Republican or Democratic— which? That's the question.

Now for a full Republican vote in every precinct. Get busy.

Patriotism as well as party loyalty marks out the Republican path of duty.

The Democratic party as represented in Congress voted solidly against the tariff commission.

"Bill" Phelps as a railroad reformer—as a stickler for fair play in railroad rates—whew!

The Democratic state platform is like the politicians who inspired it—short.

If you have had enough prosperity and feel like repenting a bit join the Democrats. They'll fix you.

Every Republican in Missouri should stand pat for the election of party nominees. Such stand-patism is highly commendable.

No Republican wishes to help create a Democratic majority in the next House of Representatives which as President Taft says: "Would be utterly at war with the Protective principle."

A record of economy and progressive legislation never before equalled in the same length of time, is the record of the achievements of the Taft administration and the Sixty-first congress.

It's a wonder Con. Roach, Secretary of State, didn't declare the Republican platform unconstitutional and decline to file it. The four supreme judges who sustained him in the senatorial districting amendment matter might find a way to see him through another scheme to down the Republicans.

Republicans who have the habit of voting for Democratic nominees for local offices in Democratic counties because they are neighbors or friends should quit that habit and sustain their party.

Approval of the administration of Governor Hadley by the state convention was cordial and sincere. Approval by the people in November will be clear, strong and beyond controversy. Missouri has never had a better governor or one more beloved by the common people.

This condition of affairs has been apparent for a half a century. The Republican party has contained so many able leaders that in filling the important offices some must necessarily be displaced. But most of those who are temporarily defeated will be heard from in the future. William McKinley was defeated for congress in 1890 and scores of our best men have suffered or enjoyed one or more defeats.

So it seems well that we preserve State Rights where conditions differ materially and yet go on harmonizing our differences where the whole people are affected. That is the good old Republican doctrine. An honest dollar for all. A tariff that protects all, the same regulation for all Interstate Commerce, and new legislation from time to time as will benefit all, leaving to the state those problems that effect only locality.
