MARBLE HILL, BOLLINGER COUNTY, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, FEB. 1, 1894.

NO. 39

Ed Married Too.

E. P. Caruthers, editor of the Dunklin Democrat and Miss Minnie L. Chandler were married at Kennett at 7 o'clock on Friday morning of last week. Elder West of the Christian church performed the ceremony. Ed is a first class newspaper man, and seems to have been a success in courtship. He is a big, fat, jolly, goodlooking fellow, and we predict will have a sunny married life.

Ready For a Vote.

After several weeks of serious consideration of the Wilson tariff bill, the debate on the measure in the House closed today, and a vote will probably be had tomorrow or Saturday.

The Baby is Dead.

Little Thomas, a small son of D. P. Bailey, died of consumption at the residence of J. J. Conrad east of town last Saturday night. It was buried in the Baptist cemetery Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Bailey and wife live at Philipsburg, Kansas. They have the sympathy of many friends.

His Birthday.

Tilden Shinkard gave a party to his young friends at his father's home east of town Monday night. It was the seventeenth anniversary of his birthday. The evening was spent in various sports and games. A lunch was served at 9 o'clock.

In The Churches.

The Sunday schools were all well attended last Sunday. There was a small attendance at the interesting social services at the Christian church Sunday afternoon. There was no prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church last week, on account of the disagreeable weather.

There were no services at the Baptist church last Sunday at 11 o'clock, on account of Rev. Davault being at Burfordville.

The Friday night prayer meeting at the Baptist church is well attended by the young people, but those older people who should attend are noticeably absent.

Prayer services at the home of J. L. Robertson, Tuesday night was well attended and very interesting. The meeting will be held at Mrs. Revelle's Tuesday night.

George Dunlap Hurt.

While assisting in moving a scaffold in Dr. Witmer's new drug store Tuesday, the scaffold fell, catching George Dunlap under it. His shoulder and ankle were badly sprained, and his head bruised. His injuries are not serious.

NOTICE.

That we have bought all the interest of N. A. Zimmerman in the store at Glen Allen. All outstanding debts will be paid by us, and all outstanding accounts are payable to us.

We also notify the public that the partnership of N. A. Zimmerman, J. J. Zimmerman and J. C. Zimmerman is this day (Jan. 22, 1894) dissolved, and that hereafter the firm will be composed of J. J. Zimmerman and J. C. Zimmerman. 88 ZIMMERMAN BROS.

Boarders Wanted.

I will take four gentleman boarders, at $8 per month. I set a first class table, and have good beds, and neat comfortable rooms. My house is convenient to Mayfield Smith academy. Apply to

Mrs. ELIZABETH BAKER,
Marble Hill, Mo.

A. T. Stewart of Glen Allen was in town last Saturday.

Ed Caldwell was at Burfordville last Tuesday.

DONT WANT HIM.

J. F. Mitchim Has Some Serious Opposition.

The Republic of a few days ago contained a special from Springfield, that tells some rather discouraging things on J. F. Mitchim, who formerly owned several newspapers in the Southeast.

Mitchim wants to be registered of lands at Springfield. Recently he went to Washington and represented that he was editor of the Leader a Springfield evening Democratic paper and that the paper demanded his appointment.

But it appears that Mitchim stretched the truth seriously. He is only a stockholder in the paper and not its editor. Further, Mitchim cannot agree with the other owners, and they at once telegraphed to Washington protesting against his appointment and not indorsing it.

W. C. Hornbeak, chairman of the Democratic committee of Green county called a meeting and the leading Democrats of the county also sent protests to Washington against his appointment.

Mitchim formerly conducted the Springfield morning Democrat, backed by John O'Day, one of Green county's Democratic Moguls.

NOTICE.

Anyone knowing themselves indebted to the firm of Zimmerman Brothers, Glen Allen, will please come up and settle at once. We have bought the interest of N. A. Zimmerman, and all old accounts up to this date must be paid, so that we can make final settlement. Please come and settle and save costs.

Yours respectfully,

J. J. ZIMMERMAN,
J. C. ZIMMERMAN.

James Scott Dead.

LAFLEIN, Jan. 30, '94.—James Scott died at his home near this place last Saturday. He was buried at the Wayne cemetery Monday. The funeral ceremonies were conducted by the Masons and Farmers' and Laborers' union, both of which he was a member.

Marble Hill, Mo.

We'll Do It.

MARQUAND, Mo., Jan. 29, '94. Mr. Tom Allen, Marble Hill.

Dear Tom:—You have placed the Press on top of journalism in Southeast Missouri. Go ahead—you are bound to succeed.

You should reach over the line into Madison county and notice this thriving little village occasionally—why don't you?

Your Friend, C. C. BOWMAN.
We will do so Mr. Bowman. Thanks, for your compliment.

Got Judgment.

In a civil action in Justice Bowman's court Tuesday, Robert Drum got judgment on a note for a $149 note against D. C. Clippard.

ARNOLD'S SPEECH.

A Few Good Things from Our Congressman.

Hon. Marshall Arnold made a brilliant speech on the Wilson bill in the House on January 16. Following are a few extracts:

"The absence of wealth among the people of the west is not due to lack of industry or enterprise. In all the light of day, the Western farmer knows naught but work. As year treads upon year his life is given to seedtime and harvest. Toil with sufficient remuneration, often want amid abundance, the pleasure and even the necessities of life mocking him as a mirage—such is his lot.

My own district a fair sample of others in the west, may be taken in evidence. Within its borders dwell an industrious, enterprising people. From the Mississippi River in the east over and beyond the Ozarks of the west, farms and hamlets stud as brilliant gems its broad bosom. Nature yields lavishly to the touch of the husbandman. On wheels of commerce roll his products to the market. And yet withal standing in the background may be seen the breadwinner grimly waiting for returns that do not compensate. Despite statistics to the contrary he realizes that his pecuniary condition annually grows worse. * * * There is no protection for the farmer or laborer. Manufactures are no more human and philanthropic than other people. They are as active in the pursuits of this world's goods as others, and presumably in such pursuit are no more troubled with qualms of conscience. Their angelic side is not turned with abnormal love and regard upon their workmen. They will pay what wages they are compelled to pay. No more. Therefore, the pride of labor is fixed in a free-trade market, where the laborer must not only meet and compete with all comers of his own land, but with the paupers of other countries. Whatever advantage in wages he may be able to effect is brought about by intelligent united action and by that alone. No philanthropy is involved in the process. It is the old, the new, and the neverending battle of self-interest. It is the struggle for bread, which must eventually win, for it has both right and numbers on its side.

And yet, the tariff barriers, in the deep disinterestedness of their own concerns, tell us that the fear of the Wilson bill not only injures the cause of labor but accounts for the present gloomy business outlook. The bowels of their compassion yearn for the poor workman.

Floored The Pupils.

Special to the Press
SCOOPS, Jan. 23.—There was a lively time at the Chosner school house near this place yesterday. Z. H. Cook, a pupil who is almost grown left the room without the consent of the teacher, J. D. Tallent. After he had remained out some time the teacher demanded him to come in. He at first refused, but at last came in with an open knife, and a belligerent look. Tallent, anticipating trouble, promptly knocked him down twice with the fire poker.

Cook at once swore out a warrant for Tallent, and he will appear before Justice Bowman of Marble Hill on March 22, 1894.

Rev. D. L. Phelps has a very painful eruption on the back of his right hand.
