SCHOOL NOTES.

By W. H. JOHNSON, Superintendent

The reports from the semester examination will reach the parents about Friday of this week. We trust all parents will examine this report carefully. "E" means excellent; "S" superior; "M" medium; "I" inferior. If you should find an "I" on the report, it would be well to consult the teacher as there is danger of a failure when the pupil has such a standing.

Feel free to consult the teacher concerning your boy or girl, for there is no better way of getting results in school work than a close understanding and co-operation between parent and teacher. We need your help, and we believe you need ours, if the school work of the child is to mean what it should.

Supt. E. W. Davis of Malden brought his boys over Friday night and succeeded in defeating our boys in a rather fast game of basket ball. Score: Malden 27, Hayti 14. Both teams put up a hard fight. Five minutes before the close of the game the score was 15 to 14 in favor of Malden, with the tide apparently favoring Hayti; but the visitors put in a new man which enabled them to stem the tide and win the game.

After the game the High School students and teachers entertained the visitors at the school building. The following were present: All the Malden teams, Supt. Davis, all our teachers, except Miss Pickins who was not able to be with us, and Mr. Propst who is substituting. The following young folks: Lillian Elliston, Effie Beeding, Jessie Williams, Ethel Hamilton, Hattie Mae Argo, Abigail Reynolds, Allie Thomas, Bertha Thomas, Joseph Kohn, Nat Buckley, Earl Raybuck, Teddy Argo, Ellis Kohn, Harry Curtner, Harold Prehn, Eddie Juden, Otto Spain, Blair Boyle, Oscar Farrow and Byron Bryant.

BLUE EYES.

We had a large snow last night and still snowing this morning.

Everybody has the measles in around our town.

Bill Brasher has the measles but at present is reported better.

Everybody is looking for new homes, as lots of moving is taking place here.

About two years ago Grover Brasher caught a young coon. The animal soon became tame, but recently it began to catch chickens. They of course killed him and after dressing he weighed 184 pounds.

This is good hunting season, as the snow is so deep the rabbits can't run.

School has closed until Spring on account of the measles and the extremely bad weather.

Several cases of small pox is reported around here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carter's children have the whooping cough.

Notice.

See J. H. Fields to sell your Beef Hides, Mule or Horse Hides. He will pay the highest market price for them. 5t

To Feed Dairy Cows.

Fed has increased in value between 30 and 40 per cent over the average of the last three years. Dairy products have gone up only 10 to 15 per cent. If feed prices should in the future remain where they are now, butter will retail for at least 50 cents and milk at 12 cents a quart.

Good and economical dairy rations in Missouri are based upon corn silage and some legume hay such as clover, alfalfa or cowpea. If these are plentiful the feeding problem is much simplified. A good grain ration to go with these is corn, 4 parts, bran 1 part, and cottonseed or linseed 1 part.

Corn even at the present high price is the cheapest source of digestible food. Cottonseed meal, distillers' grains, brewers' grains and linseed meal are the cheapest sources of protein. A mixture of corn and cottonseed meal alone would not be a good ration as it is too heavy; that is it forms a sticky mass in the stomach which the digestible juices cannot penetrate easily. Bran, dried beet pulp or brewers' grains are the best feeds we have to lighten a ration. For this reason one of these is nearly always included in the ration fed heavy milking cows requiring liberal grain feeding.

The most difficult questions to decide this winter is how liberal one can afford to feed dairy cows. As a general rule feeding a cow to near her capacity is the most economical. If the farmer goes to the expense of maintaining the cow it is not economy to fail to make use of her productive capacity. A good rule for practical feeding is to give the cow as much roughage, silage and legume hay, as she will eat clean, then in addition one pound of grain to each 3 pounds of milk from a Jersey, and one pound of grain for each 4 pounds of milk from a Holstein.

A dairy cow should be in good condition at time of calving. The amount of milk she gives when fresh usually shows her capacity. She should then be fed enough to support this milk production. A cow that does not have the inheritance to give more than 20 pounds of milk daily cannot be made to give 40 by liberal grain feeding. However, the cow that starts giving 40 pounds will not continue to do so long unless sufficient feed is given to furnish the raw material for this much product.

It is not economy to feed all cows the same amount of grain. They should be fed in accordance with their production. A heavy grain ration given a light milking cow fattens her but does not increase her milk beyond her ordinary limit.

A Mr. Urton, a successful farmer of Marshall, was in this city one day last week prospecting. We understand that he is seriously thinking of locating in our county, and Hayti would be a good place to bring his family.

Acquitted on Serious Charge.

A case which attracted considerable interest was tried Wednesday and yesterday forenoon in Squire Watkins court, in which T. R. Cole, a large land owner in the Pascola neighborhood, was charged with a statutory offense in connection with Katie Downing, daughter of a lumber dealer of the same place.

Twenty eight witnesses were examined and considerable time necessarily consumed in the hearing, but the defendant was acquitted, inasmuch as it was requisite that the prosecution prove the character of the complaining witness to be above reproach, which it failed to do. Cole did not take the stand in his own behalf, nor did he make any denials as to facts alleged, so the Democrat is informed, simply denying the criminality of the act on account of the girl's former character. She is alleged to be under eighteen years of age.—Caruthersville Democrat.

The Herald understands through reliable sources from Pascola that Mr. Cole is a member of the school board of education and also is treasurer of the school district. We were further informed that the girl, Katie Downing, was a student of the public school.

One of the large plate glass windows of the Ice Cream Parlor located in the Keystone building was broken in Sunday night about 1 o'clock. The place had closed, but some friends of Mr. Brasher's called him at his home and he and C. L. Lefler came down to investigate. Upon arriving they found a broken quart bottle of whiskey in the window, which indicates that some drunk person had fallen into it. They went in search of the night-watchman and we understand he was found at the Pantaza rooming house in bed, having gone there for a few minute's rest, after being on duty a few hours the day previous.

We failed to mention last week through the loss of the item, that Mrs. Lou Morris, an old citizen of this city, left Monday of last week for Iola, Kansas, where she will make her home with a daughter. In This World.

It's both a saint's and a sinner's duty to support the Gospel and to help finance the cause, and the writer of this article has become wise to the fact, that the people of Hayti are in general, more liberal to the solicitation for such funds than are sometimes given credit for.

I have had the opportunity to give this a personal test, since the Board of Stewards of the M. E. Church, South of this city have chosen me as their official collector, to visit all members of the church, and also solicit one and all who feel inclined to give us an offering to help along the good cause.

I have been received into the many homes in this city with welcomed greetings, and they responded liberally to my call, after I introduced myself and my mission and had a formal conversation, I can truthfully and gladly say I most generally received my reward—sometimes though it was not cash, but, cash promised at a certain date in the future, and when that date appeared on the calendar, it of course was my duty to give them a call and I did, but on one date I failed. And I must say they hunted me up and paid the cash promised.

I wish to thank you all who have helped us as a church in our good cause, and especially do I wish to impress the members of the church, that I will give them an official call each month to solicit funds to pay up our pastor his monthly dues. Please be ready and respond as good at least as you did when I made my first call.

Respectfully,
Wm. I. OATES.
