Southeast Missouri's greatest benefactor.

"Every year, we make a good deal of noise over in Missouri and claim the republicans are going to carry the state. But you have noticed that when the votes are counted we don't carry the state, but are cheerfully snowed under. We do all the talking necessary, but you see blow and bluster don't scare the average democrat worth a cent. I'm awfully disgusted when I hear our republican friends talk before election about carrying Missouri, and the returns come in—as they always do—showing republicans have lost out in every part of the state. But still we have republicans who will keep on talking about carrying Missouri, but it don't fool anybody unless it is some republicans living in Kansas."

This is an admission that Missouri republicans seldom make till after the votes are counted, and just think of it! The man who made it in a speech at Topeka, Kansas, a short time ago was no less a personage than McKinsey, who presided over the late Republican State Convention.

Republican papers tell their readers that democrats do not attempt to disprove or refute the figures presented by the Globe-Democrat's experts, but simply denounce the figures as lies.

This is only partly true. While every intelligent citizen of the state knows that Gustin, Parkes & Co., are liars of a very villainous type, there can not be much wrong in calling them by their proper title; but it is not true that their lies have not been exposed. Some of them have been so clearly exposed by a prominent republican once honored by his party but now in bad favor because he does not relish the idea of being written down as either a knave or a fool; and the St. Louis Republic has repeatedly offered to show the fallacy and utter falsity of the statements of either of the so-called experts whom the party will elect to rely on. It must not be forgotten that while each of the five hirelings figures up the discrepancies at something near eleven millions, they reach the result by different discoveries. To tabulate them all and add them together the aggregate would be nearer fifty-four millions. Now as the amount is only claimed to be around the eleven million mark, let them say which figure they rely on. The fact of five experts figuring on the same books and differing so widely in their findings shows the utter worthlessness of their work. It would have looked much more plausible if the Globe had hired them to work together and they had all agreed on a report; but as they worked separately and independent of each other, and no two agree, the villainy of the thing is exposed to the satisfaction of every good honest citizen.—Jefferson Democrat.

New Act Regarding Pensions.

The pension act approved June 27, 1890, entitled "An act granting pensions to soldiers and sailors who are incapacitated for the performance of manual labor, and providing for pensions to widows, minor children, and dependent parents," is construed and held to include all persons and the widows and minor children of all deceased persons, subject to the limitation of said act, who served for ninety days in the military or naval service of the United States during the late war of the rebellion, and who have been honorably discharged therefrom, and section forty-seven hundred and sixteen, Revised Statutes United States, is amended accordingly. Provided, however, that the foregoing shall not apply to those who served in the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth regiments United States Volunteer Infantry who had a prior service in the confederate army or navy and who enlisted in said regiments while confined as prisoners of war under a stipulation that they were not to be pensionable under the laws of the United States, nor to those who, having had such prior service, enlisted in the military or naval service of the United States after the 1st day of January, 1865.

Sec. 2. That in the administration of the pension laws and enlistment of men of the army, including regulars, volunteers, and militia, or any appointed or enlisted man of the navy or marine corps, who was honorably discharged from the last contract of service entered into by him during the late war of the rebellion, shall be held and considered to have been honorably discharged from all similar contracts of service previously entered into by him with the United States during said war. Provided, that such enlisted or appointed man served not less than six months under said enlistment or appointment, that his entire service under said enlistment or appointment was faithful, and that he did not receive by reason of said last enlistment any bounty or gratuity other than that provided by the United States in excess of that which he would have been entitled to if he had continued to serve faithfully until honorably discharged under any contract of service previously entered into by him, either in the army, navy, or marine corps, during the war of the rebellion.—Ex.

A new wrinkle in the air. This time it is an attempt to graft strawberries with milk wood to get a plant that will grow strawberries and cream. If this works, the next in order will be to fasten a refrigerator to the family cow in the hopes of getting ice cream.—Ex.

Dunklin Democrat.

Melon shipments from this part of Dunklin county are about over, few large melons remaining. Those offered bring from $25 to $50 on the track. There has been shipped, to date, over the St. Louis and Gulf road (Houck line) 325 car loads. The Cotton Belt will probably haul as many from Campbell north.

