From Constable Arnold we learn that Oliver Freeman lost a very fine mule Friday night. It got hurt on the manger.

From present prospects the farmer that sits on the fence and howls calamity this fall will be considered a misfit granger.

The spring term of circuit court at Nevada, which adjourned last week increased the population of the penitentiary nine.

The county court should not long be put off trimming the trees in the court yard. This is the opinion of our citizens in general.

Do you read the testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla? They are thoroughly reliable and worthy your confidence.

Patronize the lake.

By the last of the week the farmers will be chin deep in the harvest field.

Chas. Denny, one of the pioneer subscribers to the booming Times, was in to see us Saturday and renewed.

The street would present a much neater appearance if all property owners would cut the weeds and grass in front of their premises.

Mrs. T. P. Baldwin, of Concordia, Kansas, who has been in the city visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Judge Brown, returned home Saturday.

Everett Walton and George Patrick came home Saturday to spend a few days with their families. Both are holding positions in St. Louis as street car conductors.

The lake and park grounds have been thrown open for the use and benefit of the public. Now let us patronize this pleasure resort to the extent it deserves.

Ira McConnell, formerly postal clerk from Kansas City to Joplin, has returned to Butler to reside for the summer and will assist D. N. Thompson on his farm north of town.

The State editorial convention meets in Clinton to-day and will remain in session until Saturday. An excursion will be taken to the World's Fair. The Times wish the pencil pushers a good time.

Carter Wallace, of near Virginia, shipped his hogs to the Kansas City market last week, unfortunately he struck a down market and did not get what he expected.

Ed. Hulse, has secured a clerkship in the clothing store of M. K. Weil, of Kansas City, and will leave the first of the month to enter upon the discharge of his duties.

A band of desperadoes attempted to rob a train near Council Bluffs, Iowa, Friday night. They fired a volley at the engineer and fireman, who refused to stop the train, without damage.

Chas. W. Mosher, president of the wrecked Capital National bank of Lincoln Nebraska, appeared in court at Omaha, Saturday, pleaded guilty to falsifying the book of the bank and was given a term of years in the penitentiary.

Peter Renfrow, under sentence of death for killing a Shannon county constable and who several months ago escaped from the jail in Springfield, it is said has been located in a cave near his home in Shannon county.

Virgil Stinson acted as cashier at a church fair social at Sedalia Thursday night. While on his way home in company with his wife, he was held up by two negro foot pads and robbed of the $40 church fund.

Jennie Rogers, of Springfield, ran away from home with a drummer. Arriving at Denver she found that he was a married man. Penniless and ruined she is longing for an opportunity to return home.

Isaac A. McGill, charged with forgery was arraigned in court Saturday and entered a plea of not guilty. There are three indictments against McGill, for forging notes on a couple of banks in the county.

The six white prisoners in the jail awaiting trial for different offenses are all stout hearty young men, single and capable of making an honest and respectable living. Their plight should certainly be a warning to others.

Mrs. Harvey Lamb, while crossing the railroad track at Pleasant Hill, Friday evening was struck by an engine and quite seriously injured. Her left foot was badly crushed and she was otherwise injured about the head and face. Mrs. Lamb is a daughter-in-law of Alex. Lamb of this city.

Judge Boxley will be kept busy for a week or so prosecuting evil doers. Among the number are eight confined in jail awaiting their turn at the mill.

Mrs. O. D. Austin and daughter, Miss Nellie, gave a phonograph recital to their neighbors and friends Monday evening. An enjoyable time was had by all present.

Jack Leonard, charged with stealing an overcoat from the Day House in this city several months ago, was arraigned in court Saturday and allowed to enter a plea of not guilty.

Misses Anna Walker and Stella Smith took their departure Monday night to visit in the east, the former going to Columbus, Ohio, to spend the summer and the latter to Indianapolis.

Lightning struck the large barn of J. W. Miller, in Carthage Friday and the building was nearly destroyed by fire. Fifty head of horses were in the barn at the time and escaped without injury.

