Repairing Neatly Done

Never thought of such a sign for a medicine did you? Well, it's a good sign for Scott's Emulsion. The body has to be repaired like other things and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine that does it.

These poor bodies wear out from worry, from over-work, from disease. They get thin and weak. Some of the new ones are not well made—and all of the old ones are racked from long usage.

Scott's Emulsion fixes all kinds. It does the work both inside and out. It makes soft bones hard, thin blood red, weak lungs strong, hollow places full. Only the best materials are used in the patching and the patches don't show through the new glow of health. No one has to wait his turn. You can do it yourself—you and the bottle.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle. Send for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl St., New York. 50c. and $1. all druggists.

While in the Cape last Friday we had the pleasure of visiting the Lincoln school of that place, and we must say it is one of the most orderly that we ever visited. Prof. Cobb, the principal of the school, evidently has given his pupils proper instruction and advice, and it is equally as evident that his pupils have appropriated the same to their use and good. Each pupil in the room knew his place and observed his duty. When the signals for action were given, whether they were for study or recitation, each one seemed to know his business, and responded promptly. The entire work of the room impressed one with the thought that the pupils knew their business and they certainly have been taught to obey orders implicitly. There was no snapping of fingers, no giggling, no pushing or muttering, but all was business and order. Prof. Cobb should be proud of his pupils, and the pupils should ever remember their teacher and the advice and instruction given them. The Cape appreciates the services of Prof. Cobb as they show by employing him for the past sixteen or seventeen years.

B. M. Morgan attended the A. O. U. W. lodge at Fruitland on last Saturday night. He reports a good attendance and an enthusiastic meeting. A Degree of Honor lodge should be organized every place in southeast Missouri where there is an A. O. U. W. lodge, for it is a helpmeet to this parent order.

The Concord colored public school near Oak Ridge will close tomorrow. An interesting program has been prepared, and Prof. J. B. Davis, the teacher, we understand, has taught a most excellent school.

Obituary.

Thomas Kingon was born near Indianapolis, Ind., January 9, 1823, and died in Rombauer, Mo., March 12, aged 79 years, 2 months and 3 days.

For fourteen years he had lived in Jackson, making his home with his daughter, Mrs. R. F. Stevens. But last July he went to visit his sons at Rombauer, and soon afterward took sick and was never able to return to the home of his daughter, although he often wished to do so. His health gradually failed until the end came, a little more than a week ago.

His was a useful, busy life—working all the time to help support his widowed daughter and grandchildren.

Many years ago he united with the Baptist church in Jasper county, Indiana, and he it said to his credit that he never in all his long life entered a saloon.

He leaves a daughter, three sons, a number of grandchildren and many friends to mourn his death and cherish his memory. And although they can not see his familiar form going to and from his daily labor through the storms of winter and the heat of summer they will often think of him with love and hope that their lives may be as useful as his while living and as happy as his in death.

The family have the sympathy of many friends in their great sorrow. May the Lord be their comfort. J. O. WILLETT.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers keep the liver and bowels in a healthy condition and remove the cause of such troubles. C. E. Hooper, Albany, Ga., says: "I took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for biliousness. They were just what I needed. I am feeling better now than in years." Never gripe or distress. Safe, thorough and gentle. The very best pills. H. L. Jones.