Republic Special.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Aug. 2.—The local freight train of the St. Louis, Memphis and Southeastern Railroad on the Hunter branch fell through the bridge crossing the St. Francis River near Wopppello, twenty-five miles north of here, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The bridge, which had been weakened by the high water, was unable to stand the strain and as the engine crossed gave way, precipitating six cars into the stream below. Conductor Frank Pomeranski, Brakeman Ed. Brown and Will Gregory attempted to jump, but were caught in the falling timbers, Pomeranski was killed outright and the brakemen badly injured.

Conductor Pomeranski, whose home is in Perryville, Mo., had just asked the company for a vacation and his wife was to meet him at Puxico to accompany him home.

It is impossible to estimate the loss, as the officials are very reticent about furnishing any information regarding the wreck. The loss will reach several thousand dollars.

Rev. I. P. Osborne, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, while at Perryville over last Sunday, preached the funeral of Conductor Frank Pomeranski in the presence of almost the entire population of the community. They assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to one who had the esteem and confidence of all who knew him.

Can't Down A Country Editor.
Country editors of experience and a sense of humor cannot fail to recognize how eminent a type of their dainties and resourceful class is Mr. J. C. Round, editor of the Atlanta (Mo.) News, who has just saved the churches of his town from disaster by making a talented use of the instrument which had created the menace of disaster.
It seems that on a certain day last week there was a violent hailstorm at Atlanta which destroyed all the windows of the Baptist, Presbyterian and Universalist churches, entailing a loss of $200, which amount looks much larger to country congregations than to those of a big city. The pastors of these respective flocks, dismayed and disheartened, went instinctively to the editor of the local newspaper, the natural Mentor of his community. They wanted to know how to retrieve the losses incurred by the elements.
And Editor Round was equal to the emergency. "Advertise a hailstorm social," he said without a moment's hesitation. "Gather up these hailstones and freeze ice cream and sherbet with them. I'll print your advertisements and broaden for nothing. Go ahead and you'll get back what you've lost."
And this was done with eminent success, the "hailstorm social" at Atlanta setting a surplus about the amount needed for repairing the windows of the three suffering churches. The moral of this incident is plain—the country editor is still the most valuable member of the society which he honors with his presence.—St. Louis Republic.

Sheriff Talks Politics.

A. C. King Confident that Bollinger County Will Go Republican.
Special Dispatch to the Globe-Democrat.
Jefferson City, Mo., August 3.—
Sheriff A. C. King of Bollinger county arrived here today to place in the penitentiary J. G. Finney, sentenced to serve a term of thirty years on a plea of guilty to murder in the second degree for the killing of S. M. Allen in October last. The killing was wholly unprovoked, Finney holding his victim by the suspenders with one hand while he shot him with the other.

Aristocracy and Democracy.

In his Nantasket speech, says the Atlanta Constitution, Mr. Bryan did one thing for which the democrats and the country at large may well be thankful. He freshened the colors vividly upon the contrasted portraits of the aristocrat and the democrat as types of governmental product. Any creed, in theology, in science or in politics, may be judged by the kind of men it makes. Mr. Bryan correctly judged the policies of republicanism and democracy by this method of measurement.

The effect of his effort is to present us with the aristocrat who is not one by birth, inheritance of privilege and royal favor, but who obtains his position, power and privileges solely through the logical agency of a party policy in the government which exalts the few at the expense of the masses. These aristocrats are a recent and growing class in America and their power over government, finance, industries and national properties is wholly disproportionate to their insignificant numbers and actually small personal stake in the greater interests of true and just government. They are the products of triumphant republicanism.

By contrast Mr. Bryan shows that democracy is the only wholesome creed of that individualism which is the inheritor of all governmental equities. The only right policy that can secure the greatest good to all the people is that which consents to no injustice to any individual of the mass. Rights belonging to the citizens as such belong to the individual as accredited as to the community or the majority. Government, even by party, is never intended to be government solely for the party, and specifically for party favorites, but should be always held true to the great end of American policy—government of the people, by the people and for the people, and as equitably for one of the people as for all of them.

Probate Court Docket.

List of Executors, Administrators, Guardians and Curators who are required to exhibit their accounts for settlement, on the day named below, at the August term, 1902, of said court, to be begun and held at the courthouse in Marble Hill, Bollinger county, Missouri, commencing Monday, August 11, 1902.

