The women of the German city of Magdeburg will honor the memory of Queen Louise by the erection of a statue of the venerated queen.

State Geologist Dumble of Texas has disclosed sources of mineral wealth that are astounding. He says that in one county alone, that of Cherokee, there are 600,000,000 tons of rich iron ore in sight.

In order to appreciate the extreme democracy of the people in the southeast of Europe, it may be mentioned that Mrs. Karaveloff, wife of the prime minister of Bulgaria, continues to pursue her avocation as school teacher, and every morning when her husband leaves home to attend to his duties as premier she takes her departure for the public grammar school to fulfill her duties as one of the teachers.

Now that Bostand's play, "L'Alphonse," has aroused so much interest in the melancholy story of Napoleon's son, there will be some interest in the death of the last considerable actor in the abortive conspiracy to restore the empire with the Duke of Reichstadt in his father's place.

The "brown-tailed" caterpillar has been officially considered by the Boston board of health, whose members are ready to acknowledge that this pest can produce the skin irritation complained of by some residents in the suburbs of that city.

King Carlos of Portugal has become passionately devoted to yacht racing and has announced his decision to have a racing yacht built for the express purpose of enabling him to visit back from the English Royal Yacht Squadron the Vasco de Gama Cup in the third international race, which takes place next year over a course extending from Southampton to Lisbon that is across the dangerous Bay of Biscay.

It cannot be too often repeated that the secret of German success in so many branches of human activity is specialization. And it may fairly be asked whether in many cases they do not "pay too much for their whistles."

The new town of Lawton in the Comanche country was named after General Lawton, whose detachment captured the famous Indian desperado Geronimo.

She recently succeeded her husband, when the latter became ill and was taken to a Cleveland hospital. It was impossible to find one more conversant with the duties than Mrs. Harris.

It is reported in the Jacksonville (Fla.) papers that a company, at St. Cloud, in that state, has succeeded in making excellent paper from the leaves of the palmetto.

TRIUMPHS OVER AIR.

The problem of aerial navigation has at last been solved. It is unquestionably epoch-making news that has been cabled from Paris, France, describing M. Santos-Dumont's aerial voyage around the Eiffel tower and over the suburbs of Paris.

M. Santos-Dumont left St. Cloud in his new airship, circled around the Eiffel tower, and went back nearly to the starting point, a distance of ten miles, in forty minutes.

His balloon glided along toward the Eiffel tower, its cord reflecting the beams of the early sun, apparently obeying the will of the steerer willingly.

As the World Revolves

Production of Gold. Commenting upon the decrease in the world's output of gold last year as compared with 1899, the Bankers' Magazine is undoubtedly right in saying that but for the Boer war the gold product probably would have more than maintained itself.

It is almost a certainty wrong in saying that the "virtual demonstration of silver as a standard of value has within the last five years given a great impetus to the discovery of new gold deposits and the development of gold mines."
