

TEUTONS RETIRE FROM NORTH BANK OF DANUBE

GROUND GIVEN UP AGAIN BY GERMAN IN DOBRUDJA.

Extreme Cold Weather Interferes With the Fighting in Northern Rumania.

Berlin, Jan. 24.—A withdrawal of Teutonic forces in the region along the Danube north of Tulcha is announced in army headquarters' statement, which reads:

"Front of Archduke Joseph: During the severe cold prevailing there have been only local lively artillery and advance guard engagements.

"Army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen: The north bank of the southern arm north of Tulcha has again been abandoned."

Renewed fighting has broken out in the Riga's region on the Russian front, it also is announced.

"On both sides of the river An, and south of Riga, engagements developed which took a course favorable to us," says the statement.

Six entente airplanes were shot down on the western front, the announcement says.

Heavy snowfalls followed by bitterly cold weather on all the battle fronts have helped rather than hindered the fighting.

In the west intensely cold weather has been accompanied only partly by a clear atmosphere, enabling the fliers to resume their activity. Neither side, however, has been specially favored.

Artillery duels have increased at frequent intervals all along the line from the coast to the Swiss border.

Especially active patrolling by the entente forces has not prevented the Germans from discovering that the French recently have withdrawn to a large extent from their old positions on the Somme front as far south as the source, and that they have been replaced by British troops presumably in order to give the French divisions an opportunity to rest in preparation for a gigantic test of strength which is expected by every one at the first favorable opportunity.

This question having been raised recently by the application of a Japanese vessel, the war department on the advice of the state department has instructed the governor to be guided by the president's circular to customs collectors at the beginning of the European war.

OFFERS TO SETTLE DISPUTE

China Promises Japan Indemnity for Cheng-Chiatun Outbreak and Punishment of Those Responsible.

Peking, Jan. 24.—Dr. Wu Ting Fang, the foreign minister, and Baron Hayashi, Japanese minister to China, have exchanged final notes for a settlement of the Cheng-Chiatun incident, in which Chinese and Japanese troops clashed.

China has offered to reprimand and punish the responsible officers, to warn Chinese soldiers against incivility to Japanese and to pay an indemnity. She has rejected Japan's demands for police rights in southern Manchuria and eastern Inner Mongolia, and has disregarded the suggestion for the employment of Japanese military advisors and instructors in the military academy.

Japanese correspondence says Japan believes she has the right to maintain police wherever Japanese settle in Manchuria, but is withholding enforcement of that contention until the Cheng-Chiatun incident is closed.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.