A Necessary Precaution.

Don't neglect a cold. It is dangerous. By using One Minute Cough Cure you can cure it at once. Always inflammatory, clears the head, soothes and strengthens the mucous membrane. Cures coughs, croup, throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Children like it. Dr. S. M. McAnally.

Typographical Errors.

"None but the initiated know the intricacies required in a printing office," says the Press Spectator. "The average reader who detects a misspelled word or a letter upside down feels that his mission on earth is not fully accomplished till he has called the attention of the editor to the glaring defect. He does not notice the thousands of letters that are in the right places nor the multitude of words correctly spelled, but his eagle eye is glued on that one which is out of place. So with our deeds. Man does a thousand good things and no attention is paid to them, but if he makes one mistake it is flashed all over the world. A lifetime may be spent in building up a reputation that may be wrecked in a moment. The world is a harsh critic, exacting to a fault and if the Father doesn't temper justice with mercy we may fail to reach Heaven."

Why Ads. Are Read.

An observant person remarks that "the public likes as well to read interesting matter in the advertising columns as in the news columns." There is nothing surprising about this, since the facts which are advertised have a direct personal interest to the public. The advertiser offers to the people only such things as the people need and about the character and prices of which they want information. A persistent advertiser is bound to win the attention of all newspaper readers.

It Needs a Tonic.

There are times when your liver needs a tonic. Don't give purgatives that gripe and weaken. DeWitt's Little Early Risers expel all poison from the system and act as tonic to the liver. W. Scott, 531 Highland ave., Milton, Pa., says: "I have carried DeWitt's Little Early Risers with me for several years and would not be without them." Small and easy to take. Purely vegetable. They never gripe or distress. Dr. S. M. McAnally.

His Sight Threatened.

"While picnicking last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits. Dr. S. M. McAnally.

THE Court of Appeals Convention was held in St. Louis yesterday. Missouri democrats are of the kind who stand up to the rack, flogger or no flogger.—Atlanta Constitution.

MILLIONS of dollars worth of crops and other property have been destroyed the past week or two, by the worst floods ever known in the history of Texas.

The steel trust earned $140,000,000 during its second year. This beggarly sum indicates that the dear little infant needs some more protective tariff coddling.—Commoner.

LES MERIWETHER is still croaking about "rings." The trouble with Lee lies in the fact that he can't ring in a ring of which he constitutes at least three-fourths of the circumference.

Republicans insist that the tariff revised by its friends. How would Messrs. Morgan, Schwab, Carnegie, Swift, Morris, Cuddey, Bates, Rockefeller and Hanna do as a committee on revision?—Commoner.

In late meeting of the Missouri

Association at Kansas City it is said to have been one of the largest and best in its history. E. P. Matthews, editor of the Dunklin Democrat, retiring president of the association, was presented with a splendid diamond stud.

The strikers in the coal region of Missouri are becoming riotous and a number of them with several policemen have been killed and wounded. Twelve hundred troops are now on the ground to keep the peace. As yet no improvement in the situation appears in sight.

The public ownership party held convention in St. Louis last week and an alliance with the republican party was practically a part of the regular order of business, and Leo Switner is the democrat some might good democrats say democrats ought have voted for in the Louis mayoralty contest.

The Democratic State Central committee held a meeting in St. Louis last Thursday and elected officers and appointed committees. J. McInnis has a place on the committee on organization and literature. Headquarters were provided for in St. Louis. The campaign will be opened at Joplin and Warburg.

The number of school children in Bollinger county is 5,208, and the amount of money apportioned to them for this year from the state's "dotted" school fund, that we have heard so much about is $5,288.82, a fraction more than $1.20 for each child enumerated. This is more than our county pays into the state treasury for all purposes and it does look, to a man up a tree, like we have very little to complain of on that score.

Hon. and Mrs. Louis Hoack of Cape Girardeau propose to give the city a $50,000 public library on condition that the city pay running and other expenses. This is certainly very liberal of Mr. and Mrs. Hoack and no doubt from the action taken by the citizens, the proposition will be accepted. Mr. Hoack has already done much for Cape Girardeau and in fact, the whole of southeast Missouri and this liberal disposition will result in a lasting monument to the generosity of
