

FRANK HOPKIRK'S GALL.

Writes an Insulting Letter to Sheriff Elliston.

Democrat.

The following letter has been received to us by Sheriff Elliston: OMAHA, NEB., May 15th. W. Elliston:

Sir:—I have just received a cut from the Bazaar, in which there is a talk from you. I am surprised at you, having such an opinion of me, could have accepted a valuable present of me. I don't exactly know what manner of man you are, but if you were in your place, rather than have anything in my possession that came from a person of whom I entertained such an uncharitable opinion, I would throw it away. Perhaps you have lately arrived at the conclusion that I am a bad man, and ought to be hung. If so, you no doubt feel the same as I would about taking a present from any one. So, immediately on receipt of this, and the article in question to my mother, and she will forward it to you, as I shall direct. I cannot believe that you could have thought to mean of one and treated me so well while I was in your custody, and I am more inclined to think you talk a little electioneering than anything else.

My love to all my Henry county friends. You can tell them that I will not bother them right away with my cut—but after I make my pile out of the land of the setting sun, I will come far distant day wander back to buy out the Bazaar and run for Sheriff of Henry county. You see I am anxious to return good for evil.

Before closing, I would respectfully submit an observation to your personal. Said observation is short, but it is exceedingly sweet: With the greatest disrespect to you, sir, you are a d—double-faced sneak, and have not half the manhood about you as some of the prisoners you have taken to the pen.

Respectfully,

FRANK HOPKIRK.

The present alluded to by this base scoundrel is the revolver with which he shot old man Wells. It was stolen from Sheriff Elliston by somebody, and perhaps has long since been returned to Hopkirk. We believe this to be true, else the last paragraph would not have been inserted in Hopkirk's letter.

The Jefferson City Judges who turned Hopkirk loose can read this letter, and then ponder over the sacredness of the habeas corpus act, as applied to the cases of such double dyed criminals as Hopkirk.

An Anarchist's Story.

Cleveland, O., May 19.—John Webster a year ago was a prominent socialist in this city, but at the time of the Cleveland rolling mill strike, in which he was implicated, he went to Chicago. While there he became a member of the anarchist society of which Parsons and August Spies were leading spirits, and after the Haymarket affair thought it prudent to return to Cleveland, where he is raising funds for the "cause." To a friend he gave the following account of the killing of the police in Chicago, which was in turn told your correspondent. "After the trouble at the McCormack works Monday afternoon, a special meeting of our club was called to take action. Spies, who is our president, called the meeting to order and a committee consisting of Parsons and two others, was appointed to draw up a manifesto. This was not the one headed: "Revenge! Workingmen, to arms!" The advisability of using dynamite in the police interfered with any our meetings was discussed, and it was decided that twenty bombs should be prepared for the next night (Tuesday). Volunteers were called for to perform the part of throwing them, but no one wished to speak up, fearing arrest, should it become known who had offered to act. It was then suggested that 500 ballots be distributed, and that a skull and crossbones be inscribed upon twenty of them. The persons who drew the latter ballots were expected to procure bombs and be on hand. This was done, and the chief, Spies, is the only man who knows who were drawn. I know that the twenty men received their bombs.

"To arms!" was the signal for the throwing of bombs. The meeting was almost over Tuesday night when the police ordered the anarchists to disperse, and it is presumed that the other nineteen men had started for home or were injured by the discharge of the police revolvers which immediately followed the throwing of the first bomb. If the police had appeared one hour sooner there would have been terrible havoc, and mighty few of the blue coats would have escaped. They are not subdued yet, and they are not surprised if another outbreak occurs.

Eds. Globe:—There has been considerable talk about who shall be our next Circuit Judge, and as this is an office in which our citizens are more or less particularly interested, I trust you will allow me space for a few remarks upon the subject. With the farmers and democrats of this section the mention of T. W. Silvers met with a hearty and strong endorsement. Our people seem to think that one who made us an able and efficient prosecuting attorney would also make a first-class Circuit Judge.

We recognize in Mr. Silvers many of the qualifications necessary to be possessed by a fair, honest and upright circuit judge, and we would have been pleased to have seen his name pushed into the canvas, but as the bar of the county has unanimously called for Hon. D. A. DeArmond, we await the decision of that gentleman, deferring our opinion for the opinion of those more competent to judge in such matters.

We recognize the ability of Judge DeArmond, but trust that he may not keep us awaiting his decision much longer, as it has been some three weeks since the call for him was made. If he declines we should have the time and opportunity of selecting another man and not let Bates county go by default in this very important office. Should Judge DeArmond decide not to make the race, the democrats of this section think that there is not a better stock of material in the district than T. W. Silvers in such matters.

HUDSON DEMOCRAT.

Two laborers, T. P. Barrett and Richard Hagan, residents of Tusculumbia, capized a skiff in the Osage river about 10 o'clock Saturday, and were both drowned. They were engaged in raising a wire cable from the river, which had been used for conveying the ferryboat across the river, but was broken off at one end by a log floating down the river during a freshet. The steamer Fredrick made an unsuccessful attempt to rescue them. The bodies have been found. Barrett leaves a widow and three children, Hagan a widow and two small children.—Jefferson City Tribune.

Danville, Va., May 19.—A desperate fight occurred to-night at Martinville between Col. D. P. Spencer and the Terry brothers, J. K. Terry was killed and his brothers, and Col. Spencer, Tarleton Brown, Hugh Dyer, Robert Gregory and two negroes were frightfully, if not fatally, wounded.

AMISSOURIAN HIGHLY HONORED

Rev. Dr. Hendrix' Selection to a Bishopric—This City to be the Bishop's Home.

Kansas City Times.

E. L. Scarritt last night received telegrams from J. S. Chiles and Rev. C. C. Wood to the effect that Rev. Dr. E. R. Hendrix, president of Central college, Fayette, Mo., had been elected bishop by the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in session at Richmond, Va. The election was to fill one of the vacancies caused by the death of four bishops since the last general conference. Dr. Hendrix was the first bishop elected, and his election occurred on the first ballot.

The honor bestowed is a double one. Dr. Hendrix, who is but 38 years of age, besides being the youngest bishop ever elected by the conference, is the first Missouri to have since the death of Bishop Marvin, in 1876. Bishop Hendrix is a native of Howard county, Mo., and is a son of the late Adam Hendrix, a prominent banker of Central Missouri. He graduated at Central college, then at Yale, and afterward at the Wesleyan divinity school of New York. After preaching two years in Brooklyn he came west and joined the Missouri conference, being stationed successively at Macon, St. Joseph and Glasgow. From the latter place he was in 1878 appointed president of Central College, a position he has since occupied. In 1872 he married Miss Anne Scarritt, a daughter of Rev. Nathan Scarritt, of this city. Four years later he made a trip around the world with Bishop Marvin, and on his return wrote a descriptive book on the civilizing influence of Christianity in China, Japan, Africa and the West Indies. The work is one of the most exhaustive ever written on the subject, and has a wide circulation. In 1885 he was chairman of the national centenary committee which raised $2,000,000 for the various church funds. Besides being one of the most scholarly men in the church, he is one of its best preachers. His advancement will accrue to the advantage of Kansas City, as he will make this city his home. He will purchase a residence on the east side and will remove his family here this summer. His district will include the conferences in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado, and several on the Pacific coast.

It will not disappoint you. It is the best article known for purifying the blood and building up health and strength. For 25 years erysipela broke out in blotches on my face. I found no cure until I used Parkers Tonic two years ago. no23 1m
