BECAME A HUMAN CUSHION

A New York Bridgeman Fell 85 Feet on His Fellow Workman.

New York, Sept. 10.—Andrew Baunach of Catskill, N. Y., is dying in Fordham hospital of injuries received by falling eighty-five feet from a railroad bridge over Croton creek, where he was at work. Baunach landed on his back and formed a cushion for the body of John Costello a fellow workman, who fell from the same spot. Costello was uninjured. Baunach, Costello and another workman had shouldered a steel beam and started for the middle of the structure. Baunach slipped. The heavy burden made it impossible for him to regain his balance. He tottered back several feet and fell. Costello's end of the beam bore him down, and he, too, fell. The third man was pinned to the structure and saved from falling. Baunach probably was ten feet from Costello in the fall. He turned over several times before he struck. Costello fell on him sideways and was momentarily stunned. He quickly recovered and helped remove Baunach to the hospital.

TO FILL PORT ARTHUR MOAT

Japanese Agents at Chefoo Sending 60,000 Gunny Sacks to Besiegers.

Chefoo, Sept. 10.—Well informed Japanese who reached Chefoo from Port Dalry to day report that the Japanese army before Port Arthur is preparing to make another assault upon the fortress. Japanese agents here are sending to Port Dalry 70,000 gunny sacks and are endeavoring to secure 60,000 more. It is reported that these sacks are to be filled with sand and used to fill up portions of the moat protecting the Russian right flank. The Chinese report that the Russians are paying fifty cents each for unexploded shells manufactured for use during the Chinese-Japanese war. The persistency of this report during the last two weeks entitles it to considerable consideration, as indicating a shortage of large ammunition at Port Arthur.

Beck May Be Innocent.

London, Sept. 8.—The home secretary, Mr. Akers-Douglas, has appointed a commission to inquire into the circumstances of the convictions of Adolph Beck, who was convicted in 1896 and served one sentence of seven years, and who was again convicted, but was granted a "free pardon" when it developed that it had been conclusively proven that both his convictions were founded on mistaken identity. The case has caused a great sensation, especially in view of the re-aroused interest in the Maybrick case, and the charge against the police of conspiracy to secure the conviction of an innocent man is freely and openly made. The government has offered Beck, as compensation, $10,000, which he refused on the ground that it was not sufficient. He demanded a full inquiry, which is backed up by the public and the press. The case is expected to develop a further sensation reflecting on the police conduct of the case. In both instances Beck was charged with obtaining money and jewelry from women under false pretenses, and his convictions were secured on the evidence of women who identified him. Recently, however, a mangling the name of John Smith was arrested and confessed that he was the man who was convicted in 1877 on the same charge.

Girl Walks in Sleep Through Thunderstorm.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 7.—"If you will spend a half hour in the open air you will be a wiser girl again." This is the queer message that Miss Ora Clark, a young woman residing seven miles east of this city, received in a dream, and, although she is not completely well, her improvement in the past two days has been remarkable. With the vivid impression of the dream in her mind, Miss Clark, while yet asleep, arose from her bed, and without waking any members of the family crept quietly out of the house into the storm and made her way to the home of Doctor McBride, the family physician, in Dayton. Undaunted by the blackness of the night, the terrific crash of thunder and the heavy downpour of rain, the girl made her journey.

Lost 6,000 in One Battle.

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 7.—Two thousand men were killed and 4,000 wounded in the recent battle between the Uruguayan government forces and the revolutionists. General Vasquez, minister of war, who led the government troops, is asserted to have been defeated and driven back, abandoning arms and munitions. In a previous battle the revolutionists were driven back and General Vasquez, while pressing his victory, was suddenly met by stubborn resistance. The rebels reassembled their scattered forces and engaged the government troops. For three days the battle raged, with terrible losses to both sides. Gradually the rebels drove Vasquez back and according to last reports the minister of war was in full retreat. Reports from Paraguay state that the revolutionists there are holding their own.

