1922 SAVITAR IS HONORED

Is Discussed in Artercraft Review as Textbook on Annuals. The position of honor in the first issue of the Artercraft Review, the official publication of the Artercraft Guild, is occupied by an article on the 1922 Savitar. It contains pictures of the editor and business manager and a two-page story in which are the following words: "The final result of this planning and co-operation of the editor, engraver, photographer and printer made the 1922 Savitar the best Savitar ever published at the University of Missouri, and one that is recognized the country over as an annual of unusual merit, and it can be referred to as you would refer to a textbook in the planning of an annual. It is a model of results obtained by a wise and early start, and by a business-like co-operation."

PRETTY COSTUMES SOUGHT

DUSKY YOUTH HAS TRAGEDY

Cosider Overturns But Basket of Laundry Is Finally Saved. It was a real tragedy, and tears were near the surface in the eyes of the young negro boy. His mother's reputation was at stake and it was all his fault. He was returning the weekly wash, after his mother had painstakingly washed and ironed the many pieces until they were as clean as she could make them. All went well until his coarser hit a bump. Then the wagon turned over and the basket of clothes rolled out.

LITTLE THEATER IMPORTANT

Movement Is Universal—Dramatic Arts Club Forms One Here. The Dramatic Arts Club which is composed of faculty members and residents of Columbia who are interested in the more cultural drama, is the Little Theater group of Columbia. The Little Theater movement was started in France many years ago and has developed into a world-wide institution. It is now found in almost every city in the country. It aims to give its members and the citizens of its community the very best in drama and in artistic achievement and thus cause a greater appreciation of the finer arts.

FIND TOMB OF HEROD FAMILY

Explores From University of Pennsylvania Make Discovery. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 24.—The finding of the tomb of Antiochus, first cousin of King Herod the Great, of Bible days, by the expedition from the University of Pennsylvania has been announced by Dr. George B. Gordon, director of the university museum. This is considered one of the most important archeological finds in many years, throwing as it does the first light on contemporary records of the time of Christ. The tomb was found at Beth Shan.
