BATES COUNTY FRUIT RAISERS.

Report of the Proceedings of the Horticultural Society—Interesting Talk.

Butler, Mo., April 18.—The Bates county horticultural society met at their hall yesterday, with Vice President J. B. Enns in the chair. The attendance was small, but the exercises were of an interesting character. The committee on small fruits report all varieties thrifty and giving promise of abundant yield. The Hopkins variety of raspberry was recommended, while the Mammoth water was declared not a success in the history of this society.

The committee on vegetables report that the White Elephant potato produced the greatest crop and could be made a medium between a very early and very late planting. The committee on flowers being absent, few minutes were given to general discussion of the subject.

General discussion on birds and insects elicited remarks from almost every member of the society. It was proposed that this society prepare a petition to present to the state legislature at its next meeting urging them to pass a law protecting birds of all kinds during the entire year.

Dr. Griffith tells us that he will move to Creighton this fall or next spring. We hope, however, that he will change his mind and stay with us.

Mr. Tom Buck is on his farm most of the time now, fixing things up so he can enjoy the shade this summer.

Uncle Brown Coons and daughter, who have been visiting in this vicinity for several weeks, left Wednesday for their home in Rawlins county, Kansas.

Mr. Dan Reitz, of Cass county, is putting up a mill on P. Ewing's farm. Mr. R. will grind corn and make buckwheat cakes. He will put up a cider mill this fall also.

Prof Hinton will be a cold water candidate. He had an occasion to take a cold water bath in Peter Creek while in Mingo last week.

Tobias Hotsinger, of McComb, Ohio, visited at P. Ewing's last week.

"JAKE."

Rosier and Vicinity.

Weather is fine and warm, interspersed with an occasional refreshing shower.

Our farmers are very busy and it is sincerely to be hoped that Providence will be propitious and reward their arduous toils with abundant crops.

The "strike" has been quite a disadvantage to some of our citizens who have stock ready to ship but could not sell because buyers could not secure transportation. But matters have improved measurably and quite a number of sales have recently been made, prices ranging from $4.00 to $4.25 per hundred for cattle, and from $3.25 to $3.50 for hogs, according to grade of stock.

Miss May Evans is assisting Mrs. Dr. Bennett with her household work, and is, we understand, receiving instructions from that lady in music and grammar, two accomplishments without which the modern young lady cannot expect to appear creditably in polite society.

Mr. Thomas Reid, an enterprising young farmer, has recently purchased a neat little cottage from our "smiling druggist" and will make his future home in the little village of Rosier. He and his estimable lady are desirable acquisitions to our society.

Mr. J. E. Stewart has built a residence in town and will follow his trade, that of wagon maker and repairer. Ed is an industrious and honest workman and deserves the patronage he solicits.

Our esteemed fellow citizen Mr. J. H. Norton, having received numerous solicitations to become a candidate for the office of circuit clerk, has concluded to permit the use of his name in connection with that office. Mr. Norton is an honorable christian gentleman, fully competent to discharge the important duties of that high office. Your correspondent feels warranted in predicting that if Mr. Norton should be elected his official career would be satisfactory to his constituents and creditable to himself.

There is quite a temperance element in this community. May their cause continue to grow in importance until it shall have had a hearing, and an earnest consideration from every thinking man and woman in the land.

Candidates are abroad in the land and political matters are being discussed once more. Quite a number have visited this village and seen wonderfully impressed with its beautiful section and magnificent agricultural surroundings. What sociable and agreeable fellows these candidates are! The writer feels grieved that he cannot promise all of them his support. So far as I am informed the following gentlemanly aspirants have adorned our streets: Bra-sher, West, Simpson, Williams, Hinton, Mudd, DeJarnatt and Hanks, Sheriff Hanks, however, was in our community on official business and not on an electioneering "tower."

Mr. C. H. Dallas, district agent for the German Insurance Company of Freeport, Illinois, spent a part of two days in Rosier and vicinity in the interest of his company. Mr. D. is a thorough business man and a hard worker. While here he was the guest of Dr. Bennett, an old acquaintance.

Fearing that I may worry your readers, and consume too much of your valuable space I shall bring this communication to a close. Being a novice I am somewhat at a loss for nom de plume, and for the present you may just call me

Summit Township.

The weather is growing more favorable for the farming community.

The click of the corn planter has been heard again during the past week.

Pet schemes will not pan out in paying quantities on some, as Mr. J. H. W. will testify.

'Squire Allen Wright united in matrimony John Critsinger and Miss Ella Smith, on last Sunday evening. The 'Squire says that he can make a young couple happy as quick as any old hand at the business.

That buss fare completely took us in. We fess up. Now let us talk about some of the other boys.

John L. Moore has a few more fat cattle that he has not disposed of yet. He sold part of his lot that he was feeding to Johnson & Cassity at four cents.

Eldorado Springs is having a temperance boom of late. Between seven and eight hundred have recently signed the pledge. That town certainly needed a reformation of some kind.

Jim T. Williams, of Butler, candidate for recorder, passed through Summit one day last week on his way to Deepwater township.

