STANLEY NEWS

(Monday, June 23.)

Health is not so good in this community at present. Woodard Casey is quite sick, as is also the small son of W. F. Ferguson.

N. P. Permenter is reported as having the small pox in his family.

Joe Jackson, who has been ill, is reported better.

Arthur Tyree, from "Over There," arrived home Saturday.

Bob Taylor and daughter of Bragg City visited Mrs. Fuller Saturday night.

The ladies of this neighborhood are having some good blackberry pies. As there were no berries last year, we think them "extra" good.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall of Portageville were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brown Saturday night and Sunday.

Leonard Harper of this place and Miss Hazel Perry of St. Louis were married Sunday, June 15. Esq. J. H. Fisher officiating.

There were not very many out to attend Sunday school Sunday—only fifty, suppose several had gone to the singing convention at Hayti. But we had a good lesson, good collection, and real good singing, as Johnny Zook of Portageville was with us to lead our singing.

Dan Bied returned home from wheat harvest last week, and reports a man and four mules were killed by lightning during an electrical storm last Monday, near Sikeston. They were in a wheat field.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill had company from Mathew Saturday night, returning home Sunday.

A lady preacher of Portageville preached for us Saturday night and Sunday.

Gene Cowee spent a few days last week with his family in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Crockett.

Melton Hendrix and Newt Cross's son returned last week from over seas.

Farmers are quite busy ditching again.

Come on, correspondent "Esau" of the Argus, and write for the Herald. We all want to hear from you.

They tell us the Kaiser now looks like a man of seventy; they probably mean seventy cents.

Editor: We were too busy to write the news last week, so just made up for it this week.
