REVISING THE TARIFF.

Considerable Progress Has Been Made With the Bill.

IT IS SOON TO BE REPORTED.

Lead Ore Will Probably Be Placed on the Free List.

Washington, D. C. Oct. 15.—The Democratic members of the ways and means committee here to have the tariff bill reported within a month and to have it passed the House before the holidays. This indicates that considerable progress has been made with the bill, but it is not anticipated in the schedules yet to arrange how much time will be consumed, as it will be necessary to have the bill considered by the full committee and its opponents given an opportunity to make a minority report before the bill has been reported to the House. It is known by the Republican members of the committee that great haste has been made with the bill and there was great anxiety to get other pressing business out of the way in order that the tariff bill may have a clear field when it is reported. Members of the majority say that everybody expects a change in the tariff rates, and it is well for business men to know at an early date what changes may be looked for in the House bill.

Great secrecy has been enjoined upon all members who have the preparation of the tariff bill, because when once it is stated that a certain reduction has been arranged for, representatives are sent to Washington to argue before the committee on the proposed changes. Considerable interest has been manifested by the iron producing States as to what was to be done with iron ore, and it looks very much as if iron ore would follow coal into the free list. It is claimed that the only iron ore imported, or that can be imported, is a little from Cuba, and perhaps from one or two points in Canada. The iron producing regions along the Great lakes will object to this step, but it is understood the counter argument that the undeveloped iron mines of Canada, far from railroads, cannot enter into competition with the best iron producing and best worked mines on this side of the border.

Another ore that will probably be restored to the free list is lead. This lead ore is largely imported from Mexico and is used for smelting. One Kansas City concern has paid about $7,000,000 duty on lead ore so imported since the McKinley law went into effect. The smelters on the Southwestern border have also asked that this duty be remitted. The mining States, or some of them, will try to prevent the restriction of free lead ore, but it seems to have been determined upon.

Mr. Bryan of Nebraska, who is a member of the committee on ways and means, advocates an income tax to be made a part of the tariff bill. If it is not incorporated he will present it to the House in some form. The young Nebraska statesman thinks he has solved what is considered the most objectionable feature of the income tax proposition, the inquisitorial feature. He would have it made the duty of every person liable to a tax upon his income to go to the officers and pay it and not subject him to the system of prying agents of the government which has been suggested as its disagreeable feature. He thinks those who had no desire to escape the payment of the tax would object to the inquisition.

He will propose a tax on all incomes above $2,500 at the rate of 1 per cent, on $5,000; 4 per cent on $10,000; 6 per cent on $25,000, and 10 per cent on $50,000. His plan is to have the postmasters in towns of 10,000 population or less collect the income taxes, and in the large cities a special tax collector to be appointed. He has been getting some information from foreign countries on the subject, and thus will be able to present the matter to the House in a manner that will give the proposition the support of the majority. He says it solves the question of raising revenue and gives the party the opportunity to carry out the plan of tariff reduction to which it is pledged. He does not know yet whether his plan will be accepted by the Democrats of the ways and means committee, as it has not been discussed to any great length.

EAST AND SOUTH ISOLATED.

A Vast Storm Cuts Off Communication For Many Hours.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Late yesterday afternoon New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington, as well as all the cities on the South Atlantic coast were practically cut off from communication with the entire world by a hurricane which swept up the coast from the West Indies and laid low the telegraph and telephone wires in its path.

The great storm continued all night and this morning with never lessening violence and at 11 o'clock to day wires were working only as far east as the Allegheny mountains. The country of the farther slope of the mountains was cut off almost as if it had suddenly sunk in the sea.

The prostration is said to be about the most complete on record. The only case approaching a parallel, so far at least as wire communication is concerned, was the extraordinary

New York blizzard in which Roscoe Conkling lost his life. This, however, only affected a comparatively small stretch of territory, while today almost the entire Atlantic coast was cut off and the effects of the storm were felt over a thousand miles inland.

FLORIDA STORM SWEPT.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 14.—The whole of the state of Florida was swept by the great storm of Thursday and there is little question that millions of dollars' damage has been done. There is almost no communication with the coast by telegraph or rail and the worst is feared.

At Smyrna, Polo Beach, Mayport and other points near here many houses were blown away and the towns more or less flooded.

St. Augustine was for a time almost completely under water and many stores and residences were damaged but no lives were lost.

The orange crop in the eastern portion of the state, about which much alarm has been felt on account of the advanced stage of the fruit, is considered injured in many places and in a number of groves the ground is covered with oranges, lemons and limes. The loss thus sustained will probably reach into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Showed Wonderful Nerve.

Atchison, Kan., Oct. 15.—A tramp giving his name as Joseph Little, had his right arm cut off by a Rock Island passenger train last night. Little got drunk and laid down along side of the track and fell to sleep. When he awoke two hours later he was minus a good right arm. Little declares he did not know when the accident occurred for more than two hours after the train passed by. He walked to town a distance of three miles, and a physician amputated his arm just above the elbow.

A Chicago firm has taken the contract to build a railroad from Haifa to Damascus, and the clang of the bell of an American engine will resound through the holy land, while the click of American paper wheels on American steel will lull the Syrian to slumber and furnish the Mohammedans a skeleton rhythm to hang their heathen prayers upon. The smoke from an American smoke stack will settle over the Sea of Galilee, and the roar of the train crossing the trestle over the Jordan will drown the words of the American brakeman as he sticks his head in the coach to announce the name of the next stopping place. Great is the American eagle with the tip of one wing on the North pole and the other sheltering the holy land—Kansas City Star.

In 1810 Ste. Genevieve was the point where St. Louis purchased supplies. The former town secured goods chiefly from Philadelphia, and it required four months to make the round trip.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue and authority of a general execution issued from the office of the clerk of the circuit court of Bates county, Missouri, returnable at the Nov. term, 1893, of said court to me directed in favor of David A. DeArmond and Thomas J. Smith and against Mary A. Shannon and Morris D. Shannon, I have levied and seized upon all right, title, interest and claim of, in and to the following described real estate situated in Bates county, Missouri, to-wit:

Also lots five and six of the northeast quarter of section 2, township 39, of range 31.

Also the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter and northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section No. 23, township 41, range 31, all in Bates county, Mo., I will, on

D. A. COLYER,
48-4t Sheriff of Bates County.