G. G. Glazebrook has also been in Summit feeling the boys' pulse as to his chances for sheriff.

Keep your eye on—well, the township conventions will do.

Mark the man out of politics that does not attend the township conventions this spring. The most fastidious can certainly be pleased as to number of candidates, if not otherwise.

One of the heaviest rains of the season fell on the night of the 14th. It has almost given those who have been planting corn the blues.

OBSERVER.

South Mount Pleasant.

Farmers busy plowing for corn. All about done sowing oats. No corn planted in this part yet.

The school election passed off quietly. No. 6 elected Henry Fleming, H. C. Sharp and I. Shobe as directors. Mr. Any. Heavlin was elected at the Tripp school, director. He says this is the first office he ever had and it may give him the big head.

Mr. J. C. Morris said that when the Democrats got a president he was going to marry. John we think you had better begin to look her up and stop that cooking and doing your own washing. Look out girls.

There will be a meeting at the Tygard school house Sunday April the 19th at 3 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a Sunday school.

Miss Nannie Heavlin is visiting Miss Mittie Daniels of New Home township.

Big Joe Alsup has gone to work for Mrs. McKissick over in Lost Corner.

El Dorado Springs.

These springs are now four years old, having been discovered July 20th, 1881. Since that date a remarkable change has taken place. From a wilderness of rocks and trees deemed by its former owners fit only for a sheep ranch, has grown a beautiful city of 2,000 inhabitants.

SITUATION.

El Dorado springs is situated in a rough, rocky, and wooded country, in the northwestern corner of Cedar county, Missouri, 14 miles from Walker station and 15 miles from Schell City; these two places being the largest railroad points near. A daily mail is carried between the Springs and Schell City. Visitors can reach the Springs from Walker and Schell City by daily hacks which will carry persons to the best hotels in the town. These hacks bring visitors from all the large cities in the United States.

The main Spring has been walled, covered and sealed and a pagoda built over it. The water escapes some feet from the Spring through a pipe. From this pipe flows continuously a bright pure cold stream of water, which is not diminished by drouth or exceeded by flood. This water cures or helps nearly all diseases except consumption. The Spring is surrounded by a beautiful park, covered with grass and shaded with oak trees. A large summer building has been erected in the park which affords ample seating room. Another Spring is being developed about one fourth of a mile from the main Spring by the Cruse Bros. A beautiful park surrounds this Spring also, and in shade and grass it is equal to the park that encloses the main Spring. The water of this Spring is not so cold as that of the main one, but in time will probably become as favorite a resort as the other Spring.

THE TOWN

is laid out back of the Spring and contains some fine brick buildings. Cruse and Dohy's have just put up the finest brick building in the town to accommodate their banking business. The building is a very large one and is a credit to any town. The town supports 12 hotels and 30 private boarding houses, which are filled to overflowing during the hot months. A Democrat paper called the El Dorado Democrat is published daily and weekly at the Springs; also a Republican paper called the Uncle Sam. El Dorado contains 2 steam bath houses which obtain the water for bathing purposes from large Springs, the water from which is too strong for drinking purposes, but is well adapted to bathing.—There is one church, which also answers for a school house; besides other stores and shops to be found in every first class town. The writer can cheerfully recommend these Springs to persons suffering from rheumatism, dropsy, dyspepsia, and other chronic diseases. Lots can be bought for $40 or $50. Board ranges from $3 to $10 per week. The charges for bathing are very reasonable, being 25 cents per bath or five baths for one dollar. The ground around the Springs is very high and dry and covered with grass and trees which affords an excellent camping ground. Since the discovery of these Springs they have worked wonderful cures and have grown in popularity so that in a few years they will probably become as renowned health resorts as the Hot and Eureka Springs of Arkansas.

How John Was Elected.

New York, April 3.—The politics of one part of the country differ from the politics of another part of the country only as one star differs from the other. So I thought as I chatted to-day with State Senator John Elkins, of Colorado. He is a brother of big Steve Elkins, who managed Blaine's campaign in 1884. He is altogether a different man in appearance. He is tall, like his brother, but is angular and rawboned. He has a big head and aquiline nose. He was a soldier in the confederate service, entering a Missouri regiment at the age of 16 and remaining until the close of the war. When he was running for office a year ago last fall the story was circulated that he had been one of Jeff Thompson's guerrillas. It was important that the story should be refuted, as he was running on the republican ticket and while they might not stick on a confederate soldier, they would on a bushwhacker. So Elkins wrote to his old captain, telling him the situation, except as to what ticket he was running on, and asking for a certificate of his service in the confederate army. I believe this is the first time in his story where a republican candidate has been known to parade his confederate service as a reason for election to office. In due time the letter came back. The captain certified to John's service all right, but concluded the epistle with a remark that had not been invited. He evidently took it for granted that the politics of an old confederate was not republican, for he said: "I take pleasure also in certifying that the said John Elkins has always been a consistent democrat." Elkins was in a quandary. He needed the letter for use to stop the bush-whacker story, and yet it would never do to let it go out in this shape. Finally he said that as the canvass was evidently to be a scratching campaign, he would begin the scratching on the letter. The word democrat, was erased, the word republican was written in, the letter was published, and the campaign was saved.
