REINHARD-SHEPARD

Tuesday, June the first, just as the minute hand started on the second hand of its turn, being on the upward climb, Rev. J. S. Newsom solemnized the bonds of matrimony for W. H. Reinhard and Miss Emma Shepard. At 10:31 a. m. the happy couple were no longer devoted friends but husband and wife.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Shepard of this city, and has just finished her second term as a teacher in our grammar school, and was a favorite among those who know her. He is kind, affectionate and obliging to her friends, and they are numbered by her acquaintances.

The groom is one of this county's progressive farmers, a good business man, and is held highly in the esteem of his associates. He is jovial, and makes friends as fast as he makes acquaintances. A bright future is in store for him, and with such a helpmate as he now has, there is unbounded success in store for them.

Many friends as well as the near relatives of the couple were in attendance, and after the ceremony to the occasion were served. Immediately after the repast the newlyweds took the northbound train for St. Louis, where they spent several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Reinhard have many friends in this city who extend to them congratulations and many happy returns.

Modernized Grammar.

The teacher of a New Hampshire school was one day examining a few of her select pupils in grammar. "Stand up, Johnnie, and make me a sentence containing the word 'seldom,'" she said, pointing to a small boy. Johnnie paused as if in thought, then with a flush of triumph on his face, replied: "Last week father had five horses, but yesterday he seldom!" —Boston Post.

Getting Rid of House Pests.

Cockroaches or the "croton bug" may be held in check by setting out two saucers, one containing a mixture of flour and plaster paris and the other filled with water. The mixture should be four parts plaster of paris and one part of flour. Badly infested apartments may be thoroughly ridded of this pest by fumigating with hydrocyanic acid gas.

Irresistible in Business.

"The good-natured man with a well-balanced mind is irresistible in business; he goes around flashing his cheerfulness to right and left unconsciously. He does not need to be easy to be good natured. He can be firm in his convictions, and immovable from his principles, and yet he can assert himself in that quiet, sincere way which wins the respect even of his opponents."—From The Northwestern Buzzer, published by Northwestern Electric Equipment company, St. Paul, Minn.

Trees

Individual taste has much to do with the ornamental character of trees. What one person would call an ornamental tree might not be considered such by others. Or a tree may be ornamental in one place and unattractive in another.

How Rats Cause Fires.

Rats are fond of eating the insulating material of electric wires, and are responsible for many of the fires ascribed to "defective insulation." They also gnaw holes in lead water pipes.

SLOAN OLIVER ANNOUNCES FOR PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

In this week's issue of the Herald will be found the announcement of A. Sloan Oliver as a candidate on the Democratic ticket for the office of Prosecuting attorney of Pemiscot county.

Mr. Oliver is well known in this county and favorably so, he having been elected four years ago as representative to the general assembly, and upon the entering of the United States into the World War, tendered his resignation and volunteered for service in the army.

He is a true son of Democracy, and has always since he has reached majority been a worker in furthering the Democratic doctrine, giving time and money.

He has lived in this county many years, and is a resident of Caruthersville, having staunch friends there, and throughout the county, never taking any part in any of the county factions. He comes to the people with a record that is clean, and with his qualification he should very ably represent this county as its prosecuting attorney.

In the meantime, before the primary he will try to see every voter, but asks that each one give his candidacy due consideration.

Alienists' Test.

It is a common thing for an alienist to demand a specimen of handwriting in order to help him determine whether his patient has delusions, is insane, or is carried away by certain emotions or any abnormality. And there is a reason for this. It has been proved many times that there is a distinct relation between the nerves of the brain and those of the hand, so that a man's writing reflects his mental temperament.

Nothing New Under Sun.

New York Tribune discovers that Burke used this expression: "I should say they did." In Charles Dickens' "Sketches by Boz," a street urchin shouts to one of two fighting women, "Put the kyebosh on her, Mary." There is nothing new, not even in slang expressions.—Florida Metropolis.