Claim 70,000 Lost on Both Sides

London, Sept. 8.—The Russian reports that Gen. Kuropatkin had reached Mukden with the bulk of his army constitute the only news yesterday and what else has happened in the last two or three days is entirely unknown here. The estimate on the casualties continues to increase, the last being that the losses on both sides amount to 60,000 to 70,000 men. According to reports from Chefoo nothing of consequence has happened at Port Arthur for some days. Incidents of the siege, more or less authentic, crop out daily. Refugees at Chefoo are quoted as predicting that the next general attack will result in the fall of the fortress. They say the Japanese shells have set fire to the only flour mill in the place. The mill was Chinese property.

A Boy Finds $400 Ring; Gets 10 Cents Reward.

Atlantic City, Sept. 8.—A diamond ring of five carats, valued at $400 was lost by a New York broker Tuesday evening while walking with his wife and child along the board walk. Harry Forrest, of No. 112 North Missouri avenue, after a long search found the ring. He turned it over to the owner, who rewarded him with a dime. "Oh, sir, this is too much," remarked Forrest, whereupon the man wanted to have him arrested for insulting him.

Locked Him in the Vault.

Pomeroy, O., Sept. 9.—The boldest daylight robbery in the history of the county took place here to-day. Two youthful strangers entered the county treasurer's office, "covered" the treasurer, Mr. Chase, with revolvers, and, after securing $14,000, locked Chase in the vault and made their escape. The treasurer was a prisoner nearly three hours before he was found and released.

The Stenographer Paid It.

New York, Sept. 8.—It happened that yesterday Chauncey M. Depew, James J. Hill, William Rockefeller, James Stillman and J. Pierpont Morgan attended the same board meeting in a big bank building downtown. During the session a district telegraph messenger presented himself with a note and a package for Senator Depew. On the package was written: "Collect $1.40," and the boy waited for the cash. The senator pulled out two or three quarters and some small coin, and after a fruitless exploration of his waistcoat and trousers pockets, turned to Mr. Rockefeller, who was sitting near him, and said in the most matter of fact way: "Pay the boy, will you, Rockefeller?" "Certainly," was the response. Mr. Rockefeller produced a dollar bill. "How much is it?" Eh; $1.40? Well, I don't believe I have got as much as that; let's see; no, I can't make it." Morgan hadn't the change, Stillman had only $50 bills. Hill told the stenographer to pay it.

Had a Notable Stage Career.

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Stevens, a member of the "Way Down East company," who died suddenly in this city to-day, has had a notable stage career, dating from October 27, 1856. Mrs. Stevens was a member of the Laura Keane company that presented "Our American Cousin," the comedy President Lincoln was witnessing when assassinated at Ford's theater in Washington, and saw the President shot. Beside Miss Keane, that cast included Joseph Jefferson and the elder Sothorn. Mrs. Stevens was the widow of John C. Heenan, the English pugilist. After her marriage she retired for fourteen years. On the death of her husband she returned to the American stage. Mrs. Stevens's home was in Oakland, Cal., but messages sent to relatives there failed to reach them.

Maker of Thieves.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—That cocaine makes thieves was declared by Wm. Boone, 22 years old, who testified in Justice Booley's court against Frederick Lemke. "It would make you steal the hat from a man's head," he asserted. "I am through with it." Lemke is employed as a drug clerk. He was found guilty of selling cocaine under the name "flake" and fined $100.

A Mob in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8.—James Parker, a negro, raced madly through the streets near Rancario park here yesterday, beating with a "blackjack" everyone who blocked his path, trying to escape from a mob. When the negro was finally caught in a cigar store, it was all the police could do to protect him from the crowd. Parker had quarreled with two white boys, and is alleged to have struck them with a "blackjack." The yelled for help. One thousand persons, who were in the park listening to the music, pursued the negro. After Parker had been captured the crowd continued to parade the neighborhood and captured several negroes, whom they bound with ropes. The police were kept busy until a late hour rescuing the blacks, eight of whom were locked up after having been taken from the crowd.
