

THE HAYTI HERALD.

VOL. I.

HAYTI, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, JANUARY 21, 1909.

NO. 13.

B. L. GUFFY, POSTMASTER

B. L. Guffy has been appointed postmaster at this place. Mr. Guffy came here from Indiana in the fall of 1906, to look after land interests of clients, and by strict attention to business has built up a nice practice in law. Being from Indiana, he was naturally a Republican and the postoffice comes to him as a reward for faithful party service. He was his party's nominee for representative in the last election and though defeat was expected, he did his part in cutting down the Democratic majority as a result of which one lone Republican was elected, breaking the record in Pemiscot county.

One of the latest enterprises aided by him is the organization of the Hayti Real Estate Company.

We predict that Mr. Guffy will make an efficient officer and that he has only entered in the political arena. We wish him success in his new undertaking.

The great crowd and jam at the postoffice Sunday afternoons when the mail is opened is becoming almost unbearable, and the postoffice will have to do one of two things, get a larger room or to leave the doors open for a longer time. The fact is, the mail ought to be opened at noon. Much important mail is received here on the noon train, and especially Sunday papers from the south, and if this mail was opened it would leave less work for the afternoon hour, so the postoffice attendants would not be hurt by this change, as they have to handle the mail anyway.

J. L. Dorris has more concrete walk than any man in town, and what John Dorris has done others can do. There is no excuse for this town to drag along in the old rut, and if the people expect to do so the sooner they can get rid of the Herald the better, for we are going to make a fight for the general improvement of Hayti.

Miss Sallie Roberts of St. Louis is visiting Mrs. Dollie Dorris.

BANK OF HAYTI

The annual meeting of the Bank of Hayti was had yesterday, and the results of the past year's business was highly gratifying. The earning capacity has been good, and the general outlook is encouraging.

This is the oldest bank in Hayti, and has the largest capital and surplus, and the stockholders are all good, substantial men.

C. P. Wells, Jr., the retiring cashier, has done good work, and he carries with him the confidence and good-will, not only of the bank officials, but of the public generally.

All the old officers were elected, except J. D. Long as director. L. L. Lefler was elected in place of Mr. Long.

The resignation of C. P. Wells, Jr. was accepted and T. A. McNail entered upon the duties of cashier.

A lady went into I. Kohn's store and blushing asked Arthur Allen if he "had any of those elastic bands, capable of being elongated and adjusted at pleasure, and used by the feminine portion of mankind for putting around the lower extremities of their locomotive members to keep in the proper position and the required altitude, habilaments of their tibias." Arthur had to be fanned for about two hours.

Tuesday Gov. Patterson of Tennessee vetoed the state-wide prohibition bill. In his message he said the bill was a violation of the party platform, set aside the recorded will of the people, destroyed property and that no arbitrary prohibition bill would ever be obeyed. Opponents of the bill claim that they have enough votes to defeat its second passage, but another state-wide bill to prohibit the manufacture of intoxicating drinks was passed, to go into effect January 10, 1910. Later: The senate voted to pass the bill over the governor's veto. The vote was 20 to 13. It now goes to the house.

PENSIONS

We see that State School Superintendent H. A. Gass, among other things recommends a pension for old and disabled teachers. Now, we are opposed to pensions on general principles, and more in particular in this connection. There is no more reason why a school teacher should draw a pension than any other person. We, for one, are proud of the independence of our country, which ought to inculcate an independent spirit, and we are opposed to anything that will foster or create dependence even to the old and feeble, who in this free country can generally make their way, if they will, which has been proven by the old, battle-scarred veterans who wore the gray.
