Will Mayfield

The people of Marble Hill have just entertained a delegation of Baptist ministers and laymen from over Southeast Missouri to advise with the board of Will Mayfield College.

There has recently come into the possession of the institution a large sum of money from the Dr. W. H. Mayfield estate.

The school belongs to the Baptists of this part of the state and they came to advise with the board in regard to new buildings and equipment.

The money that Dr. Mayfield left to the school is an endowment and cannot be used in any other way. This makes the school a permanent institution.

The visiting representatives were unanimous and enthusiastic in their resolution to the board to proceed at once to put on an intensive campaign for $100,000 to erect new buildings. Two new buildings are recommended. One modern dormitory and an administration building, the whole plant will be fitted up with all modern equipment, and will be second to none in the state. They further advised that the board should make the school a junior college in addition to the academy. Most of the towns of southeast Missouri have high schools and this will be an opportunity to get two years college work in a Christian school in one of the best and healthiest towns of all this part of the state.

We cannot estimate what this means to the good people of Bollinger county, to a people who love culture and refinement and want their children to have the very best advantages. Surely all Bollinger county will rejoice to know that such a great institution is to be in their midst. While the wealth of the southern counties is being poured into our lap, I am sure we will prove ourselves worthy and appreciative.

B. Anthony amendment to the Federal constitution extending suffrage to women adopted the amendment without delay.

There were a total of only seven votes in both the senate and house against the resolution.

Predictions that some might oppose the resolution were without the least foundation for no sooner was the question brought up in either branch than was it adopted. The house required 15 minutes and the senate four.

One of the greatest surprises of the extra session was the continued fight against the League of Nations headed by Speaker Sam F. O'Fallon, of Holt county, and Representative Hackett, of Pettis county, both republicans.

Their opposition came at a dinner given by the suffrage leaders and developed when a movement was started to send a message endorsing the plan of a league of nations to President Wilson and asking that he speak in Missouri on his return to this country.

During the regular session of the legislature the republicans spent much time fighting the League of Nations.

Democratic leaders here state that for the republicans to try and longer claim that the League of Nations is not a party issue, when they are opposing it as a party, is useless and the belief is stated that the next campaign will be made on such an issue.

The democrats insist that republicans should offer some plan of world peace, if they can't get behind the League covenant, or stop fighting what is offered.

Senator Selden P. Spencer is coming in for his share of criticism among the republican members of the general assembly. They claim that it is hard to tell where he stands on any of the great questions confronting the people of the nation. Another complaint against Senator Spencer is because of the appointment of a negro on the clerical force of the United States senate. This complaint does not come alone from party members here but is being voiced by other clerks in the senate who are of that party.

Rumors are going the rounds that fire insurance companies who asked an increase of 10 per cent, which meant the collection of an additional $1,900,000, are taking an appeal to the Supreme court of the United States. Attorney General McAulister and Superintendent A. L. Harty of the Insurance department say they will fight the increase to the bitter end. The Missouri Supreme court held the increase could not be made.

On a resolution passed by the senate and house guaranteeing that restoration of capital punishment would be considered and acted upon without consuming additional time of the extra session Governor Gardner sent a special message including this in the call. House members numbering 74 pledged themselves to remain for the restoration of the death penalty in the state. The senate did likewise and there are to be legal executions in the state again for the following crimes: First degree murder, rape, train robbery, kidnapping, treason and suborning testimony in capital cases.

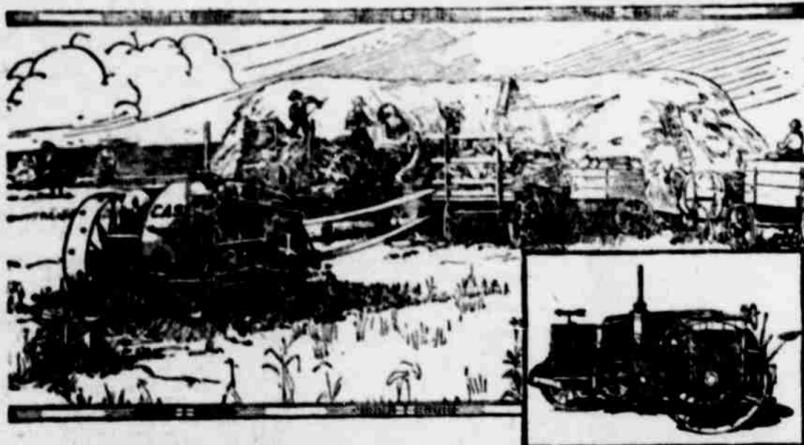

Members of the Suffrage organization and other women here passed resolutions endorsing Governor Gardner in his action calling an extra session for the ratification of the suffrage amendment. Praise of the governor for this is not confined to the women, but is heard on all sides. In his address to the women Governor Gardner said in part:

"The world is at the feet of the women at the present time," he said, "if she will do three things—first, she must make herself beautiful in character, heart and soul. Second, she must be educated to converse and vote intelligently. Third, she must be a housekeeper and homemaker and a good mother to her children, the future citizens of the world. I called the special session because it was right and just and merited."

"Some fellows' heads are good for hat hooks," snaps the Butler Democrat, "and that's all."

A Threshing Rig Must Not Fail

If you have a Case rig you are assured of the most satisfactory performance. A Case Kerosene Tractor and a Case Steel Thresher form an outfit which cannot be equaled. Both are famous the world over.

Pictured above is a Case 10-20 Kerosene Tractor driving a Case 20x36 Thresher, fully equipped. Even power is furnished constantly, a necessity for good threshing. With such an outfit you can thresh when ready. You don't lose out by bad weather. You can also take on a few neighborhood jobs.

This 10-20 Tractor is practical for a variety of field work. It can pull three 14-inch plows and plow about an acre per hour. You will find it economical for disking—and other work.

Investigate the Case line before you decide.
