TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR
Marble Hill, Missouri, Thursday, November 1, 1906.

No. 25.

Don't fail to vote next Tuesday.
All that is necessary is for you to vote.

To find the condition of county affairs go to the records, and then, we think, you will want a democratic count with a business man at the head of it.

Do you suppose that a democratic County court would have neglected the contract for coathouse wood until cold weather? The officers can divide up, to-day, half a dozen armfuls of green stuff and clean up the woodpile—and winter right here. Give us a County court.

Mr. FLENTGE may be "honest" all right, but the fact remains—a matter of cold record—that the County court of Cape Girardeau found a good big shortage in its accounts while collector and summarily called him to account. He cannot deny it.

How long is the patient public going to endure the rule of a party that permits illegal, blood-sucking combinations of capital to go on undisturbed and unpunished and rolling in their wickedly gotten wealth? It does seem that even the proverbial worm would turn at last.

APPEARANCES indicate a prolonged session in the count of the money in the St. Louis subtreasury. It is not a probability that the public will be enlightened in regard to that $61,500 shortage until after the election. Mr. AKINS' head may be, as Ben Adams says, "very small," but it is big enough to hold republican secrets.

POSTMASTER BLOEBaum of St. Charles, Missouri, has been at the head of one of the departments of the Missouri state republican committee in St. Louis while supposed to be attending to his business as postmaster at St. Charles. Every morning Bloebaum goes down to St. Louis on the early St. Charles accommodation and gets back home after dark. While he has been thus neglecting the duties of his office, one of his clerks has been arrested charged with a shortage of about $1,300.00 in money order funds. This is truly a beautiful spectacle and a fine sample of good "business administration," the thing which the republican yawpers are continually yammering about.

We are in receipt of a circular letter which asserts that "shameful, unmanly and undemocratic" attacks have been made on the record of R. W. FLENTGE, republican nominee for railroad and warehouse commissioner, but as we fail to see anything of a "shameful, unmanly or undemocratic" nature in speaking of the record of an aspirant for office we can not indorse the circular or view the matter as the Globe-Democrat does. THE PRESS insists that it is not wrong in any sense to carefully scan the public record of the official acts of any man seeking office. A republican county court of Cape Girardeau is responsible for the publicity given Mr. FLENTGE's official record and no one has a right to alter or change the figures. We respectfully decline the position of apologist for Mr. FLENTGE.

The latest sensation in government circles and the latest thing that has jarred the federal pie counter crowd in St. Louis is the discovery that there is a shortage in the cash in the St. Louis subtreasury amounting to $61,260.00. Subtreasurer Tom AKINS came into St. Louis the other morning from a spellbinding tour thru the state and found a world of troubles, for the accounts wouldn't balance. Chief Wilke and half a dozen expert accountants from Washington, D. C., are going thru the books of the subtreasury, while Mr. AKINS is frantically canceling his speaking dates. People will wonder why Mr. AKINS wasn't at home attending to business instead of running up and down the state trying to induce the voters to keep his crowd in office, but there is some excuse for his conduct when you consider the fact that his superior officer, the Secretary of the treasury, Leslie M. SHAW, is also out burning red fire for the republican party on a hundred rostrums.

What do you think of "republican efficiency" as shown in Missouri these days? Look at these samples: Subtreasurer Thomas J. AKINS, called back to St. Louis from a speaking tour to find a shortage of $61,260.00 in the cash; can't even tell who got the money. Postmaster Bloebaum, of St. Charles, working in the republican state headquarters in St. Louis at $50 per week. An inspector finds a shortage of $1,300.00 in the money order funds of his office. Postmaster

Fleutge, of Cape Girardeau, running for railroad commissioner, absent from his post office most of the time. Proved that the county court of his county made him refund a large amount of county funds, wrongfully diverted to his own use. Secretary of State Swanger leaving out of the official records the account of how Tom Niedringhaus was caught so nicely by the senate investigating committee. What do democrats think of the way republicans administer their offices? And these are the fellows who hollered so loudly about wanting to see the books. They have seen them and are silent. The treasury experts and postoffice inspectors are now seeing their books, and Oh! what a difference! The democrats now only claim that the democrats "were not good bookkeepers." True, they had not learned some of the republican tricks in bookkeeping, but they didn't need them, FOR THE MONEY WAS ALL THERE.

