C. H. S. BEATS FULTON HIGH

Field Goal and Touchdowns in Last Half Bring Victory to Kewpies.

The Columbia High School football team humbled the strong Fulton eleven yesterday afternoon on Cauthorn Field 16 to 0. The game was a hard fought battle from the start and until the last quarter the Kewpies were unable to cross the visitors' goal line. One of the largest crowds ever seen on Cauthorn Field witnessed the game.

The first half was an exhibition of football between two evenly matched teams. The ball was in Columbia's territory most of the half but only once was the Kewpie goal really threatened. Fulton completed a 20-yard pass and rushed through the Columbia line for 10 yards more. This gave the visitors first down on Columbia's 1-yard line. For three downs the Kewpie line held and a fumble on the fourth by Fulton was recovered by Columbia. Cassidy punted 50 yards from behind his own goal line just as the first quarter ended. The second quarter settled into a punting duel with Cassidy of the local eleven outkicking Cunningham of Fulton.

In the third quarter, the Kewpies, led by Cassidy, started a march toward the Fulton goal. Cassidy tried a dropkick which went wide of the mark. Fulton then punted 40 yards and Cassidy returned 30 yards. This put Columbia again within striking distance of the Fulton goal. After three unsuccessful attempts to gain, Cassidy kicked a perfect dropkick from the 25-yard line. The quarter ended a few minutes later with Columbia in the lead 3 to 0.

Columbia opened up the fourth quarter by blocking a Fulton punt which rolled back over Fulton's goal line. Hullett, Kewpie end, recovered it for the first touchdown of the game. Cassidy failed to kick goal. Fulton then opened up an aerial attack and completed two 30-yard passes. This put Fulton on the Kewpie 10-yard line. Failing to gain, another pass was attempted. Fish, Kewpie end, grabbed the ball from the hands of the passer and ran 90 yards for a second touchdown.

A synopsis of the game shows that Columbia outplayed Fulton in straight football. The Kewpies made seven first downs to Fulton's four. Fulton, however, completed five passes out of eleven for a gain of 110 yards while Columbia failed to complete any out of four attempts.

Cassidy, Willhite, Stewart and Fish starred for the local team while Cunningham and Van Renne made a good showing for the visitors.

Harvey McCoy of Columbia refereed the game and H. R. Fullerton of Fulton umpired. Joe Everhart acted as chief linesman.

The lineups which started were: C. H. S. FULTON Fish, lele, Bozman Willhite, ltlt, Muzzie Ficklin, lglg, Gabbyth Hart, cc, Moore Clark, rgrg, McClanahan Stewart, rtrt, Brown Piatt, rere, Cunningham Cassidy, qbqb, Goddy Gwinn, lblb, Jarrett Armstead, fbfb, Gray Eurat, rbbrbb, Van Renne

Ohio in Select Circle of Big Ten. Ohio, by defeating the Chicago University eleven, has obtained a seat in the select circle of Big Ten championship possibilities along with Iowa and Wisconsin. Chicago, fresh from a victory over the Princeton Tiger, proved an able foe but the Ohio team exhibited a brand of fight and gameness that is seldom seen even on a football field. The Big Ten leaders will come together in the few remaining games of the season with Iowa a scant favorite over the other two.

WHO'S READY TO QUIT?

Unwholesome and do lorous, the Backboneless Order of Gloom has descended upon the campus. Though few in number the members of the B. O. C. are loud. They perch on the steps of University buildings and shiver, audibly and in football jargon, regarding the impending visit of the University of Oklahoma football team.

Wherever students gather may be found a representative of B. O. C. No praise is too great for the Tigers in their past triumphs. But, when it comes to

The Tigers Need Your Support.

Your place during the grind of preparation for the reception of the invading Oklahoma Sooners is on Rollins Field. The Tigers are out there every night, hitting the dirt and working for one of the coveted eleven places. They must have the support of the students they represent. The way to prove to the Tigers that you are behind them strong is to come out for practice every day this week.

firm and unwavering undergraduate support in next Saturday's game a wail goes up.

"They can't do it," the weak ones quaver. "Look what the Sooners did to Kansas. Missouri will be lucky to last the whole game—Oh, my!" And so it goes.

It is no disgrace to lose a football game. If it were, public opinion would have gibbeted the pastime long ago. Disgrace in an athletic contest comes when a team turns up minus nerve or gameness. When that occurs, when a team is whipped on the field, it is a disgraced team. Its coaches are disgraced. The student body that has allowed a few wailers to bring such a thing about is disgraced.

