A boat enroute to New Orleans put in here Sunday night.

Miss Louise Colvin arrived in the city Saturday to remain some time as the guest of friends.

Commodore Ferd Herold, a veteran steamboat man of St. Louis, died Tuesday morning of last week, at the age of 82 years. He built the first steel hull boat on the river. Among other boats he built is the Ferd Herold, which is still in operation.

N. A. Mozley, an attorney of Bloomfield, was in Cape Girardeau on legal business, Tuesday.

The excursion given by the M. W. A., last Tuesday on the Cape Girardeau, was a great success. About two hundred people made the trip.

We wish to call our readers attention to the advertisement of H. P. Pieronnet elsewhere in this paper.

Big Crowd at Carnival.

An immense crowd attended the carnival at the fair grounds, Saturday evening. People began going about six o'clock and continued until very late in the evening. They went on the cars, in automobiles and walked.

If care and worry can be forgotten, they were forgotten at the carnival. Each one seemed to vie with everyone else in having a good time, and it would have been hard to find the happiest.

Cape Takes Another Game

The second game with the Herin team, which was played last Sunday ended in a sensational finale, with the locals victors.

Both teams gave a good demonstration of how the game should be played. Pearsall of the Arkansas League, pitched a fine game, notwithstanding the fact that he allowed the ball to be mercilessly maltreated in the first inning which resulted in three runs for the visitors. In the next few innings the Cape retaliated by driving in an equal number of runs. The proverbial last half of the ninth found the score tied and home team at bat. With a man on third the mighty Collins came to bat—and didn't strike out, which gave the man on third an excuse to trot across the plate for another score. The score was 6 to 5 in favor of the Cape.

The Cape took Saturday's game by a score of 7-4, with Powell on the mound for the Cape.

Preachers to Meet Here

Nearly seven hundred preachers and delegates are expected to be here, June 5 to 8, at the convention of the Christian Churches of Missouri. The delegates will meet in St. Louis, and come from there on the steamer Cape Girardeau. All the different societies, committees, organizations and delegations of the denomination will be here. Arrangements are being made to entertain these guests in a most hospitable manner.

Hung Jury in Damage Suit

The damage suit of Maud Gordon vs. the city for injuries sustained by a fall upon an icy sidewalk, in front of the Terminal Bar, last winter, ended in a hung jury.

The plaintiff was a colored woman whose home is in Springfield, Mass., and who was in Cape Girardeau visiting relatives when she fell.

She brought suit, through her attorneys for $10,000 damages.

Bloomfield Girl a Suicide

After writing an endearing note to the keeper of a restaurant in which she was employed as a waitress, Hattie McAllister, 21 years old, drank carbolic acid at 10 o'clock Monday morning in her room at 821 Franklin avenue, and died an hour later in the city hospital. The note was addressed to Julius Finkle, who conducts a restaurant.

The woman's father lives at Bloomfield, Mo.

Livery Stable Burns

Tom Miller, early Tuesday morning, discovered the livery barn of his brother Jim Miller in flames. He hastened to a nearby fire box and turned in an alarm. The fire wagon arrived in a few minutes and turned two hoses upon the burning structure. While the firemen were trying to extinguish the fire, thirteen horses were rescued.

The entire building was demolished, a loss of about $1000, without insurance.

Dr. John Yellowstone, an Indian half-breed, died at the Stoddard county poor farm last week, aged 65 years. He claimed to be a son of Chief John Yellowstone and had been a member of Buffalo Bill's show and was on the Pike in St. Louis in an Indian show. One of his sons married a Stoddard county girl.—Farmington Times.

DATE OF HOME COMERS CHANGED

In order that the crowds that visit Jackson during the Home-Comers' Re-Union may have a first-class attraction to amuse and entertain them, the management has changed the date of the re-union from Aug. 24, 25 and 26, to August 10, 11 and 12, just two weeks earlier.

It is rather late to make a change in the date now, but those that come, and there will be tens of thousands of them, will have an opportunity to see one of the biggest, if not the biggest aggregation of its kind in the world. Patterson's is beyond any doubt whatever, the largest carnival company that ever struck Missouri. How do we know? We have the word of our mayor, who has seen it. But that is not all. Patterson's is the only carnival company doing business at the annual street fair in East St. Louis each year, also the only attraction at the Nebraska State Fair at Lincoln, and the only one that carries nothing but first class features, a clean, up-to-date show, with all objectionable features eliminated.

The company will come on the Frisco to Cape Girardeau, from where its train, consisting of 25 sixty foot cars, will be transferred to the C. G. & C., and land here on Monday, August 8th.

The secretary of the Home-Comers' Executive Committee is in receipt of numerous letters from former residents of Cape County, who will be here from all parts of the United States, and all indications are pointing to a record breaking crowd here during the last three days of the second week in August.

THE COMMITTEE.
