Tough Assails An Officer.

Kansas City Times, 7th
Detective Haldeman, who is attached to the Walnut street police precinct, appears to be a mark for law breakers, who take delight in trying to beat him.

Five months ago, Haldeman attempted to arrest Walter Evans, a notorious member of the Broadway dirty dozen gang, who was fighting with some women at Nineteenth and Walnut streets. He made the arrest, but Evans turned suddenly and struck Haldeman in the face and started to run. He was stopped by a bullet from the detective's revolver, which shattered the bone in one of his ankles and necessitated the amputation of the foot.

Yesterday afternoon Haldeman was the subject of another attack, which was brutal in its nature and entirely unprovoked. There might have been a fatal shooting but for the interference of Deputy Sheriff Harry Preston, who though an uninterested person, took a hand in the affair long enough to prevent Haldeman from shooting his assailant. His plea that he had acted his part as the friend of Haldeman is alone responsible for his being let off without prosecution. Haldeman was desirous of entering a plea against Preston, but his plea saved him.

It was about 5:30 o'clock and Haldeman had been attracted by quarreling in front of a little store near Fifteenth street and Grand avenue. Two young men were berating the proprietor of the store in a lively manner, and Haldeman in the effort to secure quiet, asked them to desist. They laughed at him. Then Haldeman placed the two young men under arrest and started with them to the signal box at the southwest corner of Fifteenth street and Grand avenue to call the wagon from the Walnut street station.

HIS SHOT IS HARMLESS.

He had taken out his key to open the box when he was struck from behind, the blow landing under his right ear. Haldeman released his two prisoners to defend himself against his new adversary, when he met a shower of blows that discomfited him and almost sent him to the ground. Haldeman could see the outline of a big man in front of him working his arms very rapidly and he could feel the effects of blows resulting from that rapid working, but he was powerless to fight back. So he drew his revolver. He leveled it at the man in front of him and pulled the trigger. Haldeman is a good shot, having been in the government service for a number of years, and the shot from his revolver would have gone true, but here is where Deputy Sheriff Preston showed his skill. He happened to be passing when the fighting between Haldeman and the big man was going on but did not interfere until Haldeman, beaten and bleeding, resorted to the use of his revolver. Then Preston grabbed Haldeman's arm as he pulled the trigger of his weapon and the bullet sped harmlessly into the ground.

Haldeman was exceedingly mad by this time and showed his star to Preston and shouted to him to let him alone. But still Preston held on to his arm. After he realized that it was of no avail to continue his efforts in the line of revolver practice Haldeman turned and looked at this first assailant. He was a strapping big fellow and looked the bully. Haldeman called on some of the hands from the Metropolitan Street Railway company's headquarters and they took charge of the big fellow and Preston until Haldeman could call assistance from the Walnut street station. Patrolman McNamara arrived in the wagon in answer to the summons and Preston and the assailant of Haldeman were taken to the Walnut street station.

C. F. Haldeman was formerly a prominent citizen of the northwest part of Bates county, was an active democratic politician and was well known in the county. When General Shelby was appointed U. S. Marshal, he made Haldeman a deputy and after his term he secured a position on the police force of Kansas City as a detective.

Yellow Jaundice Cured.

Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from Yellow Jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters; and after taking two bottles, I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours, M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Ky. Sold by H. L. Tucker, druggist."

Fort Scott, Kan. Oct. 6.—Twenty-eight head of 2-year-old steers were stolen from A. N. Corbin's pasture near Blue Mound last Monday night, and Corbin who is a wealthy stock raiser, has just recovered them from a man who was driving them through the Indian territory. The steers were valued at $1,400 and were supposed to have been stolen by professional cattle thieves, who had been stripping all summer from Fall River a small town near Fredonia. The man in whose possession they were found claims to have bought them from a stranger. Mr. Corbin followed the cattle about 100 miles and spent much money employing men and means to assist in their recovery.

Shoots His Father-in-Law.

FT. SCOTT, Kan., Oct. 7.—Emmett Quiry, a clerk in the Missouri Pacific shops here, this evening shot and probably fatally injured his father-in-law, Capt. J. I. Tipton, a prominent old sailor and ex-policeman. Tipton had just returned from Yale, Kan., where he had charge of a force of guards at the mines to prevent depredations by strikers. He became intoxicated and threatened to kill his son-in-law all the afternoon, even going so far as to telephone him of his intention.

At 6:30 they met at Quiry's home. Tipton pounded Quiry with his fist and then got a shot gun to kill him, when Quiry shot him three times, one ball entering the mouth. Quiry was not arrested. Mrs. Quiry, who is a daughter of Tipton's, has just gone to Lebanon, Ill., to visit.

The special fashion number of Harper's Bazar, published October 7th, contains a comprehensive and authoritative presentation of autumn and winter fashions. The number is elaborately illustrated, and gives full descriptions of the reception gowns, outing costumes, capes, wraps, house gowns, and negligee costumes which will be worn during the coming autumn and winter. The large number of new and original fashions-hints make this issue invaluable to every woman.