W. Toney and Wm. Burton were arraigned before Hon. Judge Lay Saturday charged with robbery and shooting at P. A. Mays. Both entered pleas of not guilty. These gentlemen hail from Rich Hill.

The improvements on the Christian church were begun last week. The addition being built will cost about $1,200 and will add materially to the looks and convenience of the edifice.

Our esteemed friend J. M. Pulliam of Adrian neighborhood, gave us a pleasant call Saturday and renewed for another year. He reported the country prosperous in his section, and prospects good for an abundant crop.

The contract for building the new South Methodist church building in this city was not let Saturday last as anticipated. W. W. Ross was the lowest bidder, but we understand the bids overreached the funds raised for the purpose of erecting the building and new plans will be submitted.

We learn that Charley Morris, son of George Morris of New Home township, took morphine Sunday last with suicidal intent. Several physicians were summoned and at last accounts he was still alive. The cause is supposed to be a disagreement with his stepmother. He is about 18 years of age.

Ed Slayback, son of C. B. Slayback living near Spruce, died Monday evening. His disease was something in the nature of consumption and one week ago he returned home from California, having gone there in search of health. He was a promising young man and belonged to one of Bates county's best families. The aged parents have the sympathy of a host of friends in their sad affliction.

At a meeting of the Missouri Horticultural society at Rosedale Saturday reports were received that orchards were in a very bad condition the best apple crops are in the northern and central portions of the state. It is estimated by the society that the apple crop of the state will not be more than 25 per cent. The crops of Arkansas, Iowa and Kansas are reported to be in a worse condition than Missouri.

Cards are out announcing the wedding of Mr. Sam'l F. Canterbury and Miss Mabel McKibben. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's parents, this city, Wednesday of next week. The bride intended, is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. M. McKibben. Mr. Canterbury, now cashier of the new bank at West Plains, Mo., was raised in Butler, is a young man of ability sterling integrity, and is destined to make one of the state's foremost business men.

Geo. Hurlburt, arrested at Rich Hill some time ago, for shooting at Cal Garrison, and carrying concealed weapons, pleaded guilty Saturday in court and was fined $50. Not having the money to pay his fine he was sent to jail to eat it out. Hurlburt, it will be remembered attempted to burn the work house several weeks ago and being unmanageable was taken to the Clinton jail. He claimed he was just getting off a spree when placed in jail and was not accountable for his acts at the time.

A. S. Arnold shot his wife at Leavenworth Sunday and then committed suicide. He shot twice at his wife with a pistol, yet nine distinct wounds were found on her person. She was confronting her husband, with arms folded when he fired the first shot. The bullet passed through both forearms and lodged in the abdomen. Naturally the woman's hands dropped after the first fire and the second shot passed through the right arm just above the wrist, entered the groin and passed out near the thigh. She will probably recover. He died immediately. Family trouble.

The trees in the court yard should be thinned out and trimmed up.

Some good horse racing at the park would be a good advertisement for the grounds.

Trade was good in Butler Saturday. The city was full of people and money seemed plentiful.

Isn't it about time to again utilize the court yard for religious exercises of evenings?

The tame hay crop is reported to be short this season, and hay will certainly be in good demand at fair prices in the fall.

Childrens Day seems to be a more attractive feature of religious services in this city than preaching. At least the former seems to draw the largest crowds.

For Sale: A number one street grader in good repair. Hasn't been used for two years and not likely to be on the streets of Butler so long as the present mayor presides.

The Rich Hill coal miners have thus far refused to strike. The Kansas miners who inaugurated the strike some time ago are no nearer a solution of the disputed question than when they walked out. Summer is a bad time for coal miners to strike.

Harry Robinson, superintendent of the water works company has put a motor in his residence which runs the family sewing machine and a fan at the table. It is a handsome little piece of machinery, quite useful and convenient and will no doubt be used by a number of families.

