PIANO GIVEN AWAY FREE

AND OTHER PRIZES AMOUNTING TO OVER $20,000

To the Persons, Old or Young, Constructing the Most Words out of the Letters in the Word "LOMBARD"

"al," "m ad" and "ram" are words which you can see at a glance, can be formed from those letters, and there are a good many more. We take this novel method of advertising our "Lombard" piano, giving the piano and other prizes absolutely free to the persons constructing the most words from the letters in the word "Lombard." It costs not a cent in any way to enter this contest.

The contest will be ABSOLUTELY FAIR. The largest list of correct words will get the piano. The second largest the second prize, etc. Our reputation is at stake and we give contestants every opportunity to investigate the results. Here is a letter from the winner of the piano in our last contest:

CANTON, ILL., December 16, 1904.
Galesburg Piano Co., Galesburg, Ill.
Gentlemen:—The beautiful piano won by me in your word contest was received Oct. 31, 1904. Please accept our thanks for same. I was not acquainted with any member of your firm, or any one who works for you, which proves there was no favoritism, and that the contest was conducted with absolute fairness and honesty.
Respectfully yours,
FANNY R. SHERWOOD,
Canton, Ill.

It is instructive and entertaining to hunt out the words, and the list of prizes is inspiring. You cannot fail to win one if you make an honest effort.

If you want a piano this is a golden opportunity to get one free, or a large payment free. These certificates are worth their face as a cash payment on a Lombard piano with any of our dealers. We redeem these certificates from them at their full face, and therefore they are good as so much cash to them. The wholesale prices have not been changed to the dealers, so they will sell you a Lombard piano just as close as they ever could, and your certificate will be just so much cash. This is an absolutely fair contest in which the contestants get the benefit, and the manufacturers get the benefit of the greatest advertisement ever given a piano.

Eight hundred and twenty people will receive prizes in this grand contest without investing a cent or buying anything. All that is required is a little patient work.

Ask the dealer whose name is in this ad to show you a Lombard, or send direct to the Galesburg Piano Co., Galesburg, Ill., for a catalogue of one of the most artistic and reliable pianos made. A handsome, durable, full size, upright, grand instrument, with a soft, clear, ringing tone that stamps its individuality and fitness for the home of refinement and culture.

You can arrange for time on the piano, either monthly payments, or any way to fit your necessities, by paying 6 per cent. interest. If you will try and win one of those certificates it can be applied as a first payment and the balance you can arrange to pay as you desire.

If you want a piano at once you can buy a Lombard of your dealer, and then when the award is made, if you win a certificate you can apply the same on your contract if it remains unpaid, or if you paid for the piano the dealer will redeem your certificate in cash. If you win a certificate you are not compelled to use it. It is optional with you, but it is no value except to apply on the purchase of a Lombard piano, or on one you have purchased during this contest.

RULES OF THE CONTEST.

1st. Any boy or girl, or person of any age, who wants a piano, is eligible to compete in this contest, except persons connected with the Galesburg Piano Co.

2nd. The purpose is to form the most words from combinations of the seven letters in the word "Lombard," using no letter in any word more times than it occurs in the word "Lombard," and using no letter that does not occur in that word.

3rd. Webster's dictionary is authority. Any word found in his "Dictionary of the English Language" or supplement to same may be used, and no others. Foreign words and phrases and slang are excluded unless adopted by Webster. Biographical, geographical and other appendix words are excluded.

4th. Words may be used in both the plural and singular forms, and in all the tenses. Any different spelling, even of the same word, is counted as another word. But different meanings with the same spelling cannot be used more than once. Thus, where the same spelling is used in the form of a noun and verb or an adjective, it may be used only once. The test is to see how many different combinations of letters, each being a legitimate word, can be formed from the letters in the word "Lombard."

5th. The most complete or largest list will take the first prize. Should there be two equally complete then neatness and manner of arrangement will be considered in deciding which is the best list. And so on with second and third prizes.

6th. Lists should be arranged alphabetically. Give all the words found beginning with "a," then with "b" and so on. And number each word.

7th. Be sure and pay full postage on your list. It takes 2c for each ounce or fraction thereof. Sign your name and address PLAINLY. And address your envelope to

"Contest Department,"
Galesburg, Piano Co.,
Galesburg, Ill.

8th. The contest closes Oct. 1, 1905, and each contestant will be notified of the result and prize won within fifteen days thereafter. It will require from one to two weeks to examine the papers.

9th. All lists should be mailed to reach us by Oct. 1, and must be mailed not later than Sept. 30. Any list bearing a postmark later than Sept. 30, 1905, will not be entered.

Our reputation for fairness and honorable dealing is a guarantee to each contestant that exact justice will control the contest. The doubting are respectfully referred to any bank in Galesburg, or any of its business men or citizens.

SPECIAL OFFER: If you want a piano at once, purchase a Lombard of your dealer and any prize you get in this contest will be credited on your contract if you buy on time, or if you pay him cash he will pay you the face of the certificate in cash. This certificate is worth its face in cash to your dealer, so that he will gladly do this. Go into this contest and have a Lombard Piano, the Peerless Parlor Queen.
