Girl Defeats Bachelor.

One of the most unique elections of the state was held in Jasper county, where Miss Della Sharp was chosen clerk of the Circuit court. Miss Sharp won the nomination over a man deputy by 677 majority. Miss Sharp attended and addressed all meetings of the Republican party. The bachelor was a well-to-do farmer. She carried with her a box of cigars and cards on which were printed: "Della Sharp needs your vote on November 8 for Circuit clerk." She presented lead pencils to Democrats with the intimation, "I brought this for you to scratch your own ticket on November 8. I am sure that you would rather have an old maid in the office than an old bachelor, for he is a splendid farmer. If he gets the office he will hire some one to run it. I have run the office so long for others, I am sure I can run it."

Some of the songs and sketches rendered by this family created laughter continually. They promised to return from "Vermont" next year and bring their "Pa."

The proceeds for the two days Chrysanthemum show brought a total of $350.

C. A. Macom and wife and son, Lloyd, went to Illinois last Saturday to visit relatives.

GIRL, 15, PERSUADES MAN TO QUIT WIFE

Ethel Belt, 15 years old, declared at Police Headquarters at St. Louis, Thursday, that it was due to her argument that William T. Pate, a married man, and the son of a wealthy farmer at Oran, Mo., eloped with her to St. Louis.

Pate was arrested by Detectives Flynn and Howard when he reported for duty at the United Railways Company sheds at Park and Vandeventer avenues, on a warrant charging him with enticing the girl to St. Louis. The girl was arrested a few minutes later in a room at 2929 Locust street.

She refused to accompany the detectives until they agreed to permit her to carry a revolver in a hand satchel. The weapon was on the bed when the detectives entered the room.

"I'm not a soulmate or an affinity," the girl declared in the matron's room. "I am in love with Pate, and I persuaded him to elope with me to St. Louis. He doesn't love his wife, and she doesn't love him. I told him he had better elope with me, and he did."

The homes of the parents of Pate and the girl are within a short distance of each other in Oran, and according to a statement made by Pate, Miss Belt's father permitted him to keep company with the girl.

"I was living with my wife at Leesburg, Fla., and we quarreled continually," Pate said. "I would often return to Oran to relieve my mind of my troubles, and it was on one of these visits that I met Ethel. On Sept. 12 my wife wrote me a letter, in which she stated that she never wanted to see me again, and she intended to sue for divorce."

"I told this to Belt, and he agreed that it would be all right for me to keep company with his daughter until my wife obtained her divorce. I never thought of eloping with the girl until she suggested it to me."

Pate, who is 27 years old, and the girl have been living in St. Louis since Sept. 27. He says his father is wealthy, and he is confident that the difficulty will be straightened out. He was preparing to go to work as a street car conductor when he was placed under arrest.

His Dog.

A Dutchman addressing his dog, said: "You vas only a dog, but I vish vas you. When you go mit your bed in you shust turn round tree times, and lay down; ven I go mit the bed in I have to lock up der blace, und vind up der clock, und put de cat out, and ondress meself, and me frau wakes up und scolds, den the baby wakes up und cries I have to valk him mit de house round; den maybe ven I gets myself to bed it is time to get up again. Ven you get up you shust stretch yourself dig your neck a litle und you was up. I have to light the fire, put on de kedle, scrap sum mid my vife already, und git myself breakfast. You play around all day und hev plenty of fun. I hat to vork all day und haf plenty drubbles. Ven you die you was dead; ven I dy I haf to go to h—ll yet."

"ELOPEMENT OF ELLEN"; "WHEN A MAN'S SINGLE"

Last Thursday night a goodly sized audience assembled at the Armory hall to greet the comedy play entitled, "The Elopement of Ellen."

The play was produced exceptionally well and from the continuous applause at the close of each act we believe everyone enjoyed it immensely.

The parts handled by Smith, LaPierre, Macom, Randol, Misses Kurre, Williams and Mrs. Ruby Wolter were excellent and each one acquitted themselves in great style.

Friday night the Armory hall was crowded to its doors. The play was entitled "When a Man's Single," and judging from the numerous encores given "Uncle Jim" and "Miss Briscoe" met with the hearty approval of all.

The cast was composed as follows: W. LaPierre, "Uncle Jim"; M. Randol, "Uncle Pete"; G. Morton, Winthrop Briscoe; C. Jones, Paul Briscoe; Misses Flossie Kurre, Mrs. Briscoe; Norma Gockel, Evelyn Briscoe; Bess Litzelfelner, Norah O'Neil and Mrs. Ruby Wolters, Eleanor Horton.

Both plays were composed of home talent and owing to several little mishaps during the three weeks practice the members of each cast were handicapped as they were compelled to make a premature appearance for the 'Mum show.

Mrs. John Snider directed both plays and deserves much credit for untiring efforts.

These two plays netted the ladies of the Presbyterian church about $150.

PEMISCOT COUNTY BRUTE, WRITES ABOUT HIS DEED

The following is a true copy of the letter which was left by Martin Rollins, slayer of Annie Austin. The letter was written on a yellow paper bag, an old menu card from the dining car of the Frisco, and two shipping tags from some firm in Blythville:

"I heard sweet Annie singing last night, and I can't stay here, and Annie gone. Mrs. Austin was the cause of it. Annie put her hand on my shoulder when I shot her and said shoot. They never would have caught me. I was in Blythville yesterday, and took dinner there. I am ready to die. I stayed all night one mile from Denton and went back to Holland and got dinner there. And crossed the ditch in a boat and came over to Newberry Gibson's and stayed till night. Mr. Maxwell, don't think hard of me for taking your gun off, I like you all fine, so by by. Martin Rollins

"Annie told me to shoot her. Said she wanted to die, and I guess she did. All I ask is to send me home. J. J. Rollins is my father's name, Wickliffe, Ky. Martin Rollins.

I ain't sorry that I killed Annie. She stood so that I could shoot and hit her in the heart. I killed Annie at 12.40 'o'clock at my watch after I 'o'clock I could get away, but I want to die, as the one I love is gone. She said she was ready. Be good is my prayer.

"The first shot killed her and I want it to do me the same. I could get away but I want to die.—Steele News.