W. B. Sanford, of Springfield, Mo., is in the city shaking hands with old settlers. He is a son of Wyatt Sanford, deceased, who was county treasurer of Bates at the breaking out of the war. The son was two years of age, when they left here in 1860, consequently only knows old citizens by hearing his parents speak of them.

Dr. Boulware informs us that Martin Douglass, so badly hurt by the train a few days ago, is improving, and he now has hopes of saving his foot. He has been compelled to remove small pieces of flesh and bone, but circulation seems to be all right in his toes and the danger line of losing his foot has almost passed.

Will Tucker, guard at the penitentiary, who was so severely stabbed with a knife by a negro convict a short time ago, arrived in town last week accompanied by R. J. Starke. Mr. Tucker came to visit his brother George for a few days and see other friends. He has about recovered from his injuries and is looking quite well to have had such a close call for his life. The terrible knife he received does not deter him, as he says he expects to return to Jefferson City in a few days and enter upon the discharge of his duties, taking the same position he held before getting hurt.

Elmer McDaniel, charged with horse stealing, was brought into court Saturday and plead not guilty. The theft was committed more than two years ago. The horse was stolen from E. Caryer, a farmer living a few miles north of this city. McDaniel brought the horse to town and sold it to John W. Smith, then in the livery business in this city. The check given him by Mr. Smith was cashed and the young man took his departure. A short time afterward he was arrested at St. Joseph for burglary and sentenced to the penitentiary where he remained for two years. On being liberated a short time ago an officer from this place, rearrested him at the gate of the penitentiary and brought him to this city to stand trial for the above offense.

Bob Walters gets exasperatingly funny at our expense. But we don't treasure up any hard feelings against Bob on that account, because he can't help it. It is said that where the arrow from cupid's bow once strikes its mark the love sick swain forthwith sees fun in everything; the brook babbles in glee and the gentle zephyrs laugh aloud in their sport through hanging boughs. It is said that Bob gets so full of (fun) that he has to go to the banks of the Marias Des Cygnes and laugh to the running waters. His friends became very uneasy and talked of having the county court called in extra session to try his case, but feared the Nevada people would not treat him well. But Bob will get over it. All the world loves a lover and overlook his frivolities.

Don't You Know

That to have perfect health you must have pure blood, and the best way to have pure blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier and strength builder. ### Lane & Adair.

The mammoth advertisement of this enterprising firm will be found on the first page of this paper. They are offering special inducements to those desiring to buy dry goods and shoes. They handle none but the best the market affords and just now they are giving the ladies a benefit in low prices on summer dress goods. Their stock in this line is complete, new and fresh, and those needing or wanting a dress pattern will do well to call without delay. It is now not business for a merchant to carry over to another season this class of goods, therefore Lane & Adair propose to give you a chance to save money by buying of them now. Call at their store, you will find it is no trouble to show goods and they will take pleasure in showing you through their handsome line of dress goods, etc. Don't think you can buy elsewhere for less money. You can't do it, and a call at their store will convince you of that fact. Remember, Lane & Adair, next door to Farmers' Bank. Read their advertisement.

State Superintendent of public schools Wolfe has decided to hold the southwest school institute at Nevada. The date fixed for the opening of the institute is August 7th and will continue in session until August 25th. A tuition of $5 will be charged. At the close of the institution those who pass the examination will be entitled to a state certificate for three years. W. J. Hawkins of Nevada, and J. M. White, of Carthage will be two of the instructors the third instructor has not yet been elected.

Injured in a Wreck.

V. D. Snyder, of this city, was injured in a wreck on the Missouri Pacific road near Wichita Saturday evening. A freight train on a cross road ran into the car in which Mr. Snyder was riding. From the best reports we can gather he was struck in the back and his spine was seriously injured. He is not able to stand the trip home. Our information is that his lower limbs are paralyzed. There is no doubt but that he is seriously if not fatally injured.

Farmers are making hay while the sun shines and as a consequence times are very dull in Butler.
