BOXER AND WRESTLER TO FIGHT TO FINISH IN CHATTANOOGA TONIGHT

By International News Service. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 23.—One of the most unusual ring battles ever staged in the United States will take place here tonight when a boxer and a wrestler will meet in a fight that will continue until one is defeated. The contestants are "Batling" Mack, lightweight of Little Rock, Ark., boxer, and Connie Givons, welterweight wrestler, now attending Chattanooga University.

The boxer will wear regulation gloves, may hit in the clinches if he doesn't strike below the belt, and may strike from any position, including while he is lying on the floor. The wrestler will work under strict wrestling rules and may guard himself from blows in the approved fashion, but must not strike with forearms or fists. He will not wear gloves.

To be defeated the boxer must have both shoulders touching the floor, as in catch-as-catch-can rules. The wrestler, to be defeated, must be counted out.

American Wins British Match.

By International News Service. PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 23.—G. E. Van Vleck, of Garden City, N. Y. was victorious over W. S. Aldridge of Great Britain in the first round of today's play in the British amateur golf championship tournament. The score was 5 to 4. Donald Parson of Youngstown, Ohio, was defeated by A. Menzies, an Englishman, by the score of 3 to 1.

Yesterday's Home Runs.

By International News Service. Player Number Season's total Ruth, Yankees 1 Cutshaw, Tigers 1 Heilman, Tigers 1 Clark, Tigers 1 Walker, Athletics 1 Wheat, Dodgers 1 Boeckel, Braves 1 Hornsby, Cardinals 1 League totals: American 117; National 80.

TAGGING THE BASES

By International News Service. The Cardinals went thirteen innings with the Braves only to have Milton Stock strong-arm a throw to the stands in the final session, letting the winning runs filter over. Hornsby's homer with two on in the seventh was his eighth consecutive hit.

The President and Mrs. Harding lent a lusty larynx to the occasion, but the Senators finished on the short end of the score, "dazzly" Vance dazzled the Cub batters with fast ones and hooks and the Dodgers won their fourth game out of thirteen starts on the present Western trip by a shutout.

Despite four home runs, one of which was supplied by Clark, a Texas League recruit, with two on in the ninth, tying the score, the Athletics and Tigers battled through eleven innings to no good purpose. Rain fell with the game tied at 3-3 in the eleventh, so the boys will have to try it all over again today.

The Giants dropped their fourth straight ball game when Rixey pitched them dizzy while the Reds went on to win as they pleased.

Cooper shut the Phillies out, holding them to eight scattered hits, while the Pirates leaned upon Hubbell's delivery for nine hits in the first six innings. 'Twas enough.

Tris Speaker's hitting and Morton's pitching gave the Indians an easy victory over the Red Sox, the aged Jack Quinn being forced to beat an undignified retreat after pitching one inning.

DEADLY TYPHUS SWEEPS RUSSIA

One Person in Every Four Has Had the Fever—2 to 3 Millions Dead.

By ANNA LOUISE STRONG With the Friens Service in the Near East. (Written exclusively for the United Press.)

WARSAW, Poland.—Not since the great epidemics of the Middle Ages has there been anything to compare with the epidemic of typhus which has devastated Russia and Eastern Europe during the past four years and which again increased last winter.

Figures are now available for the first time to the western world, through the reports now being made at the Joint Sanitary Conference called in Warsaw by the League of Nations.

"Between 20 and 30 million cases of typhus have occurred in Russia during the past four years—about one case for every four or five people in the country, between two and a half and three million deaths have taken place from this cause alone. The actual population of the country has definitely decreased due to it."

These are the statements made by Professor Tarasewitch, Doctor Tarasewitch is well known among European medical men as the president of the Scientific Medical Council of Russia.

The actually reported cases listed by the health authorities during these years were 6,700,000.

During the first years of the war, ty-

Last Night's Fights.

