WHEN YOU HAVE A SALE.

You want the BEST AUCTIONEER. A poor one is dear at any price. The cryer who keeps things moving, and the crowd interested will make you the most money.

DO NOT PAY

For personal friendships or because an auctioneer happens to have the run. Exercise business judgment and employ the man who will make the property sell readily and bring the highest price. I will cry sales in any part of the county on reasonable terms and guarantee satisfaction.

Write or call up over the telephone.

BURIED THE WRONG BOY.

A Kansas Youth, Mourned as Dead, Wrote Home.

Iola, Kan., Jan. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Woodward, of Gas City, received a letter from their son, Hershel Woodward, whom they thought they had buried last July, stating that he was alive and in good health. It is evident from the letter that the boy has had no information whatever of his supposed death. The boy is now working near Olathe for a farmer and is going to school. He left home last spring and failed to write to his parents. They heard of him in Western Kansas and later in Illinois, where he was travelling with a show. In July word came to them that a boy answering Hershel Woodward's description and travelling with a show had been killed in a railroad accident near Freeport, Ill. The father of the boy went to Freeport, where the body was exhumed and identified him to a scar on the lip. The body was brought to Gas City and buried. Since that time the family had not the slightest intimation that he was alive until the letter from him came. The father left to bring the boy home. He is 16 years old.

Lamar Teacher Convicted.

Lamar, Mo., Jan. 21.—The trial of Professor John B. Dorman, former Superintendent of the Lamar Schools, came to a close at 12 o'clock Saturday night, and his license was revoked.

The case was tried before State Superintendent Carrington and consumed nearly two days.

Dorman brought to the stand, in his own behalf, no witness but himself.

Professor Carrington stated that Dorman's own admissions were almost enough to establish a case against him.

Superintendent Dorman was charged with incompetency by removal of the same, and with neglect of duty in the case of the young

The Wedding Was Postponed.

Kirksville, Mo., Jan. 22.—Danle Huffman, a young miner, was arraigned before Judge Shelton for robbing the office of the Kansas City Midland Coal company in Nowinger last Friday night and taking $15 out of the money drawer. Huffman was to have been married Saturday night, and it is said that during Friday he had vainly tried to borrow $10 to help out the event and that later he was "flush" with small coin. Failing to give a $400 bond Huffman was sent to Lancaster jail and the wedding indefinitely postponed.

To Drill for Oil at Rockville.

Appleton City Tribune. The work of drilling for oil at Rockville will be resumed in a few days. The old company has been reorganized and a portion of a drilling outfit together with a lot of casing has arrived. The prospect hole will be sunk on the Merritt farm adjoining the town on the east.

An oil well located what he said would prove to be a good producing well, when brought in, on that tract the first of the week.

When There's Sickness

If there should be sickness in your home, where would you have your prescriptions put up? Perhaps you've been so fortunate in not having sickness that you're unable to answer such a question.

We are quite sure you would appreciate the fine service at our store and our prescription department is a special feature. It is equipped with everything for the skillful manipulation of physicians' recipes and only experienced prescription druggists have anything to do with the compounding here. We would like your business.

CLAY'S PRESCRIPTION DRUG STORE

HUNTERS MUST GET LICENSES.

Court Holds Shooting in Own County Without Them Illegal.

Sedalia, Mo., Jan. 22.—State Game Warden J. H. Rhodes, of this city, is highly gratified that his construction of the state game law has been sustained by a superior court. The St. Louis court of appeals handed down an opinion by Judge Bland, all concurring, in the habeas corpus case of Virgil Helton, petitioner ex parte. The petitioner had been convicted in a justice court at Hannibal for hunting in his own county without taking out a license, and sued on a writ of habeas corpus in the court of appeals, alleging that the game law of 1905 did not require a person to take out a license to hunt in the county of his residence. The court held that the statutes did not make this requirement, and refused to discharge the prisoner. The decision puts a number of prosecuting attorneys, who announced a contrary view and refused to prosecute persons so violating the law, in an embarrassing position.

Letter From Mrs. Luther Shode.

THE TIMES assumes the responsibility of publishing the following private letter because of the wide acquaintance in the county of the writer and her late distinguished husband, who served as Sheriff, Treasurer and Mayor of Butler, and their many friends will be glad to learn of the family:

BILLINGS, OKLA.

EDITOR TIMES: I inclose order for one dollar and fifty cents for your paper for another year. We have been taking THE BUTLER TIMES since the first issue and I prize it more than any other paper.

I was sorry when dear old Missouri went over to the Republican party in the last election, but trust she has seen the disadvantage of Republican rule. It has only been a few years since she got out from under the yoke of Republican bondage and oppression. Trusting that at the next election the grand old State will come back to the Democratic party with a greater majority than she ever gave before.

This is a fine country, business of all kinds are good. We expect to sell out here soon and go to Pawhuska, I. T., or Woodward, Okla. Luther and Walter will go in the hardware business at Tonesaker, I. T., the other two boys at Pawhuska. Hoping you are enjoying good health and are prosperous I am yours respectfully,

MRS. LUTHER SHOBE.

Peru Items.

The literary entertainment at Peru Friday night was well attended. Proceeds were $5.15.

Elias Harper sold a span of mules to Dave Wilson of Butler for $310.

Saturday Bob Lyle bought a span of young mules from John Todley for $190 if we are informed correct.

Jeas Warren bought a span of young horses of W. H. Girkor for $240

W. B. Griffin has returned from his trip to Texas. He likes the country fine and says he will move there if he can sell.

The change in the weather caused a small attendance at Sunday School Sunday morning.

The largest snow of the season fell Sunday night and Monday.

Carry McCough returned to Kansas City Sunday and her sister Minney went with her. But think of the boys left behind, how great their loss will be.

UNION ANN.

C. E. Robbins and wife, of Amoret, grazed our sanctum while in Butler Saturday. Mr. Robbins has the reputation of being one of the best auctioneers in the county. He came to Bates county a few years ago and married one of our charming young ladies. We will go anywhere in the county to cry a sale and his terms are very reasonable, and if his service are not satisfactory, he will not charge anything.

HIS ASHES SCATTERED.

Cast Into the Mississippi From the Top of Eads Bridge.

St. Louis, Jan. 22.—In obedience to stipulations in the will of William Burnside, an octogenarian who died recently, the ashes of the deceased were Saturday cast to the bottom of the Mississippi river from the top of Eads bridge. The mid-air interment was performed by Attorney J. A. Nolan, executor of the will, who recited a few lines of original poetry as he poured the ashes into a jar.

William Burnside was once worth $250,000, but died in comparative poverty.

Drag the Roads.

Nevada Post. J. S. Frasier, living 4 miles east of Milo, called on the Post Saturday. That day was warm and muddy.

He said that coming to town he passed over four miles of road upon which a drag had been used. These roads were dry, smooth and fine, while the roads upon which a drag had not been used were muddy and almost impassable.

Any farmer can make a drag, at small expense, and if dragging the roads was universally adopted, the problem of bad roads would be largely solved.

Dropped the Vandiver Suit.

Jefferson City, Jan. 23.—The state insurance superintendent, W. D. Vandiver, to-day received notice that the federal court had dismissed the suit filed by the New York Life Insurance company to prevent him from enforcing his order of ouster from the state.

Mr. Vandiver announced some time ago that he would dismiss the proceedings, the diverted money having been returned and Mr. McCall having resigned.
