

MARBLE HILL PRESS.

VOL. X.

MARBLE HILL, MO., THURSDAY, MARCH 5, 1891.

NO. 43.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

—County Court is in session.
—Lou Phelan arrived in town Tuesday.

—For easter bonnets go to Mrs. Biggs.
—Speaking in Marble Hill next Thursday.

—See the announcement for School Commissioner.

—The county court proceedings will be published next week.

—There are 14,305 women commercial travelers in the United States.

—Never strike a horse that is pulling its best, even if the progress be slow.

—When no length of time is specified pay locals will remain in until ordered out.

—This paper and the "twice-a-week" Republic for $1.75 a year. Cash in advance.

—Holidays are over, but A. & E. Miller are still in the ring selling as cheap as ever.

—John R. Welch went to St. Louis Tuesday. He was summoned on the U. S. grand jury.

—You can get the Press and the "twice-a-week" Republic for $1.75 a year. Cash in advance.

—A "faith doctor" has been "working" the people of Ironton for considerable chash recently.

—Send us the cash or a card if you wish your paper continued after the time paid for expires.

—A small cyclone damaged the school building of Cape Girardeau to the amount of $2,000.

—Do you know that the devil never asks anybody to go further than the next corner to be given with?

—Some men can write extremely well. Some thereby win them fame; George Washington could never spell—but he got there just the same.

—For novelty bonnet shapes, colorlets, conformations, wreaths and fine flowers of all kinds go to Mrs. Biggs.

—The resolution to move the state capital from Jefferson City to Sedalia was shelved by a vote of 78 to 47.

—It is said that there are more Indians in North America to-day than there were the day of its discovery.

—Go to Dr. A. J. Mayfield's drug-store, Lutesville, Mo., for garden seed. He will sell them cheap. New seed.

—The jury in the Vail murder case of St. Louis failed to agree and were discharged. Eleven favored acquittal.

—Mrs. Biggs will sell leg horn plates and sailor hats cheaper than they were ever before sold in Lutesville.

—Wild geese are winging their way northward, and it is claimed by some to be a sure indication that winter is past.

—A. Mayer is renovating his stock of goods and cleaning up his store generally and says he is going to "get there Eit."

—The Marble Hill Press and the "twice-a-week" Republic for one dollar and seventy cents a year. Cash in advance.

—Mrs. Biggs has a very large stock of new hats and trimmings which she will sell cheaper than they can be sold elsewhere.

—A western Kansas editor says he does not object to the Knights of Labor at all. It is the days of labor he has it in for.

—Miss Dora Aye went to Bismarck last Friday. Her and Miss Emma Black will teach a subscription school in that place.

—Hold your cash and produce until you come and examine our handsome line of spring goods. Just received.

O. J. SNYDER & Co.

—As St. Louis has the honor of being the resting place Gen. Sherman it should erect a monument to that distinguished gentleman's memory.

—A. & E. Miller have completed their new lunch room. They are fixed up in style, you bet, to accommodate Ladies as well as Gentlemen. Call and see them.

—The time will soon be here when the horses are to be put to spring work. Remember that it will do them no harm, to say the least, if you are a little easy on them at first.

—The farmers of the 14th Congressional District held a district meeting in Poplar Bluff last week. They sat with closed doors, and nothing could be learned of their proceedings.

—A dog is the friend of man, but a lover of mutton. Where will you draw the line between evil and good?"

—A large number of pensioners come to town Wednesday to fix up their business with the government and send to Topeka for their money.

—Miss Mable McCans, after teaching a very successful term (six months) of school in Madison County, near Fredericktown, returned to her home in this place Sunday.

—Marriage license: Philip Stults to Mary C. Welker; Fred Bohnsack to Mollie Hahn; T. H. Watkins to Martha A. Thomasson; Henry Cook to Alena Vanconney.

—J. P. Limbaugh died Feb. 22nd. He was 54 years old and had lived the greater part of his life in the north part of this county. He was buried with A. O. U. W. and Masonic honors.

—"The dirty-faced boy and girl making mud pies may rise to the highest stations in the nation, while bright and intelligent children fall victims to wrong-doing and fill premature graves. How comes it?"

—Charles Rhodes and Sam Bess have opened up a general merchandise store in Bessville. Both of the young gentlemen are known here. Mr. Rhodes was in the restaurant business at one time. We wish them success.

—An exchange says that in building a wire fence turn a furrow against each side of the posts. This lessens the space between the bottom wire and the ground and indicates to animals the presence of an obstruction.

—At a recent storm at Salt Lake, Utah, a peculiar feature was a large quantity of salt which fell with it. The snow melted and left the salt on the ground at least one-fourth of an inch in thickness. The salt was evidently absorbed from the Lake.

—A large number of pigs die at birth, many more before they reach a profitable age. The cause no doubt is the low vitality of the parents. It is well worth the farmer's time and study to learn how to remedy this great defect and cause for loss.

