, two being the portion of each. Missouri suffered far the worse on penalties.

Lewis and Niggemeyer were getting their kicks off for about equal distance but the Tiger boater made his kicks count the most.

Where a long kick was not necessary, he placed his boot and made it difficult to run back. Too, his kicks were high where Niggemeyer's were low; thus the Tiger safety men did not have to hurry or worry about getting downed in their tracks.

HERE AND THERE IN VALLEY SPORTS

Considerable comment is rife concerning the right of Nebraska to claim the bunting it she plays but three games and wins them all. Nebraska officials will doubtless point to the fact that they were unable to schedule all of the games in the Valley that they wanted to.

The manner in which the Tigers salted the game away in the first minute of the second quarter, by straight football, the Columbia visitors pushed the pigskin to the enemy's 3-yard line, but were held for downs as the half ended.

In the second half the Jefferson City lads lived considerably and by two successful passes landed the ball on the preps' 15-yard line. Then by straight football they hammered the visitors back to their 3-yard line, but Coach Langston's men held, got the ball and Jacobs kicked to safety.

Forward passes failed of success when gains were needed by both teams. The prep lads showed slight superiority in booting the oval. For the locals, Captain Brink at left half, Jacobs at full-back, Moss, left end, and Bozarth, center, each played consistent ball.

Complete Account of Game Published 90 Seconds After Close.

An error in labeling the chart of the second quarter of Saturday's Drake-Missouri football game made it appear that the play of that quarter was in Missouri territory instead of Drake territory. A reading of the text would have made the mistake plain.

The error was caused by the rush necessary in preparing the chart for Saturday's paper. The last edition of the Missouriian, containing the final score, a story of the high spots of the game, a play-by-play account of the whole contest, and charts of the first three quarters, came from the press one minute and thirty seconds after the final whistle blew.

HIGH SCHOOLS WELL MATCHED

University High and Jefferson City Battle to Scoreless Tie in Field of Mud.

On a mud-covered field and in a down-pour of rain which lasted practically throughout the game, the University High School and the Jefferson City High School battled in a scoreless tie last Saturday afternoon at the capital city. The teams were evenly matched and fought doggedly from the starter's whistle to the end of the contest.

The first quarter of the game was played in Jefferson City's territory. The capital lads received the ball, but the prep soon intercepted a forward pass. In the second quarter, by straight football, the Columbia visitors pushed the pigskin to the enemy's 3-yard line, but were held for downs as the half ended.

In the second half the Jefferson City lads lived considerably and by two successful passes landed the ball on the preps' 15-yard line. Then by straight football they hammered the visitors back to their 3-yard line, but Coach Langston's men held, got the ball and Jacobs kicked to safety.