The newest caper is the Cold Storage trust, which has just been organized. Its purpose and effect is to control the amount of storage space available for products of the farm. The trust is not only engaged in controlling the storage, but in buying the products to put in the storage. Crying "immense" crop they have forced the fruit grower to accept 65c and 70c a barrel for big fine winter apples, have bought as many as they thought could be marketed advantageously and have allowed the remainder to fall off the trees and rot. If the fruit grower himself attempts to barrel and store his apples the trust confronts him with the statement that there is no more storage space available. The most nefarious part of the game lies in the fact that the statement is not true. Some of the cold storage houses belonging to the trust are absolutely empty and will remain so, the proprietors stating that for different reasons their plant is not prepared to take products for storage. Some of these plants are new and perfectly equipped with the most modern apparatus for making ice and for refrigerating space. The whole purpose of this is to artificially reduce the large crop to a small crop by forcing a loss of a large portion of the fruit grown, so that in spite of the large production there will be an actual scarcity during the winter and spring, during which time the trust will market its apples at from $5 to $7 per barrel. Here is a case where the producer in the country and the consumer in the city both get it in the neck. It is a two-edged knife. It cuts both ways.

The republican papers are making a great howl about the way the republican state treasurer is collecting interest on the state's funds. Of course he is. He could be impeached if he didn't, for a law passed by a democratic legislature and signed by a democratic governor put the treasurer where he can't help himself. But let us see what republican officials do when the law does not compel them to collect the interest. Take the national government for instance. Secretary of the Treasury SHAW now has about seventy millions deposited (loaned out) in various national banks. The way they work it is this: Some fellow who is president of a national bank makes a contribution to the republican campaign fund. Then he gets the secretary of the treasury to declare his bank a national depository. The treasury then deposits a few millions in the contributor's bank. The treasury can thus make the fortune of any bank in the country when it so chooses. The bank receiving the greatest favoritism in this direction is the National City bank of New York. It is a Rockefeller-Standard-Oil institution and has about forty millions of government money deposited there which it lends out at good interest, but it does not pay the government any interest whatever. Six or seven years ago this bank bought the old Custom House in New York with the understanding that they were not to pay for it until they got the deed. Their friends in the treasury department have never yet made that deed! Therefore, the bank has never paid for the building, while the government still occupies it, paying a heavy rental to the bank for the use of the building. Now what do you think of this?

Mr. Robert O. Burke, Elnora, N. Y., writes: "Before I started to use Foley's Kidney Cure I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night and I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure.
A very interesting letter was handed us by one of our best citizens, a few days ago, in which the writer, a reputable citizen of Marquand, deprecates the use of money in the campaign as it is being done by a certain Marble Hill republican. The writer earnestly requests that the aforsaid republican be notified that the people of Madison county can get thru the present struggle without his interference. But we know him to be a cheery duck and always on the "butt in" if it don't cost too much, so merely give this item to show that the g. o. p. is using money as well as wind, and they are pretty well scared up when the fellow referred to screws himself up to the "letting loose" of a few dollars in exchange for votes. The letter may be seen by anyone who has a taste for interesting campaign literature by calling at THE PRESS office.

Curved of Bright's Disease
Mr. Robert O. Burke, Elnora, N. Y., writes: "Before I started to use Foley's Kidney Cure I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night and I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure.
A very interesting letter was handed us by one of our best citizens, a few days ago, in which the writer, a reputable citizen of Marquand, deprecates the use of money in the campaign as it is being done by a certain Marble Hill republican. The writer earnestly requests that the aforsaid republican be notified that the people of Madison county can get thru the present struggle without his interference. But we know him to be a cheery duck and always on the "butt in" if it don't cost too much, so merely give this item to show that the g. o. p. is using money as well as wind, and they are pretty well scared up when the fellow referred to screws himself up to