BRYAN SURE TO WIN.

that year on comparatively the same basis and contain essentially the same planks as in 1896.

The party would declare for free silver at the same ratio, and he thought about the only addition to or change in the party platform of any moment would be a plank relative to anti-imperialism. That, he asserted, would undoubtedly be one of the important issues of the campaign. He refused to discuss the matter any more than to say with a wave of his hand, "everybody knows what imperialism means. The question under discussion means just the reverse."

ANTI-IMPERIALISM AN ISSUE.

DECLARES DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM WILL EMPHASIZE THIS FACT.

CROKER IS ALREADY IN LINE.

New York, Oct. 8.—United States Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas chairman of the democratic national committee, and wife, were passengers on the Cunard liner steamship Laetitia that reached New York city to-day. They have been traveling in England, Ireland, Scotland, Switzerland and Wales for several months. Senator Jones said that he had been much benefitted by his lengthy European travels, and felt ready to go into the hard work necessary in getting ready for the presidential campaign.

Senator Jones when asked to give his views on the political situation, said that owing to his long absence abroad he was not as fully informed as to political conditions as he hoped to be in a few weeks. When asked his opinion as to the probability of democratic nomination for the presidency going to William J. Bryan, he said: "There is no doubt that Bryan will receive the democratic nomination for president," and added: "Has anybody any doubt on that question? Bryan is sure to win."

On the attitude of Richard Croker as to the nomination of Bryan for president, Senator Jones has little to say, merely replying to a direct question, "Croker is already in line."

As to the possible outcome of the national campaign of 1900, Senator Jones said he believed that the free silver idea would have a greater following than in the campaign of 1896. He based his assertion on the fact that the democratic party would receive support in 1900 from a new source.

"In 1896," he said, "there were many republicans and others who believed that when the republican party declared for bimetalism, the declaration was made in all good faith and sincerity. These same men now doubt the sincerity of that plank of the republican platform."

EFFECTS OF A LEAGUE'S PROSPERITY.

When asked what effect he thought the alleged prosperity would have on the voters in general he said in emphatic tones: "It will effect only those men who are very narrow in their political and social views. But voter it will influence, but in reality it will be an argument in favor of our party."

He said that it was his opinion that the opposing presidential candidates in 1900 would be Bryan and McKinley. The democratic platform he declared, would be launched in that year on comparatively the same basis and contain essentially the same planks as in 1896.

The party would declare for free silver at the same ratio, and he thought about the only addition to or change in the party platform of any moment would be a plank relative to anti-imperialism. That, he asserted, would undoubtedly be one of the important issues of the campaign. He refused to discuss the matter any more than to say with a wave of his hand, "everybody knows what imperialism means. The question under discussion means just the reverse."

EVERY woman suffering from any female trouble can be helped by Mrs. Pinkham.

This statement is based on sound reasoning and an unrivalled record. Multitudes of America's women to-day bless Mrs. Pinkham for competent and common-sense advice. Write to her if you are ill. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Absolutely no charge is made for advice. "I suffered seven years and would surely have died but for your help," writes Mrs. Geo. BAINBRIDGE, Morea, Pa., to Mrs. Pinkham.

"It is with pleasure I now write to inform you that I am now a healthy woman, thanks to your kind advice and wonderful medicine. I can never praise it enough. I was a constant sufferer from womb trouble, and leucorrhoea, had a continual pain in abdomen. Sometimes I could not walk across the floor for three or four weeks at a time. Since using your medicine, I now have no more bearing-down pains, or tired feelings, and am well and hearty. I shall recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all my suffering friends as the greatest remedy for all female weakness."

Mrs. SUSIE J. WEAVER, 1821 Callowhill St., Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I had inflammation of the womb and painful menstruation, and by your advice I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Have taken four bottles and used one package of Sanative Wash and feel like a new woman. I thank you so much for what your medicine has done for me."

Mrs. M. BAUMANN, 771 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "After two months' trial of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I can not say enough in praise for it. I was a very sick woman with womb trouble when I began its use, but now I am well."

First Death from Smallpox.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 6.—The first death at the smallpox camp occurred last night. Health Commissioner Cunningham is now a patient at the pest camp. There is little doubt now that the epidemic is smallpox. Dr. Coffin of Kansas City, visited the camp as an expert yesterday and pronounced the contagion smallpox. There are fifty-five persons now at the camp near Zoo park. The prison camp, under quarantine south of the city five miles, has ten patients. The disease is chiefly among the negroes, and the board of education will hold a meeting to-morrow to decide whether to close the negro schools.

KIDNEY Is a deceptive disease—thousands have it and TROUBLE don't know it. If you want quick results you can make no mistake by using Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy. At druggists in 50 cent and dollar sizes. Sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlets telling you how to find out if you have kidney trouble. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
