ORDUNA CASE GRAVE

Attack, if Without Warning, Will Further Strain Relations with Germany.

Washington, July 17.—Into the grave situation that has developed between the United States and Germany over the sinking of the Lusitania was thrust another issue today when it was revealed that the British steamer Orduna, carrying a score of Americans, had been attacked by a German submarine.

In official quarters news of the attack on the Orduna came as a shock for it had been confidently believed as a result of the informal expressions of Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, and press dispatches from Berlin concerning the care being exercised by German submarines, that Americans on passenger vessels, at least, would be safe from attack. The incident increased the general uneasiness which has been felt since the last German note failed to give the assurances asked for by the United States.

No intimation has been given as yet in official quarters of what the next American note would contain, but it was admitted among those in authority that the communication doubtless would contain some hint of the purposes and intentions of the United States in case there was a further violation of its rights.

The note probably will be brief, and, according to well informed opinion, will be in the nature of a warning that subsequent violations of the principles contended for by the United States will be viewed as hostile acts, making difficult the continuance of diplomatic relations.

Posse Kills Slayer of 3 After Battle.

Macon, Ga., July 14.—A posse of citizens and county officers today shot and killed Peter Jackson, a negro, accused of killing three white men near Cochran, Ga. The negro had barricaded himself in his home and defied the posse, who, according to reports received here, blew up the house with dynamite. Jackson, it was stated, continued firing after his house was dynamited, and he then was shot down.

Jackson's three victims are: W. S. Hogg, aged 40, Night Marshal; Lynn Sanders, 40, Farm Supervisor, and Oscar Lawson, 23, a farm hand.

Jackson, according to reports, was criticized by Sanders late yesterday for some work he had done and the Supervisor is said to have struck the negro. Later it is alleged, Jackson accosted Sanders, drew a pistol and fired twice, killing him almost instantly.

Early today Hogg and Lawson went to Jackson's home to arrest him, when, it is alleged, the negro fired upon them with a shotgun. They died shortly afterwards.

The upheaval occurred directly beneath the car, practically wrecking it and piling the passengers in a heap. Mrs. Cline and two children were badly cut and bruised, but Mr. Cline escaped injury.