Just such disgrace will be the lot of Missouri if the crepe hangers' association that has been in action since the Washington game is allowed to function during the remaining days of the week.

If the student body begins to sag at this critical period of the season, the "Missouri Spirit" which now commands the respect of the Valley will be a joke. Reference to it next year will draw smiles instead of attention.

As the walls of the B. O. C. are echoed by the unthinking, the chances of the Tigers suffer. Now is the time to stop it.

Inasmuch as the Backboneless Order of Gloom is composed largely of insects why not continue the "Swat the Fly" campaign until the end of the football season?

Princeton in Lighthouse Saturday. Princeton did the seemingly impossible Saturday and trounced Harvard 10 to 0. Fifty thousand persons saw Gilroy, left half for the Tiger, run 65 yards for a touchdown after the Crimson had taken the lead late in the game with a field goal. To make the outcome sure Captain Stanley Keck kicked a field goal for Princeton shortly before the final whistle.

HOT STOVE LEAGUE

FORGETS THE TOILING FRESHMEN FOOTBALLERS

James Phelan and his toiling Tigers are hosts each night of practice to an admiring group of undergraduate football fans. Here and there a Columbia resident who has through long association absorbed a consuming interest in the game may be seen. As the season advances football comes more into prominence as the inevitable topic of conversation. Whatever the walk of life of a Columbian it is supposed that he or she is interested and "How's the game gonna come out?" is quite as popular a salutation as "hello" or the usual phrases.

Everywhere the names of Tiger players are spoken again and again as inquiries as to condition and appearances are made. Talk about the city concerns itself almost wholly with football.

Everyone poses as a football critic, if not an authority. Coaching methods of other schools are lightly cast aside in spite of the football brains that worked them out. Newspaper notices of other teams are dissected and the real truth extracted from among the subtly jumbled words of the correspondent.

Tiger strategy is analyzed as the hot stove league of the gridiron goes into action.

While such as these attend practice almost as a rite, scarcely daring to miss, while strategy of other teams is pondered and fervent wishes spoken that the real dope could be ascertained, the real football school of Columbia is entirely overlooked.

Cutting their capers on the field east of the Varsity playground, content with scanty equipment and less encouragement the Freshmen put on a weekly performance that would settle all doubts as to the size of the artillery to be met in approaching games. Moreover the progress of drill in the freshman camp is vastly more interesting to watch than that of the Varsity because of the time element involved.

Missouri's scouts return each week with the plays of coming antagonists carefully graphed in their minds. These are unfolded before head coach Phelan and his charges. Then, they are turned over to the freshmen who at once adopt the foreign style of play. They have only Monday and Tuesday afternoons of each week to get the new shifts down to perfection. This, because it is a rule in the Tiger

If You Want To Dance Gracefully

Whether you are a "Shorthorn," glad to be back in Columbia again and anxious to "brush up" on your dancing, whether you are an Engineer, preparing for the various class dances, or whether you are a Journalist, making ready for the big festivity on December 2, you'll find the logical place for your dancing lessons will be The Purple Parrot.

There, in a friendly, congenial atmosphere, you'll discover what fine fellows there are in the other schools and you'll all agree that learning to dance is a pleasure instead of a task.

Come up tonight or next Thursday night at 7 p. m. and see what a real dancing class is.

camp that the weekly Varsity-Freshman scrimmage shall take place on Wednesday.

The careful, step-by-step method employed by coaches and scouts in preparing the frosh for the Varsity would surprise many who may believe the youngsters have been shooting the same old stuff at the Tigers week after week.

Instead there is a new attack for Phelan's men to meet and a new defense to crumble with each invasion by the green-sweated clan.

In spite of this weekly show of opponent's strategy and of dovetailed instruction the freshmen attract few visitors. The crowd goes out to applaud the Varsity, the men with the Old Gold and Black jerseys, the men who perform for their school each Saturday. And this is quite as it should be. The freshmen accept it as the just due of those who have won a place on the team. Meanwhile they take their hard knocks with a smile, they know hard work will put them in the uniform next year and that they will get the applause that others now so richly deserve.

Billiard Tournament for Students.

The men of the Knights of Columbus Student Home will hold a handicap billiard tournament beginning November 15. A loving cup will be given for the first prize. The committee for arranging the handicap will be John Zercher, Harold Salle and Walter Hodge.
