When Main street is completed it will deserve the name of Broadway.

REPUBLICANS all over this county are ready to get together and defeat the Democrats.

REMEMBER, "In union there is strength," and the Republicans of this county are going to unite and elect a full ticket next election.

C. P. WALDRIDGE of St. Louis is being favorably mentioned as a candidate for vice-president on the Republican ticket. He is a good man and will make Roosevelt the proper running mate.

It takes votes to carry a town or county and it takes hustling to get them, and a man to be elected must have all kinds, hence any party that expects to elect their candidates to office must not have views that are too narrow.

We do not believe any sane person can infer from the reading of the HERALD's columns that we wish the law violated. We have always been an advocate of adhering strictly to the law. In the saloon question, we think the law should be strictly enforced. Saloons should be closed on Sunday, no minors or drunkards should be sold liquor at all, and were we an officer to see that this law was enforced, you may rest assured we would enforce it to the letter.

From Neely's Landing.

August 14.—It has been some time since a letter from Neely's has been printed.

Everybody is enjoying good health except Mr. A. Walker, who we hear is in very poor health.

A big meeting was held at Sheppard's school house some time ago by Rev. Tracy of Oak Ridge and Rev. Jones of Poca-hontas. There were some good speeches made and we hope some good was done also. It is grand to hear such sermons as Bro. Tracy preached, and also to hear the temperance lectures. Some no doubt thought hard of some things that was said at the time who doubtless will be thankful in the time to come, but the real christian understands these sermons and thanks God for such men that are able to deliver them.

Wheat is all threshed in our vicinity.

Schools will soon take our children away from home. Let us pray that they and the teachers may honor and love each other, as is the golden rule. We think teachers of our children have a great responsibility resting upon them and therefore we ought to stand by them just as God stands by us, and help them to deal honest with our children.

After an absence of four years Ruddle Mitchin paid our neighborhood a pleasant call. He is now in Minnesota running a threshing, and perhaps will not come again till Christmas.

Mr. Smith of Daisy has applied for the Oak Hill school. If he teaches we hope he will prove himself a teacher and a gentleman as our teacher of last year proved to be such, and we wish him success as he came of a good family.

Hoping you may not leave this letter out we close with sympathy for the family of the editor in their bereavement over the loss of their daughter.

DeWitt is the Name.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure, unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on the market. The genuine bears the name of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by all druggists.

Missouri Under Protection.

The twenty-fourth annual report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the State of Missouri for the year ending Nov. 5, 1902, gives the returns for 1,666 manufacturing establishments:

Product	1901	Increase over 1900
Wool	$251,795,536	$7,000,963
Employees	101,431	27,526
Wages paid	$46,829,720	$10,746,108
Labor organizations reported	410	—
Memberships	25,226	—
Causes favoring arbitration	262	—
Strikes	177	—
Strikes adjusted	118	—
Harvest hands called for	5,031	—
Harvest hands secured	2,500	—
Laborers called for	1,516	—
Laborers secured	411	—
Railroad help called for	20	—
Railroad help secured	10	—
Factory help called for	10	—
Factory help secured	4	—

On the showing outlined by these official figures it is hardly likely that as many Missourians will listen to the voice of the Free-Trade, low-Tariff charmer in 1904 as did in 1896 and 1900.

County World's Fair Organizations.

Twenty-six committees have, up to date, reported to the Missouri World's Fair Commission permanent organizations for the collection of exhibits for the World's Fair. Three of these, Caly, Lafayette and Jackson have each appropriated $500 from their county treasuries; Nodaway county, which was one of the first in the state to take action, has an appropriation of $400 and Saline, Ray, Howard, Daviess, and DeKalb have appropriated $250 each. Other counties have reported permanent organizations but the amounts appropriated were not mentioned. These are: Andrew, Bates, Atchison, Clinton, Newton, Hickory, Dade, Perry, Rails, Clark, Greene, Phelps, Johnson, Webster, Carroll and Chariton.

County exhibits within the Missouri building at the World's Fair will be arranged separately and awards won will be announced in the name of the grower, under the county where grown. In this way visitors and prospective homeseekers can readily judge of any particular county. The prize awards all go to the grower or owner of these exhibits.

Missouri Press Association.

The Missouri Press association will hold its annual mid-summer session within the World's fair grounds, St. Louis, on the 27th and 28th of this month. The organization will be the first one from Missouri to visit in a body the Missouri state building now well under way toward completion. In honor of the event the Missouri commission has appointed Hon. L. F. Parker to welcome the editors, in whose behalf a response will be made by President Howard Ellis of New Florence. The Northeast, Northwest, Southeast and Southwest press associations will all be represented in the gathering which will be dined and entertained by the World's fair. Secretary R. M. White estimates that the probable number of editors and their wives who will attend at three hundred.

From Oriole.

August 14.—News is a little scarce at this time, but will try and rake up something to say.

Health in this vicinity is good; don't ask for better.

Wheat is all threshed; a very poor yield.

Corn crops look fine.

Fruit is scarce, though damaged some by the wind last week.

Since the rain the farmers have commenced to turn dirt for another wheat crop.

We are having good preaching and a lively Sunday school at Indian Creek.

John Noland has a long smile on his face because it was a boy that came to his house a few nights ago.

In the HERALD of August 6 we see the Democrats and Prohibitionists joined together and you think there is need of the Republicans getting together. Yes, the time is coming when something has to be done for the People's party is not dead as a great many thought. They have reunited and are coming in 1904 stronger than ever with a full ticket in the field. Don't you think that the Republicans and Democrats will have to join together to beat it? It's Me.

A town without a newspaper is like a fiddle without a string, and still a great many people cannot see the good of newspapers. They look upon the newspaper fraternity as a sort of charity institution. When they subscribe for the paper they do so to help the fellow out who is running it and after they have received it from one to ten years without having contributed anything to it financially, they get mad if they are sent a bill and threaten everything connected with the paper with dire disaster. They seem to think that their moral support and a few sticks of cordwood is all that it takes to run a newspaper. The merchant places an advertisement at so much per inch and when pay-day comes he gives the publisher a hard luck story. This does not apply in all cases, but in a great many it does.

The space in a newspaper is the publisher's stock in trade and from it he derives most of the revenue of his business, subscription price of the paper only about paying for the stock used in printing it. It is a well known fact that a newspaper benefits the whole community in which it is printed, and no man does more work for nothing than the publisher of a good newspaper. He sings the praises of the town and many times after the paper has gone to its readers the editor's conscience tells him he has lied beyond measure, and all this for the promise of a dollar which he may never get. When a man dies the bright side of his life is always held up to the gaze of the public, when, if the editor had told the truth, the relatives of the deceased would move on the print shop with a gatling gun. Unfortunately, a great many newspaper men are poor, who, had they received the support which the community owed them, would have had a bank account instead of having to use the alleys as a highway. The great worth of a newspaper to a community cannot be estimated and the thrift of a town cannot be better judged than by the thrifty look of the home paper. Well filled advertising columns is a good business barometer and speaks volumes for the business interests of the community. In fact the newspaper illumines the pathway of morality, industry and intelligence. At the price it is published it is within the reach of all and is read alike by the philanthropist in his mansion and the negro in his cabin and scatters the same rays of sunshine in the home of desolation that it does around the fireside of the millionaire. It knocks the props from under the political tricksters and points the honest sovereign to the shrine of justice. It always stands out openly for truth and right and many times aids in uncovering frauds which otherwise the citizens would fall victims to and yet there are people who absolutely refuse to pay for the paper although they have been taking it from the postoffice weekly for years.—De Soto Republican.