—Elias Wells died at his home in this place Wednesday evening at about seven o'clock, of a lung disease. His death was not unexpected as his relatives and friends knew a week ago that death would relieve the sufferer in a few days. The relatives have our sympathy.

—Man is never quite satisfied with his condition. There is something within him that spurs him to renewed exertion whenever the goal of one hope is gained and another looms up in view; but when he beats a sharper in a horse trade the bird of content is fluttering near him.—[Ram's Horn.]

—It is a very indiscreet and troublesome ambition which cares so much about fame; about what the world says about us; to be always looking in the faces of others for approval; to be always anxious about the effect of what we do or say; to be always shouting to hear the echoes of our own voices.—[Longfellow]

—An effort is being made at Union City, Ind., to have the Ohio Legislature authorize a new survey made of the line between Indiana and Ohio, claiming that the line should be from one to eight miles west of the old recognized line. The new line as proposed would make a change in Indiana in favor of Republicans of over 5,000 votes.—[Western Rural]

—The parent who flies to the rod to correct every trifling fault or misdemeanor, says The Ladies' Home Journal, will have no influence with his children when they are too old to be governed by force. A child should never be struck in anger. A box on the ear may rupture the membrane that forms the drum, and cause permanent deafness. A hasty blow may do mischief that years of open tenderness cannot undo. Punishment is for discipline, not for revenge. It is to teach the child to avoid evil and to do right. It never should be a vent for the angry passions of the mother. Love, patience and firmness are the instruments she must use to mold her child's character. Punishment is a means to an end, let her pray for grace to use it wisely.

—A child of Henry Crafton of Lutesville died last week.

—If you want this paper and the "twice-a-week" Republic, of St. Louis, send us $1.70 and both papers will be sent to your address for one year. Subscribe now. Cash in advance.

—Hon. Henry A. Newman of Randolph county, and Capt. W. P. Barlow, Secretary of the Confederate Home Association of Missouri, will speak in Marble Hill on Thursday, March 12, at 2 p. m. The subject of Major Newman's address will be "The Confederate Home; Its Aims and Objects."

—The farmer's hog is the hog that is long, broad, deep, heavy boned, ordinarily smooth, healthy, docile and prolific. The farmer's hog must also be a fast grower and gotten up to take on the greatest amount of fat in the least time with a ration of feed that will leave a profit to his owner.

—Garret Stevens brought suit last week, in Justice Bowman's court to force the payment of a note for $100 which he held and which was given by Winchester Harris and was payable when the murders of Jacob May were convicted. The case was tried and the jury decided that Mr. Stevens should receive $50 and pay half of the cost. Harris appealed the case to the circuit court.

—Friday morning there appeared in the air above six (we believe it was six) luminous spots which (for want of a better name, we suppose) are called sun-dogs. Two were in the shape of a new moon, but were apparently many times larger. One of the two, which was very bright, seemed to be composed of all the colors of a rainbow, and maybe more. Webster's definition to the word sun-dog is "A luminous spots occasionally seen a few degrees from the sun, supposed to be formed by the intersection of two or more halos, or in a manner similar to that of halos." From this definition we are inclined to believe that the spots seen Friday were sun-dogs, although some are disposed to doubt it. But they fail to give another name for the spots.

—You had better keep a gun loaded and a dog tied at the front gate so as to be prepared to give the slick-tongued agent for farm machinery a warm(?) reception when he makes his appearance in the rural districts, which will be anytime from now until the snows of another winter will come and freeze him out. These frauds always pick their ripest fruit from the good old farmer, who falls an easy victim to their cunningness. There are two men who claim to represent a Chicago alliance store (which has no existence) going over the country showing an attractive sample of goods and demanding a small payment in advance and promise to send the goods, when the remainder will be come payable. The goods are never sent. In this way they have "worked" the credulous farmer for many of his hard-earned dollars. Again we say keep your eyes open and your money in your pocket, and never sign your name to anything for a stranger unless you know what it is.

—The Jackson Cash-Book is the first to explain the some what puzzling marriage problem which comes from Youn's Store and which was published in the Press three weeks ago. Here is the way he did it: "A man named John Cesil, living near Youn's Store, recently married a Miss Whesler. A son of Mr. Cesil's was also married at the same time, and the son's wife is the sister of the father's wife. The father and son are now brothers-in-law, and the natural sisters are sisters in law, while the elder Cesil's wife is the sister-in-law and step-mother of the son, and the old man the brother-in-law and father-in-law of the young man's wife, and the old man's wife is the young man's wife's mother-in-law as well as sister-in-law and natural sister, and the younger Cesil's offspring if he has any will be the elder Cesil's grand-children, while at the same time the elder Cesil will be their uncle, and the younger Cesil will be the half brother of the elder Cesil's offspring if he has any, and also their uncle, all of which is as plain as the nose on a black man's face in midlight." Does the Cash-Book fully and correctly explain their relation?