By International News Service. At New York—Joe Burman defeated Bud Dempsey in ten rounds. At Detroit—Sid Barbarian won from Pete Hartley in twelve. At Boston—Jack Perry defeated Eddie Shevlin in ten. At Philadelphia—Len Rowlands won an eight-round bout from Mike Russell. At Columbus, O.—Jock Malone fought a twelve-round draw with Johnny Karr. At Atlantic City—Benny Lopez stopped Al Verbecken in the seventh. At Cincinnati—Tut Jackson knocked out Batling Randolph in the third; Young Sam Langford knocked out Batling Munro in the fourth.

plus increased in sudden spurts from the Turkish and Galician fronts, located in a section of country where the disease is epidemic. With the breaking of the military and civil organization during 1917, the disease began to be carried all over Russia, but its chief focus was in Petrograd in the winter of 1917.

From this point it spread, increasing for two winters to the climax in 1919-20 when there were 3,175,399 cases actually reported, and probably four times that many in actual fact. By last winter the soviet government had become more firmly established, the medical forces were better organized, and the number sank to about one-fourth that of the previous winter. But with the coming of famine this past fall, and the great migrations of population accompanying it, large numbers of new people were brought into contact with infection, in a greatly weakened condition, the disease gathered force again and is already surpassing some very worst records in certain districts.

The most strenuous efforts have not really broken the epidemic. Borne by the hungry refugees, it has swept on into Poland, producing serious conditions, almost to the German border. And therefore it is that the League of Nations is calling its health conference to take measures against the disease.

For the health authorities have discovered, even as the politicians are beginning to discover, that in all that really matters to mankind, boundary lines are imaginary, and when hunger or disease or industrial disorganization stalks forth, no nation suffers alone.

HARRY GREB IS FAVORITE Knockout Is Best Chance for Tunney Tonight.

By International News Service. NEW YORK, May 23.—Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, has been made the favorite over Gene Tunney of New York, the American light-heavyweight champion, in their fifteen-round bout for the title in Madison Square Garden tonight. It is generally admitted that Tunney's best chance to win is by the knockout route. He is fast enough but hardly in Greb's class for speed.

ASSESSOR W. E. PACE BOASTS BEST GARDEN IN CENTRAL MISSOURI

W. E. Pace, county assessor, returned to his office yesterday after a week's vacation. Mr. Pace has been very busy the last two months filing income tax returns and assessing county property and so he decided to take a lay-off and recuperate.

"What have I been doing?" said the assessor, "why, I have made one of the biggest and best gardens in this section of the state, and have growing in it everything from radishes to watermelons. Besides this I have built a garage for my 'Lizzie' and made a number of repairs and needed improvements around the house."

"How do I feel? Well I have started to work with the chickens and quit only when the whistle blew. I am a little browner; my hands somewhat tougher, and after a weeks rest I am quite eager to get back to work. I sure had some vacation but doubt if I take another for some time."

MISS MARY McLENNAN RECEIVES STAGE OFFERS

Stephens College Student With Male Tenor Voice to Begin Singing Career Soon. Miss Mary McLennan, a student at Stephens College, who recently was noted as having a remarkable male tenor voice, has lately received several promising offers from vaudeville and chautauqua companies throughout the United States. The offers come from all directions, New York, San Francisco, Chicago and New Orleans.

Miss McLennan has an exceptionally pleasing voice ranging from an octave above middle C to an octave and one-half below. Although it has only been a few months since the outstanding quality of her voice was discovered, she has already received a veritable shower of offers to go on the stage.

One New York firm has enthusiastically offered to place her before audiences of from 6,000 to 10,000 people daily for a few weeks without further training. Following this try-out the company offers something better, if she desires to stay with them.

Miss McLennan, as yet, has not definitely accepted any one of her many offers. She expects to do so soon, however, for she will be graduated from Stephens College May 30, following which she intends to begin her career.

She has attended Lindenwood College at St. Charles for two years, and last year took lessons under Edna Forsythe, a voice director in Kansas City. All of her instructors are enthusiastically predicting a career for her.

Miss McLennan is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. A. McLennan of Marshall, Mo. She is 20 years old and has taken part in several Stephens College plays.
